OPA asks help to fight inflation

Volunteers for OPA service can learn details by phoning Mrs. H. G. Day, Arlington Heights 41.

Mrs. H. G. Day, chairman of the Community Service Panel of Arlington Heights Ration Board, is depending upon the patriotism of a number of Arlington Heights women to assist the board in checking price ceilings.

"It would not be a bad idea," states Mrs. Day, "if an entire group which meets regularly for card playing or some other social event, would agree to spend that afternoon to aid the fight against inflation." Mrs. Day is convinced that local stores, restaurants, etc. are not knowingly breaking price ceilings, but that fact must be proven to the Chicago office. The only way to do it is to have the investigations made.

"I know that the ladies will receive every consideration from the business firms that are to be visited and there will be no unpleasantness about the work. Instead the ladies can feel that they have found another way to serve their country.

Work not difficult

"In the final analysis, inflation must be beaten at the consumer level," says Mrs. Day. "The only way the job can be done is with the help of volunteers. The check is simple enough—comparison of posted price ceilings with menus or price marks, and then with the prices charged by the establishment the day ceilings were fixed.

Sees price 'pressure'

"People must remember that the money they are placing in bonds won't buy as much after the war if a runaway inflation sets in. If we are to profit by our experience after the last war, we can expect extremely heavy pressures on price which could catch us unaware. If prices should rise sharply, OPA's record of holding them during the war period would be quickly forgotten.

"No matter how successful the professional enforcement staff has been in keeping down the prices of manufacturers and wholesalers, the consumer will be no better off if the prices he has to pay go skyhigh while the retailer—not the consumer—gets the benefit of OPA enforcement efforts.

'Up to volunteers'

"We know it is easy to excuse what appear to be trivial violations—a few cents on a pound of hamburger or a peck of potatoes. But it is just such increases, one piled on top of another, that bring about inflation. The really dangerous threat is not from the black market operator but from the petty chisler.

Hold that line!

"The most important job we can do for the remainder of the war and during the immediate post-war period is firmly to hold the line on prices and to attain maximum compliance with our regulations. OPA expects gradually to withdraw from the field of rationing but there will be no letting up within any time that we can now foresee in our efforts to enforce price regulations which are sure to remain in effect for a considerable period after victory in Europe.

"It is the consumer who will suffer if prices climb. For never in the history of this country have wage increases kept pace with price increases. An increase of a few cents may not now mean much to a consumer earning high wages or to people growing wealthy on the war effort. But there is also among us the fixed income group —teachers, clerks, county and city and other government employes. This group also includes the wives and families living on soldier and sailor allotments."

Post Christmas tree fires call out department

Arlington Heights fire department answered two calls last Thursday because of "post Christmas tree fires." In both cases the owners were attempting to burn the evergreen in their fire places. Last Thursday morning the department was called to the home of Mrs. Schwartz, corner of State and Euclid, when the evergreens did a lot of smoke damage.

That same evening Joe Wiersky turned out the electric lights in his home expecting to enjoy the burning of the evergreens in his fire place. Neighbors saw the reflection through the window and notified the department.

Call Mt. Prospect fire department to Prospect Hts.

Mount Prospect Rural Fire Department was called to the Delmar May residence, 308 Elmhurst rd., Prospect Heights at 9:30 Tuesday morning.

Mrs. May noticed smoke throughout her house, and becoming alarmed, called the fire department. When the truck arrived and the firemen made their investigation, it was discovered that a pipe to the furnace had opened up, permitting the smoke to escape through the house.

War vets to get priorities on housing

To speed the reestablishment of returning war veterans in homes of their own, the OPA requirement that 20 per cent of the purchase price of a home must be paid before a certificate can be issued for the eviction of the present tenant will be waived in the cases of veterans purchasing homes on borrowed funds guaranteed by the administrator of veterans affairs.

This announcement was made this week by the chairman of the local War Price and Rationing Board, who added that he considers the modification in regulations especially welcome when the nation's fighting men are suffering at the fronts in behalf of a greater security in the peaceful future of America. He said also that the change is gratifying to local veterans' groups.

OPA rent regulations provide, in general, that a tenant may not be evicted for occupancy by a purchaser unless at least 20 per cent of the purchase price of a home has been paid. Down payments with funds borrowed for the purpose are generally excluded in determining whether or not this requirement is satisfied.

The amendment to the rent regulations in behalf of returning servicemen was made to eliminate any possibility that a veteran might be unable, because of rent regulations, to obtain early possession of housing accommodations purchased under aid opportunities provided by the GI bill of rights.

The local board is glad to have questions about rent regulations but may see fit in some instances to refer the questioner to the specialists in the Chicago metropolitan area OPA rent office, on the seventh floor at 222 West Adams street.

Escapes death by inches in railroad crash

Pvt. John Larsen, brother of Mrs. Robert Paddock of Palatine, was on his way to Fort Ord, California, aboard the Southern Pacific railroad Pacific Limited New Year's Day. That train was in two sections, both of which were involved in the now-famous railroad collision in Utah in which scores were killed and injured. John was unhurt.

"We had been riding along the shores of great Salt Lake, when there was a terrific crash. No one knew what was happening until it was all over. First thing I noticed was the front end of a sleeper pushed inside our car.

"There were screams from all the injured, the most horrible sounds I ever heard. The dead were piled about like sardines in a can. Everything was a mess, a sight I'll never forget.

"When I took stock of everything around me I saw the sleeper pushed right up to my seat. Six servicemen in the seat behind me were crushed to death. They didn't know what hit them, but lay there, lifeless and smashed.

"All I had lost was a button from my coat. I silently thanked God and Lady Luck for being with me and set about to work.

"Most of the servicemen were headed for the west coast. We all pitched in and helped remove the injured to ambulances and hospital ward cars of the train. But everything was so terrible—sight of the dead and screams of the injured—that it was hard to keep going.

"After five hours all injured had been carried away, but we had to move on while the dead were still packed in the wreckage."

A freight train had had a mechanical break-down along Salt Lake. The first section of the Limited had stopped and then started again, as the freight moved on. Second section of the Limited, supposedly 20 minutes behind the first, rammed into the rear of the passenger train. It was thought the engineer had suffered a fatal heart attack, just as he saw the flare of the first section.

RETURN RATION BOOKS

There is one Arlington Heights woman who believes in the honesty of her neighbors. After attending the choral society program at the north school Monday evening she was called on the phone and asked if she had missed anything. It was then that she realized that she had left her pocketbook containing ration books, gasoline coupons, keys and other valuables at the school house.

She was as happy to get them back as was the finder to return them to her.

Draft board to reclassify all deferments

Acting under orders that have been received from the State Selective Service headquarters, Arlington Heights board is reviewing all men who have had deferments. All who are engaged in non-essential jobs will be reclassified as 1-A and will be subject to pre-physical examinations to determine their fitness for Army service.

In accordance with a directive received from national selective service headquarters, Col. Paul G. Armstrong, state director, has ordered Illinois local boards to review the classifications of all agriculturally deferred registrants ages 18 through 25 years and to have such registrants given preinduction physical examinations.

"All Class II-C registrants ages 18 through 25 years," Colonel Armstrong stated, "with the exception of those previously rejected or found qualified for limited military service only, will be forwarded to the induction station for preinduction physical examination. If any such registrant is found acceptable for service, the local board will determine whether he will be reclassified as available for military service or his deferment continued because of his critical need in his agricultural occupation. Appeal rights will, of course, exist in any case of reclassification.

"While the new directive is not considered a 'blanket order' to reclassify all II-C registrants of this age group, local boards have been informed that they must give consideration to the President's statement that such registrants are deemed less necessary in agriculture than in the armed forces and that boards must immediately apply stricter standards in determining whether or not a farm registrant should be deferred.

"Since each agricultural registrant's case must be considered on its individual merits, no estimate can be made of how many Illinois farm registrants under 26 years of age will be inducted under the new directive.

"Physical examinations of these farm registrants are expected to start at the induction station on January 15, and it is felt that the bulk of them will be found physically fit for military service. Calls for these special examinations will be above the regular preinduction examination calls and will be gauged according to the volume capacity of the induction station."

Woman finds lifeless body of neighbor, Harry E. Mertz

When Mrs. Ed. Pingel, 208 S. Evergreen ave., Arlington Heights realized Wednesday morning that she had not seen her neighbor, Harry E. Mertz, for several days, she decided to investigate. The house was unlocked. Entering she found the lifeless body of Mr. Mertz.

The police were notified and Dr. Elfeld was called, who stated that death had occurred some time previously. He was last seen Saturday evening and may have been dead several days, or unable to help himself for some time as the water pipes in the house were frozen.

Mrs. Mertz, who had gone to California for her health a month ago, has been notified and funeral arrangements will await word from there. The remains are at Lauterburg and Oehler's. There are three brothers and a sister surviving.

Mr. Mertz was employed at the main Chicago postoffice and had been an Arlington resident for 13 years.

Paved highways are taking an awful punishment

"It is not alone the motorist and his car which are taking awful punishment these days," says Oscar Milburn, of Milburn Bros., who built a good many of the paved highways in this part of Cook County. "The severe cold and packed snow on the pavements are damaging the cement highways more than several years of the usual wear."

"Frost is now two feet in the ground and when the thaw comes it will create a condition that will do a lot of damage to the pavements, but the greater damage is being done by the trucks to paved roads not cleared of snow. Vehicles which hit the packed ice one moment and hit the cleared pavement the next are pounding the life out of the roads."

Mr. Milburn believes that failure of road gangs to keep snow off the roads will cost the tax payers a lot of money.

HIT BY CAR

Lt. George Jensen wounded in Germany

Lt. George F. Jensen of Arlington Heights, was wounded in action in Germany December 13. He is now in an American hospital in the Paris area where doctors were unable to remove a piece of shrapnel in the right leg.

Lt. Jensen arrived in France August 25 after spending one year at Fort Meade, Maryland. He was active in the mopping up campaign in the Brest and Crozon Peninsulas where he was awarded the infantryman combat badge.

In October Lt. Jensen participated in the capturing of Luxemburg. Lt. Jensen and his wife, the former Betty Lanham, who is residing with her parents at 500 Webford ave. in Des Plaines, are both former residents of Arlington Heights.

February 14 Lt. Jensen will have served six years in the army, three of them in Hawaii before the war.

George's address has been received, in case any friends wish to write to him. It is Lt. George F. Jensen, 0-1315468, Det of Patients Ward C4, Army Hosp Plant 4199, APO 514-B, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

Jan. 15 deadline for installments '44 income tax

Nigel D. Campbell, Collector of Internal Revenue for the First District of Illinois, reminded taxpayers in this district today that January 15 is the deadline for filing original or amended 1944 Declarations of Estimated Tax and for paying installments on previously-filed declarations for 1944.

Nearly all farmers are required to file original 1944 declarations by January 15. Most other taxpayers who were required to file 1944 declarations did so last April, but those who underestimated their tax by more than 20 per cent should file amended declarations to avoid the penalty for substantial underestimates. January 15, likewise, is the last day for paying all installments due on 1944 declarations.

Mr. Campbell also called attention to the new provision of law which permits a taxpayer to file his annual income tax return for 1944 and pay the tax due on the return by January 15, instead of filing or paying "estimated tax" otherwise due at that time. Taxpayers availing themselves of this special provision will be saved the double duty of filing and paying "estimated tax" on January 15 and filing and paying on the annual return March 15. March 15 remains the regular deadline for filing 1944 annual returns and 1945 Declarations of Estimated Tax.

For detailed information and forms, Mr. Campbell invited taxpayers to call at his offices in the United States Court House, Chicago, outlying districts in Chicago, and in most of the major towns of this district.

Oratorical contest to be held at Heights this month

Schaumburg Mutual Insurance Co. to invest in war bonds

1944 was a good year for the Schaumburg Mutual Fire Insurance Co. The losses were only $56.29. It closed the year with reserves of $10,449.31. The stockholders at their annual meeting Tuesday afternoon voted to invest $5,000 in war bonds.

There was an excellent attendance at the meeting when Wm. Rohlwing, Louis Rohde and John H. Hohmeyer were re-elected directors. The officers of the company are Henry J. Freise, president; John Meyer, vice-president; Fred W. Pfingsten, secretary and Wm. Rohlwing, treasurer.

First casualty reported after Nazi push

Word of the first casualty to a local boy in the Luxemburg and Belgian fronts since the start of the German counter attack last month was received in Arlington Heights Sunday when a telegram from the war department advised Mrs. Laura Kieser, 210 North State road, that her son Sgt. "Jack" (James) Kieser had been missing since December 19. The last letters received from him were from Luxemburg.

The missing boy was a member of the 687th Field Artillery. He had been in the armed service 4½ years. Following his induction June 20, 1940, he was stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, three years.

He was married in August, 1942, and his wife was able to be with him until shipment overseas last February.

After being stationed in England for a time, he took part in the D-Day invasion of France.

For five years previous to his induction he was a milk driver for Buffalo Creek Farm. His wife Mrs. Levina Kieser, is residing with her husband's family and is employed by the Arlington Packaging Co.

Other members of the family, besides his mother, are five brothers, Fred stationed in New Caledonia; William, Marengo; Sherman, Highland Park; Edward, Deerfield; Fred, California; four sisters, Margaret, Hubbard Woods; Emma, North Chicago; Florence (Mrs. Albert Milbratz) and Laura, Arlington Heights.

Sgt. Kieser's mother, in addition to having two sons in the present war, has three grandsons still in the service and a fourth grandson, who due to injuries, has been discharged. Her son, William, the father of three of her grandsons in service, served in World War I.

War plant moves to Winkelman bldg.

Arlington Packaging Co., which has been running two shifts in the former Sadecky store quarters will soon more to the place that has been vacated by Elroy Winkelma. This war plat operated by Culligan Zeolite Co. is turning out vast quantities of little cloth bag that contain a dehydraing elemen tha is packed wih delicate instruments sent to the war fronts.

The new quarters will permit the loadnig and unloading of trucks within the plant Fifty women are now employed in the work.

Mutual County Fire Ins. Co. celebrates 70th birthday

Set new record in county, state war bond sales

All previous records for war financing in Chicago, Cook County and the state fell when final Sixth War Loan tabulations were jointly announced by Francis M. Knight, city-county drive chairman and Renslow P. Sherer, Illinois War Finance Committee head. The chairmen revealed that both the county and Illinois drives had exceeded all previous campaigns in both total dollar volume of war bonds sold and in percentage of quotas achieved.

Total sales in Chicago and Cook County, Mr. Knight said, were $1,224,732,000 or 146.4 per cent of the $836,160,000 overall quota exceeding by $56,933,000 the highest previous total of $1,167,799,000 set in an earlier drive which attained 130.6 per cent of quota.

City-county E bond sales were $120,241,000 or 112.7 per cent of their $106,666,000 objective, setting a new record in percentage of quota accomplished in this category. Purchases by individuals in the city and county also established a new high in percentage of goal attained with 115.7 per cent of the $235,596,000 quota with sales of $272,532,000.

Sales to corporations established a record in both dollar volume and percentage of quota with $952,200,000 or 158.5 per cent of the $600,564,000 objective. The previous high in this category was $889,392,000 or 144.2 per cent of quota.

Statewide sales, Mr. Sherer said, totaled $1,532,232,000 or 148 (correct) per cent of the $1,034,000,000 total Illinois quota, setting a new mark against the previous high of $1,470,944,000 or 132.9 per cent of the then quota.

E bond sales were established at $193,759,000 or 111.3 per cent of the $174,000,000 quota, establishing a new record for the state in percentage of accomplishment in that category.

Sales to individuals stood at $399,705,000 or 114 (correct) per cent of the $351,000,000 objective, also setting a new mark in rate of achievement.

Corporation purchases were $1,132,527,000 or 166 (correct) per cent of the $683,000,000 quota in that category, also exceeding previous records in percentage of quota.

Today's insurance is over 15 million

Mutual County Fire Insurance Co. of Mt. Prospect is seventy years old. Its annual meeting was held Tuesday afternoon at the Lutheran school, Mt. Prospect, when reports of its officers showed the wonderful growth that the company has enjoyed during its existence. It is today one of the striking examples of the value and success of mutual fire insurance in the state of Illinois.

Secretary George Busse in his annual report given to the stockholders Tuesday afternoon outlined the 1944 operations of the company. An historical account was given by Attorney Weiss. The first year of the company's existence the written insurance amounted to $175,000. January 1, 1945, the insurance was $15,280,000, eighty-five times greater.

While the company keeps a working cash capital on hand at all times, it has invested in government bonds $15,970, which is $4,000 greater than in 1943, when the total was $11,902.00. Cash balance in local banks on January 1st totaled $8,810.92.

Losses paid during 1944, totaling $14,979.57 were divided as follows:

Fire	$11,353.72
Windstorm	$ 3,157.16
Lightning	$ 468.69

During the seventy years of its existence the losses amounted to $429,726.40. The average loss for the last five years has been $12,250. Other comparative figures of interest to policy holders are:

Policies written in 1944	691
Policies cancelled or expired	660
Net gain in policies	31
	1943	1944
Gross receipts	$19,450	$19,998
Losses paid	11,438	14,979

Secretary Meyer closed his address with the following statement:

"Fires in the United States cause the death of 8,000 persons a year and property valued at one million dollars and more than one hunlion dollars is lost daily. Farm fires along destroy 3,500 lives and more than one hundred million dollars worth of property annually. Two thirds of all the fire deaths in this country occur in dwellings. These deaths are results of fire caused by the following eight principle reasons: defective chimneys and flues, sparks on a combustible roof, lightning, spontaneous combustion, careless use of gasoline and kerosene, defective and improperly intalled stoves and furnaces, faulty wiring and misuse of electrical appliances. These eight are responsible for about 85 per cent of the total losses from farm fires. All of them can be prevented, if care is used."

Company gets its start

The mutual company received its start in January, 1875, when Ferdinand Holste, Northfield township, Frederich Hasse and H. C. Senne, Maine township met at the home of the latter and made preluminary plans for a public meeting called for Jan. 23, at the Cammack school house, Northfield township. At the latter meeting H. C. Senne was appoinnted chairman and a charter adopted for the Maine Mutual Fire and Lightning Insurance Co.

The incorporators resided in six townships, Maine, Northfield, Wheeling, Elk Grove, Leyden and Niles. John S Seegers was elected president and Henry C. Senne secretary and treasurer. The directors were: Hy. C. Senne, John C. Seeges, Ferdinand Holste, Frederich Haase, Hery Walter, F. A. Benhardt, John Dilg,, J. Eckhoff and Henry Reese.

The company's name was changed three times, partly due to the removal of the office from Des Plaines to Mt. Prospect and to the adoption of a standard form of policy to meet the requirements of the state.

There have been only five presidents and three secretaries during the seventy years. The presidents and terms of office were:

John C. Seegers....1875 to 1909
A. F. Garms.....1909 to 1917
William Maas.....1917 to 1931
George F. Meyer....1935 to

Henry C. Senne served as secretary and treasurer from 1875 to 1909; John Russel, 1909 to 1926; George Busse from 1926. George L. Busse is assistant secretary and treasurer.

The present board of directors are: George F. Meyer, Geoge Busse, E. F. Schoppe, August Hannock, Daniel H. Bergman, Robert Ranz, George H. Geils, Clarence Wille and Henry J. Schroeder.

Appropriate for veterinarian for Cook County

Commissioner William Busse has informed the committee, appointed by the Cook County Farm Bureau, that an appropriation has been included in the county budget for cooperation with the State Department of Animal Industry to employ a veterinarin for Cook County to begin the job of testing dairy cows for Bang's Disease.

Recently a committee composed of Fred Pfingsten, John Freise, Howard Bingham, Charles Erickson, Arthur Maue, William A. Lister, Louis W. Pohlman, Daniel H. Bergman and Farm Adviser, C. A. Hughes, appeared before the budget committee and presented the case of the Cook County dairymen. It was pointed out that under grade A regulations the Health Commissioner Bundensen could enforce the provision which requires that milk sold in the city of Chicago must come from herds known to be free of Bang's Disease or from a county that is operating under the Live Stock Disease Control Program. There are probably less than 1 percent of the herds in Cook County that have been tested for Bang's Disease and obviously it is not probable that any percentage of herds will test voluntarily. After the presentation of the farmers' committee Commissioner Busse stated, "I am in favor of this program." All of the commissioners in the county were in support of the farmers' request.

"Under the Disease Control Program there are a number of plans that farmers may elect after having tested their herds the first time", states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. "The first plan, which is the most stringent, provides that reactors shall be sent to the yards and all additions to the herd must be tested and calfhood vaccination against Bang's practiced in the herd. This is a plan that we would advise only when there are no reactors or a very few in the herd.

The third plan which is most liberal allows the dairy men to keep his reactors in the herd and not to sell them into another herd except by permission when this other herd is known to be infected. There is no indemnity for the first test and the only indemnity allowed is after all the reactors have been taken out of the herd after the first test. Under plan 3 all additions to the herd must be Bang's free tested cows, and calves are to be vaccinated. We believe that plan 3 will work hardship in a very limited way and that dairy men are offered a means of getting their herds cleared up before there is a surplus of milk and the Bang's Disease ordinance is fully enforced.

Within a reasonable length of time a veterinarian will be employed, offices set up where records will be available to farmers and testing will proceed. It is probable that Bang's Disease eradication will be lodged in the Department of Health in Cook County as the proper agency for cooperating with the state. Announcement will be made in a short time about the employment of a veterinarian and further details on the testing work. "Farmers of Cook County are indebted to the county commissioners for their aid in supporting the Bang's Disease program", states Fred Pfingsten, "and we hope that farmers will fall in line and cooperate so that there will be no break in the marketing of milk from this county."

Weapons of other wars shown at Public Service

A lot of interest is being displayed in the exhibit of guns in the Arlington Heights office of the Public Service Co. The display is loaned by Ambrose Brod, Skokie, who has been a gun enthusiast for many years and has gathered a collection that shows improvement in power and ball weapons from the 17th century to the present day. His interest in guns is purely that of the collector of rare pieces. If a rare gun is to satisfy him completely it must be able to carry a light load of powder and wadding. Then when the gun has been discharged with a roar and a cloud of black smoke, Mr. Brod adds it to his collection.

Included in the collection are pistols that look like candlestick holders, French military pistols used in the Revolutionary War, bayonets that might serve as lightning rods; guns used by the western bandits and the Springfield rifles that were general issue in the U. S. army as late as 50 years ago. There are flint locks, resembling clubs rather than pistols, which are described by Mr. Brod as follows:

"When you saw the enemy coming you poured powder down the muzzle, stuffed it in, stuffed wadding in after it and finally shoved the ball in. You then poured powder onto the powder tray, where it could be ignited by the spark from the flint and in turn set off the powder in the barrel. After that you cocked your gun, took aim, praved that the gun would fire and pulled the trigger. More than likely the gun failed to go off, so you hit the nearest adversary over the head with it."

The display of pistols is especially interesting. There will be found a collection of Derringers, and six-shooters that were carried by the heroes and the badmen of pioneer days.

The display is in reality a history of pistols, revolvers, from the time of their invention in Spain in 1623 down to this century.

All of the early guns, even the pistols, were charged with powder, wadding and shot being rammed into the muzzle. The firing of the powder was accomplished by the striking of a flint hammer. It was not until early in the last century that the cap was invented, which was placed by hand on a pin; the explosion of the cap ignited the powder in the barrel.

The single barrel gun was followed by a double barrel, then a four barrel and finally by a six-barrel gun. With the advent of the cartridge, the revolving cartrige barrels came into being, and are a near approach to the guns in use today.

Mr. Gilson, who is in charge of the Public Service store will be glad to tell visitors what he knows about the guns, but as they are securely fastened to the display board he cannot demonstrate them.

Invite farmers to attend meeting at Des Plaines

Methods to help solve the farm labor problem will be demonstrated at a Farm Meeting in Rand Park Field House, in Des Plaines, on Jan. 16, 8 p m. Sponsored by Pete Ploen, Sinclair agent.

This meeting is part of the new Farm Work Simplification campaign developed by Sinclair Refining Company with the help of practical farmers and agricultural experts. Farm work simplification is an objective in order to eliminate unnecessary time and labor in farming operations.

A new Sinclair motion picture will show work simplification methods beng applied by farmers on their own farms. Entertaining features, including a full color musical, will also be included. A new Sinclair book on "Farm Work Simplification," showing how to save time and work, will be distributed. Door prizes will be awarded.

Mt. Prospect fire league to meet Wednesday

The annual meeting of the Mt. Prospect Rural Fire Protection League will be held Wednesday evening, Jan. 17 at 8:00 p. m. at the village hall in Mt. Prospect. Election of directors whose time expires and a report from the secretary and treasurer will take place.

Truck gardeners to meet Saturday

The annual meeting of the Cook County Truck Gardeners and Farmers Association will be held on Saturday, January 13, in the Masonic Temple, Gale st., near Milwaukee ave., Jefferson Park, at 1:30 p. m. An interesting program has been arranged with speakers including Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes, and a representative of the War Food Administration from Washington, D. C. Annual reports will be submitted and the board of directors will be elected.

Forest River man missing in raid over Austria

Word was received last week that Staff Sergeant George LeComte of Forest River has been missing in action over Austria since December 11. Sgt. LeComte is the brother of Mrs. J. Remsing of Forest River. His wife, Mary, and 2 year old son, George, Jr., also live there.

George entered service November 20, 1942. He was shipped overseas in November of '43, going to England. The following November George was transferred to the 15th air force in Italy as an aerial gunner.

OPA asks help to fight inflation

Volunteers for OPA service can learn details by phoning Mrs. H. G. Day, Arlington Heights 41.

Mrs. H. G. Day, chairman of the Community Service Panel of Arlington Heights Ration Board, is depending upon the patriotism of a number of Arlington Heights women to assist the board in checking price ceilings.

"It would not be a bad idea," states Mrs. Day, "if an entire group which meets regularly for card playing or some other social event, would agree to spend that afternoon to aid the fight against inflation." Mrs. Day is convinced that local stores, restaurants, etc. are not knowingly breaking price ceilings, but that fact must be proven to the Chicago office. The only way to do it is to have the investigations made.

"I know that the ladies will receive every consideration from the business firms that are to be visited and there will be no unpleasantness about the work. Instead the ladies can feel that they have found another way to serve their country.

Work not difficult

"In the final analysis, inflation must be beaten at the consumer level," says Mrs. Day. "The only way the job can be done is with the help of volunteers. The check is simple enough—comparison of posted price ceilings with menus or price marks, and then with the prices charged by the establishment the day ceilings were fixed.

Sees price 'pressure'

"People must remember that the money they are placing in bonds won't buy as much after the war if a runaway inflation sets in. If we are to profit by our experience after the last war, we can expect extremely heavy pressures on price which could catch us unaware. If prices should rise sharply, OPA's record of holding them during the war period would be quickly forgotten.

"No matter how successful the professional enforcement staff has been in keeping down the prices of manufacturers and wholesalers, the consumer will be no better off if the prices he has to pay go sky-high while the retailer—not the consumer—gets the benefit of OPA enforcement efforts.

'Up to volunteers'

"We know it is easy to excuse what appear to be trivial violations—a few cents on a pound of hamburger or a peck of potatoes. But it is just such increases, one piled on top of another, that bring about inflation. The really dangerous threat is not from the black market operator but from the petty chisler.

Hold that line!

"The most important job we can do for the remainder of the war and during the immediate post-war period is firmly to hold the line on prices and to attain maximum compliance with our regulations. OPA expects gradually to withdraw from the field of rationing but there will be no letting up within any time that we can now foresee in our efforts to enforce price regulations which are sure to remain in effect for a considerable period after victory in Europe.

"It is the consumer who will suffer if prices climb. For never in the history of this country have wage increases kept pace with price increases. An increase of a few cents may not now mean much to a consumer earning high wages or to people growing wealthy on the war effort. But there is also among us the fixed income group—teachers, clerks, county and city and other government employes. This group also includes the wives and families living on soldier and sailor allotments."

Post Christmas tree fires call out department

Arlington Heights fire department answered two calls last Thursday because of "post Christmas tree fires." In both cases the owners were attempting to burn the evergreen in their fire places. Last Thursday morning the department was called to the home of Mrs. Schwartz, corner of State and Euclid, when the evergreens did a lot of smoke damage.

That same evening Joe Wisersky turned out the electric lights in his home expecting to enjoy the burning of the evergreens in his fire place. Neighbors saw the reflection through the window and notified the department.

Call Mt. Prospect fire department to Prospect Hts.

Mount Prospect Rural Fire Department was called to the Delmar May residence, 308 Elmhurst rd., Prospect Heights at 9:30 Tuesday morning.

Mrs. May noticed smoke throughout her house, and becoming alarmed, called the fire department. When the truck arrived and the firemen made their investigation, it was discovered that a pipe to the furnace had opened up, permitting the smoke to escape through the house.

War vets to get priorities on housing

To speed the reestablishment of returning war veterans in homes of their own, the OPA requirement that 20 per cent of the purchase price of a home must be paid before a certificate can be issued for the eviction of the present tenant will be waived in the cases of veterans purchasing homes on borrowed funds guaranteed by the administrator of veterans affairs.

This announcement was made this week by the chairman of the local War Price and Rationing Board, who added that he considers the modification in regulations especially welcome when the nation's fighting men are suffering at the fronts in behalf of a greater security in the peaceful future of America. He said also that the change is gratifying to local veterans' groups.

OPA rent regulations provide, in general, that a tenant may not be evicted for occupancy by a purchaser unless at least 20 per cent of the purchase price of a home has been paid. Down payments with funds borrowed for the purpose are generally excluded in determining whether or not this requirement is satisfied.

The amendment to the rent regulations in behalf of returning servicemen was made to eliminate any possibility that a veteran might be unable, because of rent regulations, to obtain early possession of housing accommodations purchased under aid opportunities provided by the GI bill of rights.

The local board is glad to have questions about rent regulations but may see fit in some instances to refer the questioner to the specialists in the Chicago metropolitan area OPA rent office, on the seventh floor at 222 West Adams street.

Escapes death by inches in railroad crash

Pvt. John Larsen, brother of Mrs. Robert Paddock of Palatine, was on his way to Fort Ord, California, aboard the Southern Pacific railroad Pacific Limited New Year's Day. That train was in two sections, both of which were involved in the now-famous railroad collision in Utah in which scores were killed and injured. John was unhurt.

"We had been riding along the shores of great Salt Lake, when there was a terrific crash. No one knew what was happening until it was all over. First thing I noticed was the front end of a sleeper pushed inside our car.

"There were screams from all the injured, the most horrible sounds I ever heard. The dead were piled about like sardines in a can. Everything was a mess, a sight I'll never forget.

"When I took stock of everything around me I saw the sleeper pushed right up to my seat. Six servicemen in the seat behind me were crushed to death. They didn't know what hit them, but lay there, lifeless and smashed.

"All I had lost was a button from my coat. I silently thanked God and Lady Luck for being with me and set about to work.

"Most of the servicemen were headed for the west coast. We all pitched in and helped remove the injured to ambulances and hospital ward cars of the train. But everything was so terrible—sight of the dead and screams of the injured—that it was hard to keep going.

"After five hours all injured had been carried away, but we had to move on while the dead were still packed in the wreckage."

A freight train had had a mechanical break-down along Salt Lake. The first section of the Limited had stopped and then started again, as the freight moved on. Second section of the Limited, supposedly 20 minutes behind the first, rammed into the rear of the passenger train. It was thought the engineer had suffered a fatal heart attack, just as he saw the flare of the first section.

RETURN RATION BOOKS

There is one Arlington Heights woman who believes in the honesty of her neighbors. After attending the choral society program at the north school Monday evening she was called on the phone and asked if she had missed anything. It was then that she realized that she had left her pocketbook containing ration books, gasoline coupons, keys and other valuables at the school house.

She was as happy to get them back as was the finder to return them to her.

Draft board to reclassify all deferments

Acting under orders that have been received from the State Selective Service headquarters, Arlington Heights board is reviewing all men who have had deferments. All who are engaged in non-essential jobs will be reclassified as 1-A and will be subject to pre-physical examinations to determine their fitness for Army service.

In accordance with a directive received from national selective service headquarters, Col. Paul G. Armstrong, state director, has ordered Illinois local boards to review the classifications of all agriculturally deferred registrants ages 18 through 25 years and to have such registrants given preinduction physical examinations.

"All Class II-C registrants ages 18 through 25 years," Colonel Armstrong stated, "with the exception of those previously rejected or found qualified for limited military service only, will be forwarded to the induction station for preinduction physical examination. If any such registrant is found acceptable for service, the local board will determine whether he will be reclassified as available for military service or his deferment continued because of his critical need in his agricultural occupation. Appeal rights will, of course, exist in any case of reclassification.

"While the new directive is not considered a 'blanket order' to reclassify all II-C registrants of this age group, local boards have been informed that they must give consideration to the President's statement that such registrants are deemed less necessary in agriculture than in the armed forces and that boards must immediately apply stricter standards in determining whether or not a farm registrant should be deferred.

"Since each agricultural registrant's case must be considered on its individual merits, no estimate can be made of how many Illinois farm registrants under 26 years of age will be inducted under the new directive.

"Physical examinations of these farm registrants are expected to start at the induction station on January 15, and it is felt that the bulk of them will be found physically fit for military service. Calls for these special examinations will be above the regular preinduction examination calls and will be gauged according to the volume capacity of the induction station."

Woman finds lifeless body of neighbor, Harry E. Mertz

When Mrs. Ed. Pingel, 208 S. Evergreen ave., Arlington Heights realized Wednesday morning that she had not seen her neighbor, Harry E. Mertz, for several days, she decided to investigate. The house was unlocked. Entering she found the lifeless body of Mr. Mertz.

The police were notified and Dr. Elfeld was called, who stated that death had occurred some time previously. He was last seen Saturday evening and may have been dead several days, or unable to help himself for some time as the water pipes in the house were frozen.

Mrs. Mertz, who had gone to California for her health a month ago, has been notified and funeral arrangements will await word from there. The remains are at Lauterburg and Oehler's. There are three brothers and a sister surviving.

Mr. Mertz was employed at the main Chicago postoffice and had been an Arlington resident for 13 years.

Paved highways are taking an awful punishment

"It is not alone the motorist and his car which are taking awful punishment these days," says Oscar Milburn, of Milburn Bros., who built a good many of the paved highways in this part of Cook County. "The severe cold and packed snow on the pavements are damaging the cement highways more than several years of the usual wear."

"Frost is now two feet in the ground and when the thaw comes it will create a condition that will do a lot of damage to the pavements, but the greater damage is being done by the trucks to paved roads not cleared of snow. Vehicles which hit the packed ice one moment and hit the cleared pavement the next are pounding the life out of the roads."

Mr. Milburn believes that failure of road gangs to keep snow off the roads will cost the tax payers a lot of money.

HIT BY CAR

Lt. George Jensen wounded in Germany

Lt. George F. Jensen of Arlington Heights, was wounded in action in Germany December 13. He is now in an American hospital in the Paris area where doctors were unable to remove a piece of shrapnel in the right leg.

Lt. Jensen arrived in France August 25 after spending one year at Fort Meade, Maryland. He was active in the mopping up campaign in the Brest and Crozon Peninsulas where he was awarded the infantryman combat badge.

In October Lt. Jensen participated in the capturing of Luxemburg. Lt. Jensen and his wife, the former Betty Lanham, who is residing with her parents at 500 Webford ave. in Des Plaines, are both former residents of Arlington Heights.

February 14 Lt. Jensen will have served six years in the army, three of them in Hawaii before the war.

George's address has been received, in case any friends wish to write to him. It is Lt. George F. Jensen, 0-1315468, Det of Patients Ward C4, Army Hosp Plant 4199, APO 514-B, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

Jan. 15 deadline for installments '44 income tax

Nigel D. Campbell, Collector of Internal Revenue for the First District of Illinois, reminded taxpayers in this district today that January 15 is the deadline for filing original or amended 1944 Declarations of Estimated Tax and for paying installments on previously-filed declarations for 1944.

Nearly all farmers are required to file original 1944 declarations by January 15. Most other taxpayers who were required to file 1944 declarations did so last April, but those who underestimated their tax by more than 20 per cent should file amended declarations to avoid the penalty for substantial underestimates. January 15, likewise, is the last day for paying all installments due on 1944 declarations.

Mr. Campbell also called attention to the new provision of law which permits a taxpayer to file his annual income tax return for 1944 and pay the tax due on the return by January 15, instead of filing or paying "estimated tax" otherwise due at that time. Taxpayers availing themselves of this special provision will be saved the double duty of filing and paying "estimated tax" on January 15 and filing and paying on the annual return March 15. March 15 remains the regular deadline for filing 1944 annual returns and 1945 Declarations of Estimated Tax.

For detailed information and forms, Mr. Campbell invited taxpayers to call at his offices in the United States Court House, Chicago, outlying districts in Chicago, and in most of the major towns of this district.

Oratorical contest to be held at Heights this month

Merle Guild post American Legion has announced plans for the annual oratorical contest to be held sometime in January at Arlington Heights. The local contest is the first of numerous elimination contests, including local, zone, state and national. Elmer Newman of Arlington won a $50 war bond in last year's zone meet.

This is the sixth consecutive year of these contests, with any high school student under 19 years old as of July 1, 1945, eligible to compete. John Lee, Americanism officer of the local Legion post, has secured the help of all English teachers of Arlington high in promoting the contest. Any of them may be consulted as to entries, dates and qualifications.

In addition to zone and state prizes, the following are national prizes:

Schaumburg Mutual Insurance Co. to invest in war bonds

1944 was a good year for the Schaumburg Mutual Fire Insurance Co. The losses were only $56.29. It closed the year with reserves of $10,449.31. The stockholders at their annual meeting Tuesday afternoon voted to invest $5,000 in war bonds.

There was an excellent attendance at the meeting when Wm. Rohlwing, Louis Rohde and John H. Hohmeyer were re-elected directors. The officers of the company are Henry J. Freise, president; John Meyer, vice-president; Fred W. Pfingsten, secretary and Wm. Rohlwing, treasurer.

First casualty reported after Nazi push

Word of the first casualty to a local boy in the Luxemburg and Belgian fronts since the start of the German counter attack last month was received in Arlington Heights Sunday when a telegram from the war department advised Mrs. Laura Kieser, 210 North State road, that her son Sgt. "Jack" (James) Kieser had been missing since December 19. The last letters received from him were from Luxemburg.

The missing boy was a member of the 687th Field Artillery. He had been in the armed service 4½ years. Following his induction June 20, 1940, he was stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, three years.

He was married in August, 1942, and his wife was able to be with him until shipment overseas last February.

After being stationed in England for a time, he took part in the D-Day invasion of France.

For five years previous to his induction he was a milk driver for Buffalo Creek Farm. His wife Mrs. Levina Kieser, is residing with her husband's family and is employed by the Arlington Packaging Co.

Other members of the family, besides his mother, are five brothers, Fred stationed in New Caledonia; William, Marengo; Sherman, Highland Park; Edward, Deerfield; Fred, California; four sisters, Margaret, Hubbard Woods; Emma, North Chicago; Florence (Mrs. Albert Milbratz) and Laura, Arlington Heights.

Sgt. Kieser's mother, in addition to having two sons in the present war, has three grandsons still in the service and a fourth grandson, who due to injuries, has been discharged. Her son, William, the father of three of her grandsons in service, served in World War I.

War plant moves to Winkelman bldg.

Arlington Packaging Co., which has been running two shifts in the former Sadecky store quarters will soon more to the place that has been vacated by Elroy Winkelma. This war plat operated by Culligan Zeolite Co. is turning out vast quantities of little cloth bag that contain a dehydraing elemen tha is packed wih delicate instruments sent to the war fronts.

A lot of interest is being displayed in the exhibit of guns in the Arlington Heights office of the Public Service Co. The display is loaned by Ambrose Brod, Skokie, who has been a gun enthusiast for many years and has gathered a collection that shows improvement in power and ball weapons from the 17th century to the present day. His interest in guns is purely that of the collector of rare pieces. If a rare gun is to satisfy him completely it must be able to carry a light load of powder and wadding. Then when the gun has been discharged with a roar and a cloud of black smoke, Mr. Brod adds it to his collection.

Included in the collection are pistols that look like candlestick holders, French military pistols used in the Revolutionary War, bayonets that might serve as lightning rods; guns used by the western bandits and the Springfield rifles that were general issue in the U. S. army as late as 50 years ago. There are flint locks, resembling clubs rather than pistols, which are described by Mr. Brod as follows:

"When you saw the enemy coming you poured powder down the muzzle, stuffed it in, stuffed wadding in after it and finally shoved the ball in. You then poured powder onto the powder tray, where it could be ignited by the spark from the flint and in turn set off the powder in the barrel. After that you cocked your gun, took aim, praved that the gun would fire and pulled the trigger. More than likely the gun failed to go off, so you hit the nearest adversary over the head with it."

The display of pistols is especially interesting. There will be found a collection of Derringers, and six-shooters that were carried by the heroes and the badmen of pioneer days.

The display is in reality a history of pistols, revolvers, from the time of their invention in Spain in 1623 down to this century.

All of the early guns, even the pistols, were charged with powder, wadding and shot being rammed into the muzzle. The firing of the powder was accomplished by the striking of a flint hammer. It was not until early in the last century that the cap was invented, which was placed by hand on a pin; the explosion of the cap ignited the powder in the barrel.

The single barrel gun was followed by a double barrel, then a four barrel and finally by a six-barrel gun. With the advent of the cartridge, the revolving cartrige barrels came into being, and are a near approach to the guns in use today.

Mr. Gilson, who is in charge of the Public Service store will be glad to tell visitors what he knows about the guns, but as they are securely fastened to the display board he cannot demonstrate them.

Invite farmers to attend meeting at Des Plaines

Methods to help solve the farm labor problem will be demonstrated at a Farm Meeting in Rand Park Field House, in Des Plaines, on Jan. 16, 8 p m. Sponsored by Pete Ploen, Sinclair agent.

This meeting is part of the new Farm Work Simplification campaign developed by Sinclair Refining Company with the help of practical farmers and agricultural experts. Farm work simplification is an objective in order to eliminate unnecessary time and labor in farming operations.

A new Sinclair motion picture will show work simplification methods beng applied by farmers on their own farms. Entertaining features, including a full color musical, will also be included. A new Sinclair book on "Farm Work Simplification," showing how to save time and work, will be distributed. Door prizes will be awarded.

Set new record in county, state war bond sales

All previous records for war financing in Chicago, Cook County and the state fell when final Sixth War Loan tabulations were jointly announced by Francis M. Knight, city-county drive chairman and Renslow P. Sherer, Illinois War Finance Committee head. The chairmen revealed that both the county and Illinois drives had exceeded all previous campaigns in both total dollar volume of war bonds sold and in percentage of quotas achieved.

Total sales in Chicago and Cook County, Mr. Knight said, were $1,224,732,000 or 146.4 per cent of the $836,160,000 overall quota exceeding by $56,933,000 the highest previous total of $1,167,799,000 set in an earlier drive which attained 130.6 per cent of quota.

City-county E bond sales were $120,241,000 or 112.7 per cent of their $106,666,000 objective, setting a new record in percentage of quota accomplished in this category. Purchases by individuals in the city and county also established a new high in percentage of goal attained with 115.7 per cent of the $235,596,000 quota with sales of $272,532,000.

Sales to corporations established a record in both dollar volume and percentage of quota with $952,200,000 or 158.5 per cent of the $600,564,000 objective. The previous high in this category was $889,392,000 or 144.2 per cent of quota.

Statewide sales, Mr. Sherer said, totaled $1,532,232,000 or 148 (correct) per cent of the $1,034,000,000 total Illinois quota, setting a new mark against the previous high of $1,470,944,000 or 132.9 per cent of the then quota.

E bond sales were established at $193,759,000 or 111.3 per cent of the $174,000,000 quota, establishing a new record for the state in percentage of accomplishment in that category.

Sales to individuals stood at $399,705,000 or 114 (correct) per cent of the $351,000,000 objective, also setting a new mark in rate of achievement.

Corporation purchases were $1,132,527,000 or 166 (correct) per cent of the $683,000,000 quota in that category, also exceeding previous records in percentage of quota.

Today's insurance is over 15 million

Mutual County Fire Insurance Co. of Mt. Prospect is seventy years old. Its annual meeting was held Tuesday afternoon at the Lutheran school, Mt. Prospect, when reports of its officers showed the wonderful growth that the company has enjoyed during its existence. It is today one of the striking examples of the value and success of mutual fire insurance in the state of Illinois.

Secretary George Busse in his annual report given to the stockholders Tuesday afternoon outlined the 1944 operations of the company. An historical account was given by Attorney Weiss. The first year of the company's existence the written insurance amounted to $175,000. January 1, 1945, the insurance was $15,280,000, eighty-five times greater.

While the company keeps a working cash capital on hand at all times, it has invested in government bonds $15,970, which is $4,000 greater than in 1943, when the total was $11,902.00. Cash balance in local banks on January 1st totaled $8,810.92.

Losses paid during 1944, totaling $14,979.57 were divided as follows:

Fire	$11,353.72
Windstorm	$ 3,157.16
Lightning	$ 468.69

During the seventy years of its existence the losses amounted to $429,726.40. The average loss for the last five years has been $12,250. Other comparative figures of interest to policy holders are:

Policies written in 1944	691
Policies cancelled or expired	660
Net gain in policies	31
	1943	1944
Gross receipts	$19,450	$19,998
Losses paid	11,438	14,979

Secretary Meyer closed his address with the following statement:

"Fires in the United States cause the death of 8,000 persons a year and property valued at one million dollars and more than one hunlion dollars is lost daily. Farm fires along destroy 3,500 lives and more than one hundred million dollars worth of property annually. Two thirds of all the fire deaths in this country occur in dwellings. These deaths are results of fire caused by the following eight principle reasons: defective chimneys and flues, sparks on a combustible roof, lightning, spontaneous combustion, careless use of gasoline and kerosene, defective and improperly intalled stoves and furnaces, faulty wiring and misuse of electrical appliances. These eight are responsible for about 85 per cent of the total losses from farm fires. All of them can be prevented, if care is used."

The mutual company received its start in January, 1875, when Ferdinand Holste, Northfield township, Frederich Hasse and H. C. Senne, Maine township met at the home of the latter and made preluminary plans for a public meeting called for Jan. 23, at the Cammack school house, Northfield township. At the latter meeting H. C. Senne was appoinnted chairman and a charter adopted for the Maine Mutual Fire and Lightning Insurance Co.

The incorporators resided in six townships, Maine, Northfield, Wheeling, Elk Grove, Leyden and Niles. John S Seegers was elected president and Henry C. Senne secretary and treasurer. The directors were: Hy. C. Senne, John C. Seeges, Ferdinand Holste, Frederich Haase, Hery Walter, F. A. Benhardt, John Dilg,, J. Eckhoff and Henry Reese.

The company's name was changed three times, partly due to the removal of the office from Des Plaines to Mt. Prospect and to the adoption of a standard form of policy to meet the requirements of the state.

There have been only five presidents and three secretaries during the seventy years. The presidents and terms of office were:

John C. Seegers....1875 to 1909
A. F. Garms.....1909 to 1917
William Maas.....1917 to 1931
George F. Meyer....1935 to

Henry C. Senne served as secretary and treasurer from 1875 to 1909; John Russel, 1909 to 1926; George Busse from 1926. George L. Busse is assistant secretary and treasurer.

The present board of directors are: George F. Meyer, Geoge Busse, E. F. Schoppe, August Hannock, Daniel H. Bergman, Robert Ranz, George H. Geils, Clarence Wille and Henry J. Schroeder.

Truck gardeners to meet Saturday

The annual meeting of the Cook County Truck Gardeners and Farmers Association will be held on Saturday, January 13, in the Masonic Temple, Gale st., near Milwaukee ave., Jefferson Park, at 1:30 p. m. An interesting program has been arranged with speakers including Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes, and a representative of the War Food Administration from Washington, D. C. Annual reports will be submitted and the board of directors will be elected.

Appropriate for veterinarian for Cook County

Commissioner William Busse has informed the committee, appointed by the Cook County Farm Bureau, that an appropriation has been included in the county budget for cooperation with the State Department of Animal Industry to employ a veterinarin for Cook County to begin the job of testing dairy cows for Bang's Disease.

Recently a committee composed of Fred Pfingsten, John Freise, Howard Bingham, Charles Erickson, Arthur Maue, William A. Lister, Louis W. Pohlman, Daniel H. Bergman and Farm Adviser, C. A. Hughes, appeared before the budget committee and presented the case of the Cook County dairymen. It was pointed out that under grade A regulations the Health Commissioner Bundensen could enforce the provision which requires that milk sold in the city of Chicago must come from herds known to be free of Bang's Disease or from a county that is operating under the Live Stock Disease Control Program. There are probably less than 1 percent of the herds in Cook County that have been tested for Bang's Disease and obviously it is not probable that any percentage of herds will test voluntarily. After the presentation of the farmers' committee Commissioner Busse stated, "I am in favor of this program." All of the commissioners in the county were in support of the farmers' request.

"Under the Disease Control Program there are a number of plans that farmers may elect after having tested their herds the first time", states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. "The first plan, which is the most stringent, provides that reactors shall be sent to the yards and all additions to the herd must be tested and calfhood vaccination against Bang's practiced in the herd. This is a plan that we would advise only when there are no reactors or a very few in the herd.

The third plan which is most liberal allows the dairy men to keep his reactors in the herd and not to sell them into another herd except by permission when this other herd is known to be infected. There is no indemnity for the first test and the only indemnity allowed is after all the reactors have been taken out of the herd after the first test. Under plan 3 all additions to the herd must be Bang's free tested cows, and calves are to be vaccinated. We believe that plan 3 will work hardship in a very limited way and that dairy men are offered a means of getting their herds cleared up before there is a surplus of milk and the Bang's Disease ordinance is fully enforced.

Within a reasonable length of time a veterinarian will be employed, offices set up where records will be available to farmers and testing will proceed. It is probable that Bang's Disease eradication will be lodged in the Department of Health in Cook County as the proper agency for cooperating with the state. Announcement will be made in a short time about the employment of a veterinarian and further details on the testing work. "Farmers of Cook County are indebted to the county commissioners for their aid in supporting the Bang's Disease program", states Fred Pfingsten, "and we hope that farmers will fall in line and cooperate so that there will be no break in the marketing of milk from this county."

Forest River man missing in raid over Austria

Word was received last week that Staff Sergeant George LeComte of Forest River has been missing in action over Austria since December 11. Sgt. LeComte is the brother of Mrs. J. Remsing of Forest River. His wife, Mary, and 2 year old son, George, Jr., also live there.

George entered service November 20, 1942. He was shipped overseas in November of '43, going to England. The following November George was transferred to the 15th air force in Italy as an aerial gunner.

She was a charter member of the Northwest branch of Child Welfare auxiliary and at the time of her death was a member of the visiting committee of the Palatine Woman's Club of which she had been a member since 1941.

Peter Schmidt

Peter Schmidt was born Sept. 17, 1862, on a farm a few miles northeast of Wheeling, the son of Peter and Mary (nee Hornberger) Schmidt, who came from Germany. He was one of 8 children, four of whom, Philip, William, Albert and Mary preceded him in death. Surviving him are a sister Mrs. Emma Tosch of Chicago and two brothers Louis of Fox Lake and John of Minnesota. In Feb. 1890 Mr. Schmidt was married to Hannah Landwehr of Northbrook, and celebrated their golden wedding five years ago. They had no children. They first made their home in Highwood, Ill., while Mr. Schmidt was employed in the building of Fort Sheridan. After several years of farming in North Northfield they moved to Wheeling where he operated the feed mill for many years. After his retrement as a miller, they purchased a home on Milwaukee ave. As a resident of Wheeling Mr. Schmidt took part in community life, serving as a village trustee, treasurer of the cemetery association, director of the Wheeling State Bank and was an elder in the Presbyterian church. About a year ago his health began to fail and he entered Evanston hospital with his wife who suffered with a broken hip. As their health improved they returned to their home for a short while and then entered the Barrington rest home where his wife passed away last October. Mr. Schmidt followed his wife in death on January 4 at the age of 82 years, 8 months and 17 days. Funeral services were held in the Wheeling Presbyterian church on Sunday afternoon and his remains laid to rest with his wife in Wheeling cemetery.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

In the early months of 1942, an intensely critical situation existed along the Atlantic seacoast. Nazi submarines, practically within sight of the shore, were sinking scores of American tankers and other ships. Our Navy, scattered as it was over all the globe, could not cope with them. At first the vessels went down at the rate of one a week, then one a day. Finally in May, the blockade became complete. Ships bearing supplies, not only for our own armed forces, but for most of the United Nations as well, were immobilized in our harbors.

WILLIAM MELLOR

Then the miracle happened—a miracle not unlike that of Dunkirk. From yacht clubs and fishing docks, from flying schools and civilian airports, swarmed thousands of modern Minute Men—members of the Civil Air Patrol and the Coast Guard Auxiliary—who went down to the sea in cockleshell boats and flew over it in aerial jalopies to do battle with the invaders.

They did the job. They drove the Nazi sharks from our coastal waters and handed the Navy an 18 months' breathing spell in which to build enough patrol craft to resume alone the task of guarding our shores.

Because of censors, this thrilling story had to be kept secret for a long time. Now, William B. Mellor, Jr. tells it in full in his book, "Sank Same."

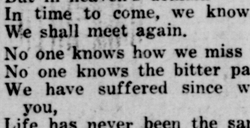
After escaping from a German prison camp, the Free French Brigadier General Jacques Leclerc, paid a secret visit to his home in Burgundy. As he was leaving he met a Nazi soldier, riding on Mme. Leclerc's bicycle. Furious, he stepped out of the shadows and demanded peremptorily, "What are you doing? Don't you know that bicycles are only for officers?" Obedient to the voice of authority, the startled soldier quickly dismounted, saluted: "Ja, mein Herr." Leclerc then got on the bicycle himself and started on the first lap of his dangerous journey through France to England—from "Half Past When" by Hassoldt Davis.



Wilhelmine Thake

Wilhelmine Thake, nee Rhode, was born November 8, 1863, in West Prussia, Germany. She came to the United States at the age of 28 years and made her home in Chicago.

June 28, 1897, she was united in marriage to Henry Thake in Chicago by Rev. Reinke. After marriage this couple made their home on their farm at Elk Grove where on Monday noon, January 8, she passed away at the age of 81 years and 2 months.

Mr. Thake preceeded his wife in death in 1941.

She leaves to mourn her departure three children, Emma, Arthur and Elsie; six sisters-in-law and four brothers-in-law, Mrs. Emily Rhode, Mrs. Fred Redeker, Mrs. Hermine Thake, Mrs. Henry Linnemann, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thake, Martin Thake, Louis Thake and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Thake.

Funeral services are being held this Thursday afternoon, January 11, at 2:00 p. m. at Karstens Funeral Home, and at 2:30 p. m. at Elk Grove Ev. Lutheran church. Interment Elk Grove Lutheran.

IN MEMORIAM

In fond memory of our dear son and brother, Staff Sergeant Herman Heide who gave his life in North Africa two years ago January 6, 1943.

Dear Herman, you are not forgotten,
Tho on earth you are no more,
Still in memory you are with us,
As you always were before.
Two years ago you left us,
And our hearts were filled with pain,
But in heaven's domain
In time to come, we know,
We shall meet again.
No one knows how we miss you,
No one knows the bitter pain
We have suffered since we lost you,
Life has never been the same.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweeter, tender, forged and true,
There is not a day, Dear Herman,
That we do not think of you.

Those who loved you,
Your Parents and Sisters.

CARD OF THANKS

With deepest gratitude we express our heartfelt thanks for the kind acts of sympathy expressed by thoughtful relatives, neighbors and friends. These kindnesses have meant much to us.

Appendicitis

by C. W. LUSSMAN of Sieburg Pharmacy

If you believe you have any symptoms of appendicitis, the safe and sane thing to do is to consult your physician.

He may find the cause of the pain, ache or disturbance to be a minor ailment, and treat it accordingly. Or he may find appendicitis present. In either event, your having consulted him is a wise move.

It is, of course, a wise move whenever persistent pain of any nature is present. Self-medication is not to be recommended except in the simplest cases, since the doctor is the only one qualified to correctly diagnose any upset.

Should drugs be needed, ask your doctor to recommend a good druggist.

Farm land

With careful search, some good farms can still be bought at fair prices despite higher land values, says the Farm Security Administration; in reporting that 3,369 farm purchases made during the last fiscal year, under the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, were based on its policy of holding the line against land inflation.

But with farm land values in many areas approaching boom levels, tenant purchase loan applicants, who must find for themselves the farms they wish to purchase, experienced more difficulty last year in locating farms that measured up to FSA standards and could be bought at prices FSA would approve.

Although average land values increased 15 per cent during the last fiscal year, farm purchases financed by FST averaged no more per acre than the farms bought in previous years. They were financed on the basis of the productivity, and quality was not sacrificed. The average purchase price per farm last year was $4,252, compared with $4,354 the year before when 5,144 farms were bought. During the first five years of operation of the Tenant Purchase Program, which began in 1937, farms of similar quality were purchased at an average price of $4,033.

Dollar bills

Four out of five of thousands of Americans planning to travel to foreign countries after the war will do so by steamship rather than by airline, according to a survey by Ships magazine . . . Dollar bills will now be contributed to the scrap drive by the U. S. Treasury, which is abandoning its traditional practice of burning worn and mutilated currency, bonds and stamps, in favor of chewing up this old paper in machines. It's estimated that five tons of high-grade pulp daily will be made available. . . . An average of 4,500 cars of coal a day are hauled by the New York Central railroad to feed industries, docks and coal dealers along its 11,000-mile right of way.

G. I. plans

Seven per cent of the men now in the army have definite plans for operating a business and five per cent plan on farms, according to a survey conducted among troops in the United States and overseas by the Information and Education Division, Army service Forces. For the most part they are interested primarily in relatively small enterprises, with half of these having definite plans saying that they will invest $4,000 or less.

FORTY—THIRTY—TWENTY—TEN YEARS AGO

40 YEARS AGO—JAN. 13, 1905

Palatine

Miss Pearl M. Clarke and George M. Kuebler were united in marriage at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Geiger. The happy couple took a short wedding trip.

Tom Hart entertained a few guests Saturday evening.

Bensenville

Dr. and Mrs. Marquardt were pleasantly surprised Sunday afternoon and evening by a number of friends who came to celebrate his birthday.

Henry Theiman celebrated his birthday January 10.

Arlington Heights

Miss Hulda Lorenzen has given up her position in Chicago and is staying at home until she finds another job.

George Miller is able to be out again after having his tonsils out.

Roselle

Mr. Beisner celebrated his seventieth birthday New Year's day.

Vegetables

New aluminum pressure canners will be appearing in retail markets during the coming winter and spring months. Housewives who will need this equipment for their 1945 home canning will do well to keep an eye out for these canners as small supplies are delivered to their local stores.

Last fall the War Production Board allowed manufacturers enough aluminum to make 630,000 pressure canners between October '44 and July '45. Most manufacturers are making two familiar sizes—the small size holding 7 quart jars, and the large size holding 14 quart jars. All of the new canners are cast aluminum, streamlined, and most have smooth wooden handles. Each is equipped not only with a rack to hold jars in canning but also with inset pans —two half pans and one full pan —to use for cooking different foods. This gives the new canners year-round usefulness in the kitchen.

On the fresh food markets during the present week, the War Food Administration reports that apples and citrus fruits are holding down the fort at the fruit counters. Apples are one of the fresh foods on the WFA's list of foods in liberal supply for January. Grapefruit and small size oranges are among the better buys in citrus. There are adequate supplies of tangerines, and while lemons are still in light supply, shipments from California are increasing right along.

It will take careful planning to keep vegetable servings economical right now, as prices of several items are at rather a high level. Fairly good supplies of greens are available, such as mustard, spinach, collards, turnip tops, and escarole, and these are all rather moderate in price although not available at all markets. Head lettuce from the West remains at or near ceiling, but celery is edging lower in price as the result of heavy supplies. Canadian rutabagas provide one of the economy level buys. Winter squash also deserves more attention from homemakers, especially those on limited budgets, then it has been receiving. Carrots and cabbage are offered at prices within reach of the average homemaker's budget, particularly the carrots which are in liberal supply.

More scotch

THINGS TO COME — Safety lights for the sides of automobiles to relieve night driving of some of its hazards . . . A new glass, developed by the American Optical company, which successfully resists exposure to hydrofluoric acid. Potential uses are in fabrication of test tubes, beakers, bottles; lenses for safety goggles and helmets . . . An extremely tight bituminous coal situation by April 1, 1945, according to the Solid Fuels Administration, Washington . . . Renewed supplies of Scotch whiskey. The first to be distilled since 1940 was poured into casks at Stonehaven, England, this month.

Vitamin in Cabbage

Cabbage provides a goodly amount of vitamin C and deserves a place in menu plans, especially now when some other leafy varieties are short in supply. It can be served as a hot vegetable or the raw cabbage can be made into salads. The fact that it combines well with meats, seafood and many other vegetables makes it easy to adapt to menu plans.

Winterkilling Grains

An important factor in winterkilling with fall-sown grains is the amount of snow cover during periods of extreme cold. If the fields are well covered with snow during the greater part of the winter there is less winterkilling.

Julius Pedersen

Julius Pedersen, 290 Ardmore road, Des Plaines, died January 1 at his home. Services were held Friday at Lauterburg and Oehler Des Plaines chapel, Rev. W. Earl Brehm officiating. Interment Acacia.

He is survived by his wife, Ethel, and three children, Cpl. Warren of the Marines, Viola Kagel of Chicago, and Melta Smith of Des Plaines. Services were in charge of Theodore Roosevelt A. F. & A. M.

Mrs. Henry F. Pohlman

Funeral services will be held for Mrs. Henry F. Pohlman, Palatine, at the Immanuel Lutheran church Friday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. Koester officiating. Interment will be in Randhill Park.

Alvina, the daugher of John and Mary Meyer, was born in Elk Grove township December 5, 1885. She was confirmed in the Elk Grove Lutheran church and married Henry F. Pohlman October 4, 1906. They occupied a farm on Rand road until 1927, when they moved to Palatine.

There are three daughters, Mrs. Vera Klopp, Mrs. Beatrice Wenegar and Mrs. Lysette Donkin, six grandchildren and two brothers, Emil of Cary and Herman of Chicago.

Mrs. Pohlman had been in ill health two years and critically ill three months.

She had been a member of the Lutheran Ladies Aid since 1928 and its president 1939-1941. She was a charter member of the Northwest branch of Child Welfare auxiliary and at the time of her death was a member of the visiting committee of the Palatine Woman's Club of which she had been a member since 1941.

Peter Schmidt

Peter Schmidt was born Sept. 17, 1852, on a farm a few miles northeast of Wheeling, the son of Peter and Mary (nee Hornberger) Schmidt, who came from Germany. He was one of 8 children, four of whom, Philip, William, Albert and Mary preceded him in death. Surviving him are a sister Mrs. Emma Tosch of Chicago and two brothers Louis of Fox Lake and John of Minnesota. In Feb. 1890 Mr. Schmidt was married to Hannah Landwehr of Northbrook, and celebrated their golden wedding five years ago. They had no children. They first made their home in Highwood, Ill., while Mr. Schmidt was employed in the building of Fort Sheridan. After several years of farming in North Northfield they moved to Wheeling where he operated the feed mill for many years. After his retrement as a miller, they purchased a home on Milwaukee ave. As a resident of Wheeling Mr. Schmidt took part in community life, serving as a village trustee, treasurer of the cemetery association, director of the Wheeling State Bank and was an elder in the Presbyterian church. About a year ago his health began to fail and he entered Evanston hospital with his wife who suffered with a broken hip. As their health improved they returned to their home for a short while and then entered the Barrington rest home where his wife passed away last October. Mr. Schmidt followed his wife in death on January 4 at the age of 82 years, 8 months and 17 days. Funeral services were held in the Wheeling Presbyterian church on Sunday afternoon and his remains laid to rest with his wife in Wheeling cemetery.

Margaret Weidner

Funeral services for Margaret Luella Weidner, little eight month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Weidner, Palatine, were held in St. Mary's church at Buffalo Grove Tuesday morning, January 9, at ten o'clock. Rev. Father Becker officiated at the ceremony. Interment was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Margaret, who had pneumonia, passed away in the arms of her mother January 6.

Surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Weidner, five sisters, Mrs. Luella Hertel, Susan, Mary, Lorraine, Eileen Weidner, six brothers, Walter, Jerome, Kenneth, Eugene, Bernard, Norbert Weidner, one grandmother, Mrs. Mary Leikam, a brother-in-law, Joseph Hertel, a niece, Lucy Hertel and other relatives.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

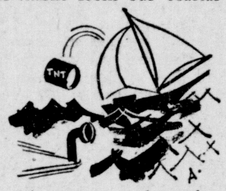
In the early months of 1942, an intensely critical situation existed along the Atlantic seacoast. Nazi submarines, practically within sight of the shore, were sinking scores of American tankers and other ships. Our Navy, scattered as it was over all the globe, could not cope with them. At first the vessels went down at the rate of one a week, then one a day. Finally in May, the blockade became complete. Ships bearing supplies, not only for our own armed forces, but for most of the United Nations as well, were immobilized in our harbors.

WILLIAM MELLOR

Then the miracle happened—a miracle not unlike that of Dunkirk. From yacht clubs and fishing docks, from flying schools and civilian airports, swarmed thousands of modern Minute Men—members of the Civil Air Patrol and the Coast Guard Auxiliary—who went down to the sea in cockleshell boats and flew over it in aerial jalopies to do battle with the invaders.

They did the job. They drove the Nazi sharks from our coastal waters and handed the Navy an 18 months' breathing spell in which to build enough patrol craft to resume alone the task of guarding our shores.



Because of censors, this thrilling story had to be kept secret for a long time. Now, William B. Mellor, Jr. tells it in full in his book, "Sank Same."

After escaping from a German prison camp, the Free French Brigadier General Jacques Leclerc, paid a secret visit to his home in Burgundy. As he was leaving he met a Nazi soldier, riding on Mme. Leclerc's bicycle. Furious, he stepped out of the shadows and demanded peremptorily, "What are you doing? Don't you know that bicycles are only for officers?" Obedient to the voice of authority, the startled soldier quickly dismounted, saluted: "Ja, mein Herr." Leclerc then got on the bicycle himself and started on the first lap of his dangerous journey through France to England—from "Half Past When" by Hassoldt Davis.

Wilhelmine Thake

Wilhelmine Thake, nee Rhode, was born November 8, 1863, in West Prussia, Germany. She came to the United States at the age of 28 years and made her home in Chicago.

June 28, 1897, she was united in marriage to Henry Thake in Chicago by Rev. Reinke. After marriage this couple made their home on their farm at Elk Grove where on Monday noon, January 8, she passed away at the age of 81 years and 2 months.

Mr. Thake preceeded his wife in death in 1941.

She leaves to mourn her departure three children, Emma, Arthur and Elsie; six sisters-in-law and four brothers-in-law, Mrs. Emily Rhode, Mrs. Fred Redeker, Mrs. Hermine Thake, Mrs. Henry Linnemann, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thake, Martin Thake, Louis Thake and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Thake.

Funeral services are being held this Thursday afternoon, January 11, at 2:00 p. m. at Karstens Funeral Home, and at 2:30 p. m. at Elk Grove Ev. Lutheran church. Interment Elk Grove Lutheran.

IN MEMORIAM

In fond memory of our dear son and brother, Staff Sergeant Herman Heide who gave his life in North Africa two years ago January 6, 1943.

Dear Herman, you are not forgotten,
Tho on earth you are no more,
Still in memory you are with us,
As you always were before.
Two years ago you left us,
And our hearts were filled with pain,
But in heaven's domain
In time to come, we know,
We shall meet again.
No one knows how we miss you,
No one knows the bitter pain
We have suffered since we lost you,
Life has never been the same.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweeter, tender, forged and true,
There is not a day, Dear Herman,
That we do not think of you.

Those who loved you,
Your Parents and Sisters.

CARD OF THANKS

With deepest gratitude we express our heartfelt thanks for the kind acts of sympathy expressed by thoughtful relatives, neighbors and friends. These kindnesses have meant much to us.

Appendicitis

by C. W. LUSSMAN of Sieburg Pharmacy

If you believe you have any symptoms of appendicitis, the safe and sane thing to do is to consult your physician.

He may find the cause of the pain, ache or disturbance to be a minor ailment, and treat it accordingly. Or he may find appendicitis present. In either event, your having consulted him is a wise move.

It is, of course, a wise move whenever persistent pain of any nature is present. Self-medication is not to be recommended except in the simplest cases, since the doctor is the only one qualified to correctly diagnose any upset.

Should drugs be needed, ask your doctor to recommend a good druggist.

Farm land

With careful search, some good farms can still be bought at fair prices despite higher land values, says the Farm Security Administration; in reporting that 3,369 farm purchases made during the last fiscal year, under the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, were based on its policy of holding the line against land inflation.

But with farm land values in many areas approaching boom levels, tenant purchase loan applicants, who must find for themselves the farms they wish to purchase, experienced more difficulty last year in locating farms that measured up to FSA standards and could be bought at prices FSA would approve.

Although average land values increased 15 per cent during the last fiscal year, farm purchases financed by FST averaged no more per acre than the farms bought in previous years. They were financed on the basis of the productivity, and quality was not sacrificed. The average purchase price per farm last year was $4,252, compared with $4,354 the year before when 5,144 farms were bought. During the first five years of operation of the Tenant Purchase Program, which began in 1937, farms of similar quality were purchased at an average price of $4,033.

Dollar bills

Four out of five of thousands of Americans planning to travel to foreign countries after the war will do so by steamship rather than by airline, according to a survey by Ships magazine . . . Dollar bills will now be contributed to the scrap drive by the U. S. Treasury, which is abandoning its traditional practice of burning worn and mutilated currency, bonds and stamps, in favor of chewing up this old paper in machines. It's estimated that five tons of high-grade pulp daily will be made available. . . . An average of 4,500 cars of coal a day are hauled by the New York Central railroad to feed industries, docks and coal dealers along its 11,000-mile right of way.

G. I. plans

Seven per cent of the men now in the army have definite plans for operating a business and five per cent plan on farms, according to a survey conducted among troops in the United States and overseas by the Information and Education Division, Army service Forces. For the most part they are interested primarily in relatively small enterprises, with half of these having definite plans saying that they will invest $4,000 or less.

Way back when

FORTY—THIRTY—TWENTY—TEN YEARS AGO

40 YEARS AGO—JAN. 13, 1905

Palatine

Miss Pearl M. Clarke and George M. Kuebler were united in marriage at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Geiger. The happy couple took a short wedding trip.

Tom Hart entertained a few guests Saturday evening.

Bensenville

Dr. and Mrs. Marquardt were pleasantly surprised Sunday afternoon and evening by a number of friends who came to celebrate his birthday.

Henry Theiman celebrated his birthday January 10.

Arlington Heights

Miss Hulda Lorenzen has given up her position in Chicago and is staying at home until she finds another job.

George Miller is able to be out again after having his tonsils out.

Roselle

Mr. Beisner celebrated his seventieth birthday New Year's day.

Vegetables

New aluminum pressure canners will be appearing in retail markets during the coming winter and spring months. Housewives who will need this equipment for their 1945 home canning will do well to keep an eye out for these canners as small supplies are delivered to their local stores.

Last fall the War Production Board allowed manufacturers enough aluminum to make 630,000 pressure canners between October '44 and July '45. Most manufacturers are making two familiar sizes—the small size holding 7 quart jars, and the large size holding 14 quart jars. All of the new canners are cast aluminum, streamlined, and most have smooth wooden handles. Each is equipped not only with a rack to hold jars in canning but also with inset pans—two half pans and one full pan—to use for cooking different foods. This gives the new canners year-round usefulness in the kitchen.

On the fresh food markets during the present week, the War Food Administration reports that apples and citrus fruits are holding down the fort at the fruit counters. Apples are one of the fresh foods on the WFA's list of foods in liberal supply for January. Grapefruit and small size oranges are among the better buys in citrus. There are adequate supplies of tangerines, and while lemons are still in light supply, shipments from California are increasing right along.

It will take careful planning to keep vegetable servings economical right now, as prices of several items are at rather a high level. Fairly good supplies of greens are available, such as mustard, spinach, collards, turnip tops, and escarole, and these are all rather moderate in price although not available at all markets. Head lettuce from the West remains at or near ceiling, but celery is edging lower in price as the result of heavy supplies. Canadian rutabagas provide one of the economy level buys. Winter squash also deserves more attention from homemakers, especially those on limited budgets, then it has been receiving. Carrots and cabbage are offered at prices within reach of the average homemaker's budget, particularly the carrots which are in liberal supply.

More scotch

THINGS TO COME — Safety lights for the sides of automobiles to relieve night driving of some of its hazards . . . A new glass, developed by the American Optical company, which successfully resists exposure to hydrofluoric acid. Potential uses are in fabrication of test tubes, beakers, bottles; lenses for safety goggles and helmets . . . An extremely tight bituminous coal situation by April 1, 1945, according to the Solid Fuels Administration, Washington . . . Renewed supplies of Scotch whiskey. The first to be distilled since 1940 was poured into casks at Stonehaven, England, this month.

Vitamin in Cabbage

Cabbage provides a goodly amount of vitamin C and deserves a place in menu plans, especially now when some other leafy varieties are short in supply. It can be served as a hot vegetable or the raw cabbage can be made into salads. The fact that it combines well with meats, seafood and many other vegetables makes it easy to adapt to menu plans.

30 YEARS AGO—JAN. 8, 1915

Bensenville

A number of friends surprised Mr. Wm. Senf New Year's Eve in honor of his birthday.

Arlington Heights

The marriage of Miss Nellie Foster to Edw. A. McElhose took place at 5 o'clock Wednesday evening, December 30, at the home of the bride's parents, Dakota, Ill.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Meyer a daughter January 2.

Martin Busse and family entertained about fifty guests in honor of their daughter, Miss Gertie Busse's 16th birthday Saturday evening January 2.

Palatine

Vera Goswiller entertained a number of her friends Saturday evening.

Chas. Nason was host to the older crowd at a sleighing party Friday night.

Modoc club had a watch party for New Years at Thera Brodhays last Thursday night.

Itasca

Mrs. H. H. Franzen entertained a party of relatives Sunday in honor of her birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Chessman and daughter Dorothy spent New Years at the home of the former's parents, it being Mrs. A. G. Chessman's 79th birthday.

20 YEARS AGO—JAN. 9, 1925

Bensenville

Mr. Rudolph Powles and Miss Nellie Stranschild were quietly married January 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Strelkopf entertained many friends with a watch party New Years Eve.

Wheeling

Twenty-four little friends helped Allen Wick celebrate his birthday on the afternoon of Dec. 30.

Friends of Mrs. J. Hoffman were pleasantly surprised to hear of her marriage to Mr. Wm. Joslin of Chicago on New Year's Eve.

Arlington Heights

The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Bouffard in S. Arlington road was the scene of a gay party New Year's Eve. A group of 18 or 20 guests gathered at his home to surprise him. Games and genial converse made the hours of the old year pass on swift wings.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Roth entertained the Presbyterian choir and friends to a sleighride followed by a watch meeting in their home New Year's Eve.

The group of young men who have long constituted a jolly card club met with Howard Helm Tuesday night.

Roselle

A pretty wedding took place at Rodenberg church Sunday afternoon when Miss Martha Luersen became the bride of Arthur Leseburg of Palatine. Reception was held at the bride's parents. They will make their future home in Arlington Heights.

A. H. Weber, Fred Mensching, Wm. Lichthardt and Albert Juhnke with their wives joined a real estate excursion and left Chicago by special train Saturday for New Orleans, Houston, Galveston, Brownsville and other points.

Winterkilling Grains

An important factor in winterkilling with fall-sown grains is the amount of snow cover during periods of extreme cold. If the fields are well covered with snow during the greater part of the winter there is less winterkilling.

They get 'em clean too

Laundry flies to men on 'inaccessible' fronts

Now the Army's flying laundry can be added to the list of dramatic and unusual wartime inventions and developments. The airborne laundry makes it possible to take the plant to the bundle where the bundle cannot be taken to the laundry. This applies particularly to troops stationed in remote outposts thousands of miles distant from fixed laundry facilities.

Recently developed by the Quartermaster Corps and the Office of the Air Quartermaster in collaboration with professional laundry equipment manufacturers, the new laundry unit is designed to be flown in C-47 cargo planes to places inaccesible by boat or truck. The benefits will be felt particularly by soldiers and marines engaged in island hopping in the west areas of the South Pacific. These troops will no longer have to scrub their clothes in open streams or rely on the primitive and dubious methods of natives, for the new laundry will "hop" along with the armed forces to the next island.

Realizing GI's need for sanitary laundry service in distant outposts, the War Department found the answer in the compact and sturdy unit which is yet light enough to be transported by plane. Weighing only 2,500 pounds and assembled on two skids, the airborne laundry produces 40 pounds of washed and dried clothes an hour, or adequate service for 600 men weekly. It can operate under field conditions away from normal supply bases, requiring only water, gasoline, and oil for the operation of the equipment. Using standard professional laundry supplies, the air-borne unit is a simplified, small-scale plant operating according to U. S. laundry methods.

Because clean clothes are necessary to the health, efficiency, and morale of our fighting men, airborne laundries are now in mass production, and soon many hundreds will be winging their way to outposts in the four corners of the world. Flying along with our advancing troops, the airborne laundries may someday land on Hirohito's homeland.

TODAY

The present moment is all we can call our own for works of mercy, of righteous dealing, and of family tenderness.

—George Eliot.

It is better to be doing the most insignificant thing than to reckon even a half-hour insignificant.

—Goethe.

—Emerson.

—Mary Baker Eddy.

Palatine girl given scholarship

Doris J. Holsman, Palatine, has been awarded one of the Laverne Noyes scholarships at the University of Illinois. The scholarships were provided by the will of the man whose name they bear, and are open to veterans of World War I and their descendants. They are awarded on a basis of financial need and scholarship ability.

They are among many special scholarships set up at the University of Illinois by various organizations and individuals who provide funds for the awards either directly or through the income of trusts.

Besides the special scholarships, more than 2,000 free-tuition scholarships in the university are available, set up by action of the state legislature and the university board of trustees. Most of these are awarded by annual examination.

Swine Abortion Infectious

Swine are not susceptible to cattle abortion, but cattle may contract the swine type of the disease, warns the department of animal pathology and hygiene, University of Illinois college of agriculture. Every safeguard should be employed to prevent the disease from being spread to cattle. Pregnant cows should not be allowed in lots with aborting sows.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 7.

The Golden Text was, "Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else" (Isa. 45: 22).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Then Paul stood in the midst of Mars' hill and said, Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious . . . God that made the world and all things that are therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; Neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things" (Acts 17: 22, 24, 25).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "To grasp the reality and order of being in its Science, you must begin by reckoning God as the divine Principle of all that really is . . . God is incorporeal, divine, supreme, infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love . . . The attributes of God are justice, mercy, wisdom, goodness, and so on . . . Principle and its idea is one, and this one is God, omnipotent, omniscient, and omnipresent Being, and His reflection is man and the universe. Omni is adopted from the Latin adjective signifying all. Hence God combines all-power or potency, all-science or true knowledge, all-presence" (pp. 275, 465).

Bishop to visit Arlington church

Bishop J. Ralph Magee, resident bishop of the Chicago Area will visit the Arlington Heights Methodist church January 28 at 7:30 p. m. Bishop Magee has been singled out as the outstanding leader of Methodism in that he is chairman of the "Crusade for Christ" movement which embodies all of the efforts of the 8 million Methodists in the United States. The program is to be of four year duration and promises to be the most forward looking movement ever launched by a Protestant body in the United States.

The Bishop is noted for his excellence as a preacher and throughout his life has considered himself a pastor. He will bring a message that will quicken the spiritual pulse of all who hear hm. Jack Everett, director of music at the church promises to have some special choir music and is planning on having some outstanding vocal and instrumental solos.

The service is open to the public.

Loses Riboflavin

When milk was exposed to direct sunlight in recent tests, it lost almost half of its riboflavin in an hour, and three-fourths in three hours. These tests show that milk should be put in a cool, dark place as soon as it is delivered. Milk and meat are depended on by many to furnish them with a large part of their riboflavin. This important vitamin is also found in green, leafy vegetables, whole cereal grains, liver, eggs and yeast.

Ship Weight

The weight of the water a ship displaces is the weight of the ship because every floating body sinks until it replaces exactly its own weight of water.

They get 'em clean too

Laundry flies to men on 'inaccessible' fronts

Now the Army's flying laundry can be added to the list of dramatic and unusual wartime inventions and developments. The airborne laundry makes it possible to take the plant to the bundle where the bundle cannot be taken to the laundry. This applies particularly to troops stationed in remote outposts thousands of miles distant from fixed laundry facilities.

Recently developed by the Quartermaster Corps and the Office of the Air Quartermaster in collaboration with professional laundry equipment manufacturers, the new laundry unit is designed to be flown in C-47 cargo planes to places inaccessible by boat or truck. The benefits will be felt particularly by soldiers and marines engaged in island hopping in the west areas of the South Pacific. These troops will no longer have to scrub their clothes in open streams or rely on the primitive and dubious methods of natives, for the new laundry will "hop" along with the armed forces to the next island.

Realizing GI's need for sanitary laundry service in distant outposts, the War Department found the answer in the compact and sturdy unit which is yet light enough to be transported by plane. Weighing only 2,500 pounds and assembled on two skids, the airborne laundry produces 40 pounds of washed and dried clothes an hour, or adequate service for 600 men weekly. It can operate under field conditions away from normal supply bases, requiring only water, gasoline, and oil for the operation of the equipment. Using standard professional laundry supplies, the air-borne unit is a simplified, small-scale plant operating according to U. S. laundry methods.

Because clean clothes are necessary to the health, efficiency, and morale of our fighting men, airborne laundries are now in mass production, and soon many hundreds will be winging their way to outposts in the four corners of the world. Flying along with our advancing troops, the airborne laundries may someday land on Hirohito's homeland.

TODAY

The present moment is all we can call our own for works of mercy, of righteous dealing, and of family tenderness.

—George Eliot.

It is better to be doing the most insignificant thing than to reckon even a half-hour insignificant.

—Goethe.

—Emerson.

—Mary Baker Eddy.

Build today, then, strong and sure,
With a firm and ample base;
And ascending and secure
Shall tomorrow find its place.

Palatine girl given scholarship

Doris J. Holsman, Palatine, has been awarded one of the Laverne Noyes scholarships at the University of Illinois. The scholarships were provided by the will of the man whose name they bear, and are open to veterans of World War I and their descendants. They are awarded on a basis of financial need and scholarship ability.

They are among many special scholarships set up at the University of Illinois by various organizations and individuals who provide funds for the awards either directly or through the income of trusts.

Besides the special scholarships, more than 2,000 free-tuition scholarships in the university are available, set up by action of the state legislature and the university board of trustees. Most of these are awarded by annual examination.

Swine Abortion Infectious

Swine are not susceptible to cattle abortion, but cattle may contract the swine type of the disease, warns the department of animal pathology and hygiene, University of Illinois college of agriculture. Every safeguard should be employed to prevent the disease from being spread to cattle. Pregnant cows should not be allowed in lots with aborting sows.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 7.

The Golden Text was, "Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else" (Isa. 45: 22).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Then Paul stood in the midst of Mars' hill and said, Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious . . . God that made the world and all things that are therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; Neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things" (Acts 17: 22, 24, 25).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "To grasp the reality and order of being in its Science, you must begin by reckoning God as the divine Principle of all that really is . . . God is incorporeal, divine, supreme, infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love . . . The attributes of God are justice, mercy, wisdom, goodness, and so on . . . Principle and its idea is one, and this one is God, omnipotent, omniscient, and omnipresent Being, and His reflection is man and the universe. Omni is adopted from the Latin adjective signifying all. Hence God combines all-power or potency, all-science or true knowledge, all-presence" (pp. 275, 465).

Bishop to visit Arlington church

Bishop J. Ralph Magee, resident bishop of the Chicago Area will visit the Arlington Heights Methodist church January 28 at 7:30 p. m. Bishop Magee has been singled out as the outstanding leader of Methodism in that he is chairman of the "Crusade for Christ" movement which embodies all of the efforts of the 8 million Methodists in the United States. The program is to be of four year duration and promises to be the most forward looking movement ever launched by a Protestant body in the United States.

The Bishop is noted for his excellence as a preacher and throughout his life has considered himself a pastor. He will bring a message that will quicken the spiritual pulse of all who hear hm. Jack Everett, director of music at the church promises to have some special choir music and is planning on having some outstanding vocal and instrumental solos.

The service is open to the public.

Loses Riboflavin

When milk was exposed to direct sunlight in recent tests, it lost almost half of its riboflavin in an hour, and three-fourths in three hours. These tests show that milk should be put in a cool, dark place as soon as it is delivered. Milk and meat are depended on by many to furnish them with a large part of their riboflavin. This important vitamin is also found in green, leafy vegetables, whole cereal grains, liver, eggs and yeast.

Margaret Harris is bride of Lt. Beckman

Miss Margaret Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Harris, Arlington Heights, became the bride of 2nd Lt. Wm. C. Beckman, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Beckman, Arlington Heights Saturday evening, January 6, in the Presbyterian church, Arlington, Virginia. Rev. Steenson officiated at the impressive double ring ceremony.

The bride, lovely in a white wool dress, princess style, small feathered hat and long white gloves, carried a small white prayer book and an orchid. The bride's aunt, Miss Ruth Rexses, Des Plaines, as maid of honor, was dressed in pale green. Miss Mary Lou Rexses, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid and looked charming in a powder blue dress. The girls wore small feathered hats and long gloves to match their costumes, with corsages of white gardenias.

Lt. Carl Benton, Birmingham, Ala., acted as best man.

A dinner was served at the Carlton Hotel, Washington, for the bridal party and the mothers of the bride and groom. This was followed by a reception for about sixty guests.

The young couple will make their home at 1700 N. Taylor st., Arlington, Virginia.

Schubel is a member of a crew of a B-29, receiving his training at McCook, Nebr. He is probably enjoying his last furlough before leaving this country.

Besides Sgt. and Mrs. Schubel, the other guests Sunday were Mrs. Helen Gaug, Mrs. Anna Gaug and Mrs. Marge Voss, all of Mundelein, which is the home of the Schubels.

Christened

Donna Lee Sears, infant daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Delbert Sears, was christened Sunday morning at the St. Paul Lutheran church. After church service a family gathering was held at the home of Mr. Otto Adam in Arlington Heights.

Little Flower club enjoy party at Goedke home

Mrs. Albert Goedke, 202 W. Wing st., Arlington Heights, entertained the Little Flower Club at their annual Christmas party in her home Thursday evening.

Christmas gifts were exchanged by the members. The evening was spent playing five hundred, prizes being awarded to Mrs. M. Saar, Mrs. Betty Wagner and Mrs. Peppes.

Mrs. Donald Goedke will be hostess to the Little Flower Club February 1.

OES notes

Thursday evening, January 11, a stated meeting will be held followed by a complimentary card party for members, who are urged to attend as the chapter is putting forth special effort to entertain its members.

Saturday evening, January 6 the officers and their escorts journeyed to the home of the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Ernest Wolf, and surprised her in honor of her birthday. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed at cards with choice refreshments and prizes. The Worthy Matron received a gift of money in memory of the happy occasion.

First graders birthday party

Gloria Stephan, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. L. V. Stephan, invited the little girls in her first grade room to assist in the celebration of her seventh birthday Friday afternoon after school.

The party was given in the home of her parents and the afternoon spent playing games and singing songs.

The favorites in refreshments, ice cream and a birthday cake, were served to the fourteen little guests who wish her many more happy birthdays.

No increase in food stocks as war needs rise

Civilians can expect no increase in food supplies so long as the war in Europe lasts, at least, and some items such as butter, poultry, pork and bacon will become increasingly short in the next few months, the nation's leading food distributor said today.

In its monthly outlook for January, the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company said reports from more than 140 field buying offices throughout the country indicated the constantly expanding demands of the military and lend lease would further deplete the nation's lightly stocked food basket.

It predicted beef supplies would be extremely short, although the quality will be improved; less pork than last month despite heavier slaughtering, all of which is earmarked for the military and lend lease; less veal and lamb than in December and extremely short supplies of ham, bacon and pork.

Much shorter supplies of butter were forecast but a slight improvement in cheese was predicted, the poultry outlook was described as "dismal" and fish production as uneven but in fair supply.

The fresh fruit and vegetable supply will be curtailed in January as winter plantings have decreased 10 per cent over 1944 and production is expected to decline 16 per cent. Added to this is the heavy mid-December frost which struck Florida and Texas, two heavy winter producing states.

Two bright spots are eggs, which are coming into record production, and sundries such as jellies, peanut butter and macaroni, substitutes for scarce butter and other foods, and spices, particularly black pepper, long a war casualty.

American Legion

A regular meeting of Merle Guild Post No. 208 was held at the Legion Home Janary 9 with several Legionnaires present.

Commander Young announced that a surprise smoker would be held January 23 and requested a good turnout for that event, at which time he has a surprise for all who attend.

There is some talk about a joint meeting in the near future with the Auxiliary Unit as our guests and that will be a pleasant evening too. The Auxiliary members have been faithful in their rehabilitation and service work, during the holidays especially, and are to be commended for their untiring efforts in that program.

Comrades Engelking and Schoener are doing a commendable job on the same program for the Legion and through their efforts many Legionnaires have been benefitted.

Membership Chairman Beck reports 128 paid up members now enrolled in our post and this is the highest membership which the post has enjoyed since the date of charter.

Sunday afternoon, Jan. 14, at 2 p. m. the Legion basketball team will play the Navy team from Abbott Hall and this will be a fast and interesting team. Those who saw the game January 10 between the Douglas Flyers and the Legion team were thrilled by the many close plays and the fine sportsmanship exhibited by both teams.

Remember the next meeting January 23—something special—bring your Legion friends and any prospective members.

Presbyterian ladies hear lecture on Mexico

The Women's organizations of the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church held a joint meeting in the church parlors Tuesday afternoon, January 9, at two o'clock.

A dessert luncheon was served by Mrs. J. C. Jones and her committee.

Mrs. Victor Beisler played "Ava Maria" on her violin, after which Rev. McCoy led in prayer.

Mrs. McWharter then introduced the speaker, Rev. J. C. McLaughlin, world traveler, who gave an illustrated lecture on our neighbor, Mexico. The beautiful pictures and Mr. McLaughlin's witty presentation was enthusiastically received by those present.

25 turn out for Red Cross

New Year's resolutions surely showed results at the Thursday group of the Red Cross last week. Twenty-five women turned out in spite of the sub-zero weather and rolled several hundred bandages.

They realize that bandages are as important as bullets, and this is their chance to do their part. The Field House is open Monday evenings from 7 p. m. to 10 p. m., Thursday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., Thursday evening from 7 p. m. to 10 p. m.

The Thursday day group serves coffee and dessert at noon. So pack your sandwiches, pick up your neighbor and join us for any length of time. No time is too short, no effort too small. If you haven't made that New Year's resolution—Do. it now!

Holiday setting marks wedding at St. James

John J. Logan USNR, son of Mrs. Wm. J. Logan of Cleveland, O., and Harriett Bristow Hull, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hull of Arlington Heights, took their sacred marriage vows Saturday morning, December 30, at ten o'clock at the foot of the High Altar in the Sanctuary of St. James church, in Arlington Heights. The Rev. Pastor, Father George Stier, administered the sacrament of marriage.

The marriage ritual was immediately followed by the celebration of the nuptial high mass and nuptial blessing from "The Roman Missal" mass for the bridegroom and bride. The church was beautiful in all its Christmas glory, a lovely setting for a holiday wedding. The lovely voice of the soloist, Miss Mary Ann Eiler of Arlington Heights, who sang Gounod's "Ava Maria" and the sweet lyric voices of the St. James school children's choir, who sang the nuptial mass, contributed greatly to the beauty and sacredness of the ceremony.

The bride was attired in a white lace wedding gown, finger tip veil of tulle caught with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and sweet peas. Her necklace and locket of gold were an heirloom, a traditional piece of jewelry worn by many successive generations of brides in the Wm. Logan family.

She was attended by her sisters, Miss Margaret as maid of honor, and Miss Betty Jean as junior bridesmaid. They wore dresses alike of deep red transparent velvet, deep pink carnations in their hair and carried bouquets of deep pink carnations.

Mr. Joseph Holliday of Cleveland, Ohio, served the groom as best man. Mr. Raymond Logan, brother of the groom, and Mr. Ralph H. Hull, Jr., brother of the bride, served as ushers.

A wedding breakfast was served in the St. James hall to the bridal party and the immediate families.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Wm. Logan, Miss Catherine Logan, Messrs. Wm. and Raymond Logan, Joseph Holliday of Cleveland, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Noonan, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Bristow and daughter Lucile, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Early of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Byrne and daughter Wynne of Park Ridge and Rev. J. Dunne from Techny.

After a short wedding trip in the east Mr. and Mrs. John J. Logan will make their home at 4717 Colonial ave., Norfolk, Va.

Presbyterian ladies hear lecture on Mexico

The Women's organizations of the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church held a joint meeting in the church parlors Tuesday afternoon, January 9, at two o'clock.

A dessert luncheon was served by Mrs. J. C. Jones and her committee.

Mrs. Victor Beisler played "Ava Maria" on her violin, after which Rev. McCoy led in prayer.

Mrs. McWharter then introduced the speaker, Rev. J. C. McLaughlin, world traveler, who gave an illustrated lecture on our neighbor, Mexico. The beautiful pictures and Mr. McLaughlin's witty presentation was enthusiastically received by those present.

25 turn out for Red Cross

New Year's resolutions surely showed results at the Thursday group of the Red Cross last week. Twenty-five women turned out in spite of the sub-zero weather and rolled several hundred bandages.

They realize that bandages are as important as bullets, and this is their chance to do their part. The Field House is open Monday evenings from 7 p. m. to 10 p. m., Thursday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., Thursday evening from 7 p. m. to 10 p. m.

The Thursday day group serves coffee and dessert at noon. So pack your sandwiches, pick up your neighbor and join us for any length of time. No time is too short, no effort too small. If you haven't made that New Year's resolution—Do. it now!

American Legion

A regular meeting of Merle Guild Post No. 208 was held at the Legion Home Janary 9 with several Legionnaires present.

Commander Young announced that a surprise smoker would be held January 23 and requested a good turnout for that event, at which time he has a surprise for all who attend.

There is some talk about a joint meeting in the near future with the Auxiliary Unit as our guests and that will be a pleasant evening too. The Auxiliary members have been faithful in their rehabilitation and service work, during the holidays especially, and are to be commended for their untiring efforts in that program.

Comrades Engelking and Schoener are doing a commendable job on the same program for the Legion and through their efforts many Legionnaires have been benefitted.

Membership Chairman Beck reports 128 paid up members now enrolled in our post and this is the highest membership which the post has enjoyed since the date of charter.

Sunday afternoon, Jan. 14, at 2 p. m. the Legion basketball team will play the Navy team from Abbott Hall and this will be a fast and interesting team. Those who saw the game January 10 between the Douglas Flyers and the Legion team were thrilled by the many close plays and the fine sportsmanship exhibited by both teams.

Remember the next meeting January 23—something special—bring your Legion friends and any prospective members.

Holiday setting marks wedding at St. James

John J. Logan USNR, son of Mrs. Wm. J. Logan of Cleveland, O., and Harriett Bristow Hull, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hull of Arlington Heights, took their sacred marriage vows Saturday morning, December 30, at ten o'clock at the foot of the High Altar in the Sanctuary of St. James church, in Arlington Heights. The Rev. Pastor, Father George Stier, administered the sacrament of marriage.

The marriage ritual was immediately followed by the celebration of the nuptial high mass and nuptial blessing from "The Roman Missal" mass for the bridegroom and bride. The church was beautiful in all its Christmas glory, a lovely setting for a holiday wedding. The lovely voice of the soloist, Miss Mary Ann Eiler of Arlington Heights, who sang Gounod's "Ava Maria" and the sweet lyric voices of the St. James school children's choir, who sang the nuptial mass, contributed greatly to the beauty and sacredness of the ceremony.

The bride was attired in a white lace wedding gown, finger tip veil of tulle caught with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and sweet peas. Her necklace and locket of gold were an heirloom, a traditional piece of jewelry worn by many successive generations of brides in the Wm. Logan family.

She was attended by her sisters, Miss Margaret as maid of honor, and Miss Betty Jean as junior bridesmaid. They wore dresses alike of deep red transparent velvet, deep pink carnations in their hair and carried bouquets of deep pink carnations.

Mr. Joseph Holliday of Cleveland, Ohio, served the groom as best man. Mr. Raymond Logan, brother of the groom, and Mr. Ralph H. Hull, Jr., brother of the bride, served as ushers.

A wedding breakfast was served in the St. James hall to the bridal party and the immediate families.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Wm. Logan, Miss Catherine Logan, Messrs. Wm. and Raymond Logan, Joseph Holliday of Cleveland, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Noonan, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Bristow and daughter Lucile, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Early of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Byrne and daughter Wynne of Park Ridge and Rev. J. Dunne from Techny.

After a short wedding trip in the east Mr. and Mrs. John J. Logan will make their home at 4717 Colonial ave., Norfolk, Va.

Arlington local news

Rev. and Mrs. O. C. Taege visited last week, Wednesday, their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Richard Taege, who is receiving surgical treatment in the Swedish Memorial hospital.

Miss M. C. Telfar and brother, James, came from Kenosha, Dec. 30 to visit H. F. Muller and other members of the Muller family. Mr. Telfar is on leave from his location in the east.

Mrs. Paul P. Immel entertained thirty-seven Chicago women Thursday afternoon at a meeting of "Our Lady of Victory Council" of the Ladies of Isabelle No. 27. Following the meeting the group played cards and choice refreshments were served by the hostess.

Dolly Hauer, Moline, Ill., is a house guest at the Harry Levine home, 709 S. Highland ave.

Must safeguard all war bonds

"Bye-Bye Bonds" is becoming an ever increasing plaint of burglarly victims since the inception of the Treasury policy which permits redemption of war bonds on an over-the-counter basis at any bank. The professional burglar and thief has been quick to discover that with the stealing of some identification, a few hours practice on simulating the signature readily turns the stolen bonds into cash. It is the belief of this department that if the public in general was aware of the general trend, they would use more care in protecting their bonds around the home. Too often today, they are simply stored in a dresser drawer or in a hallway desk, and very often they are stored with what has proven to be very acceptable means of identification, the family ration books.

It is the patriotic duty of every citizen to buy bonds, but it is also their patriotic duty to safeguard them. Stolen bonds will be almost immediately redeemed by the thief and this thievery results not only in loss to the individual, but it results in loss to the government and to the war effort.

Mrs. E. G. Nagel entertained Mesdames W. Hansen, C. M. Butler, Celland, H. M. Blume, C. M. Peters and C. Granzin in her home last Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. R. Schaefer of Oklahoma City, Okla., who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Lena Fehlman, visited her son Wendell Schaefer at Great Lakes last week, Wednesday.

Mrs. Minnie Schumacher is confined to her home with an injured ankle caused by a fall recently.

Prof. C. A. Hills, Rochelle, visited his aunt, Mrs. J. B. Crofoot, Saturday.

Mrs. Mildred Jelenke, who has spent several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Mors, has returned to her home in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sieburg and grandchildren were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oris Neagle in Palatine.

Mrs. Ida Clelland, Golph, Kans., is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. M. Butler.

Miss Margie Kuhns has returned to her home in the city after spending the holidays with her aunt, Mrs. C. W. Peters, and family.

Mrs. Herbert Rheinshagen of Palatine underwent an operation on January 2 at the Sherman hospital, Elgin. She is recuperating nicely.

Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Kamphenkel entertained the board members and their wives Friday evening.

Mrs. Chas. Lewis, Missouri, who has been visiting Arlington Heights friends during the holidays, will return to Missouri accompanied by Mr. Lewis.

Alice Olsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Olsen, is on the sick list and home from school this week.

District women to meet next week

The club women of the Seventh Congressional District of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs will hold their annual winter meeting at the Irving Park Lutheran church, Belle Plaine and Harding aves. Thursday, January 18, at 10:00 a. m. Mrs. Milton H. G. Meyer, the District President, will preside and Rev. Joshua Oden, the pastor, will give the invocation.

The speaker of the morning will be Mrs. Wm. M. Rennie, President of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, who has chosen as her subject "Unity in Action". Another feature of the morning session will be reports by District Chairmen in the form of a symposium entitled "Progress to Victory" led by Mrs. Carl P. Moyen, First Vice President of the District.

Mrs. H. T. Carlson, organist of the church, will open the afternoon session with a group of organ numbers followed by Mrs. Minerva Sullivan, soloist, with a group of songs. Mrs. Geo. A. Harriman, District Program Chairman, will present the speaker of the afternoon.

By the Arlington Heights Health Center affiliated with the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County.

"Don't get your feet wet!" "Stay out of drafts!" "Better put your heavy coat on!" These and similar warnings we hear from family and friends, while they may be sometimes resented as annoyances, can result in avoidance of colds and even more serious ailments if heeded.

It has been said that one of man's worst enemies is himself. Indifference, carelessness and the "can't be bothered" attitude cause more sickness than can be possibly calculated. Plain common sense is one of the greatest single factors in the preservation of good health.

True, you can't always avoid wet feet, or drafts, or you may be caught away from home by a sudden drop in temperature. But so many times these conditions can be avoided by just a little planning ahead.

Keep an umbrella or raincoat handy, and carry one or the other when stormy weather threatens. If you are fortunate enough to have or can get some rubbers or overshoes during the wartime shortage, wear them when it's sloppy underfoot.

Don't be alarmed if someone in a stuffy room opens the window to air the place out for a moment, but if you find yourself sitting in a draft for longer than a moment don't be hesitant about moving. Don't think yourself a "sissy" or feel that you may be inconveniencing your host. You're simply being wise, and you'll be respected for it.

Don't try to be a Spartan and brave wintry winds without proper clothing. There was a day when this was considered "smart", but now it may be classed merely as exhibitionism. "Smart" people today take care of themselves intelligently, knowing that it is showing consideration not only to themselves but also to their families and employers.

Dr. and Mrs. George Dillard, Draper, N. Carolina, were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hanauer.

The many friends of Mrs. Chas. Stadelman are glad to know that she is recuperating nicely after her recent appendectomy operation in the St. Francis hospital on January 4th.

Dinner guests at the J. W. Boeckh home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Wons and daughter, Mrs. W. G. Franke, Mrs. B. Grunde and children of Chicago, Dr. and Mrs. Herman Carr and Nancy.

Fourteen girls of the traffic department of the Telephone office had a sleighing party Saturday evening after which refreshments were enjoyed.

FASHIONS

Just Around the Corner

Dear Mary:

Now that you have agreed to "answer me back" I'll have to watch what might be called (leaning toward the kindly side) rash statements and generalities, brush up on my grammar and try not to let my typewriter run away with too many galleys. There's always so much I want to tell and ask you.

Your book list made us envious. We have resolved to add books to our sadly neglected library this year and to take advantage of our excellent village one oftener. Your "World's Great Plays" caused me sorrow in the lonely corner dad's death left. It was the Goethe, I guess.

The resolution is a serious one. Yesterday I brought home "They Were Expendable", "On Being a Real Person" and "You, Your Children and the War" and am half way through the first. Don't laugh at me, Mary; I'm always sixty years behind the average adult reader. The truth is something like you said the other evening about bags under your eyes from reading. I don't DARE bring books home too frequently. They drug me. I get nothing done, and I can't stay up late. I'm taking liver extract now. But I'm going to have myself a little orgy this week and let the bags appear.

I missed Edith Lovejoy Pierce's review in the Daily News. From the little snatch you sent me of it I should say that her prose like her poery possesses the same qualities that have always made Emily Dickinson so without peer for me. To be able to use not just a suitable word but the ONLY word for the expression of a thought and to have it be also beautiful seems to me the essence of literary genius. I hope you will call my attention to any of her writings you notice I miss so many wonderful things, and I think you have a talent for seeing and pointing out to your friends books and pictures and poems and jokes peculariarly of interest to each one.

Young Ken's flute is a real musical instrument but not a real flute. He loves blowing on it, though he is definitely not musical. The John Kents' Christopher would have had us all jitterbugging five minutes after he put it to his lips. We had New Year's eve dinner there and Chris performed creditably on his trumpet. He's only had four lessons.

Mary, do you know the Mrs. Dearie who has the little antique shop in Glenview? They live in Stonegate. Their boy, Wilbe, was shipped again New Year's Day. With one son killed in action they are having hard work keeping their chins up. I think one must have unshakable faith in eternal and ultimate goodness to bear the thought of all the useless, wasteful carnage this new German drive has continued—even when it holds no close personal tragedies for him.

I wish it were possible to copy Mrs. Parker's old cook book from cover to cover. I keep coming across recipes and remedies and humorous little sallies I want to own. I know you will enjoy the following bit of coy and sensible deception:

"Now about ironing. If your husband's night shirt is smoothed in front and folded artistically who is to know whether the back has been ironed or not. I'll venture to say that he will not, unless you tell him." and

"It is not absolutely necessary to iron skirts, except for 12 to 15 inches above the bottom."

The authoress, a homespun philosopher, adds: "Bear in mind these are hints to those who need them. But there is enough in life that has to be done without vexing our souls and wearing out our bodies over work that is not essential either to the happiness or well-being of our fellows." This last reminded me of an acquaintance of mine who had maintained an elaborate home on the North Shore for years and faced, she said, "With utter relief and complete equanimity the prospect of packing away for the duration her formal linen and china and silver" and doing for herself and her small family the things that really needed to be done.

John McGovern's "An Old Citizen to a Young Wife" is an amusing few pages spicily written and skeptical, especially in regard to grocers and butchers.

"Butter", he writes, "since the introduction of grease into its manufacture has become a problem. You cannot be sure that you are getting what you pay for except during June. In June, butter is grass—sweet and can not be mistaken. If your grocer has butter at twenty, twenty-three and twenty-eight cents, pay him twenty-eight cents. When it comes June, observe whether or not the first-class butter is grass-sweet. If not, your grocer is a rascal and you must make a change at all hazards. If the grocer is honest, he buys honestly. His best butter will have little or no grease in it. I am inclined to think this grease brings on the fearful winter cholera which has made its appearance simultaneously with the invention of oleomargarine . . . . Good butter is the cheapest for all purposes principally on account of your health." It's a far cry, Mary, from the animal-fat grease that margarine used to be to the fortified vegetable spread of today—as far as twenty-eight cents from fifty and two ration points from twenty-four. Mr. McGovern would have been interested in the heated arguments taking place between the Dairy Industry and countless housewives as to the coloring of margarine. Fortune magazine recently discussed this question. There I go—I really meant to include some recipes and here I am off on butter and you will be exhausted reading all this.

I haven't seen Ann Morrissey since New Year's Eve and have talked to Gladys only over the telephone. We seem to be stay-at-homes each year until after our last birthday the middle of January. And with the boss of the house still covered with chickenpox I have been somewhat confined. You know, though, I really like it—to stay at home, I mean.

I hope this lengthy epistle doesn't frighten you away.

With love,

Elly.

Churchill, Stalin, Eden to meet at Northwestern

Churchill, Stalin and Eden will meet at Northwestern University, but without President Roosevelt, sometime during the next few weeks.

Not the world-famous statesmen of course. But coeds bearing these names who have just registered at the university for the second quarter now beginning.

Other students with famous names who will be meeting on campus paths are Patton, Stilwell and Dewey, not to mention Goering, Hess and three Kaisers!

Among names famous from Hollywood to the African jungles are Virginia Bruce, Frank Buck and Robert Burns. There is no Sinatra to charm the coeds but there is a Crosby, Caruso, Wagner, and Bach.

There's a Love, but also a Loveless. And two Toots and a Yonk, and a Peck and a Wack. Peez, Took, Somers, Sudar sound like baby talk, but they're students, too, as are Luney and Batty.

Students with presidents' names are Hoover, Harding, Wilson, Taft, Harrison, Grant, Jackson, Buchanan, Pierce and Adams. Names that go together are Long and Longest, Stout and Rotunda, Sweet and Low, Winter and Spring, and Black and White. Pick and Look are listed, and a Zoot but no Suit. On the geographical side are London, England, Ireland, Holland, Poland, Spain, Portugal, French and English.

Oh yes, we almost forgot—the Johnsons lead in number with 35, the Andersons are next with 30.

Rev. and Mrs. O. C. Taege visited last week, Wednesday, their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Richard Taege, who is receiving surgical treatment in the Swedish Memorial hospital.

Miss M. C. Telfar and brother, James, came from Kenosha, Dec. 30 to visit H. F. Muller and other members of the Muller family. Mr. Telfar is on leave from his location in the east.

Mrs. Paul P. Immel entertained thirty-seven Chicago women Thursday afternoon at a meeting of "Our Lady of Victory Council" of the Ladies of Isabelle No. 27. Following the meeting the group played cards and choice refreshments were served by the hostess.

Dolly Hauer, Moline, Ill., is a house guest at the Harry Levine home, 709 S. Highland ave.

Must safeguard all war bonds

"Bye-Bye Bonds" is becoming an ever increasing plaint of burglarly victims since the inception of the Treasury policy which permits redemption of war bonds on an over-the-counter basis at any bank. The professional burglar and thief has been quick to discover that with the stealing of some identification, a few hours practice on simulating the signature readily turns the stolen bonds into cash. It is the belief of this department that if the public in general was aware of the general trend, they would use more care in protecting their bonds around the home. Too often today, they are simply stored in a dresser drawer or in a hallway desk, and very often they are stored with what has proven to be very acceptable means of identification, the family ration books.

It is the patriotic duty of every citizen to buy bonds, but it is also their patriotic duty to safeguard them. Stolen bonds will be almost immediately redeemed by the thief and this thievery results not only in loss to the individual, but it results in loss to the government and to the war effort.

Mrs. E. G. Nagel entertained Mesdames W. Hansen, C. M. Butler, Celland, H. M. Blume, C. M. Peters and C. Granzin in her home last Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. R. Schaefer of Oklahoma City, Okla., who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Lena Fehlman, visited her son Wendell Schaefer at Great Lakes last week, Wednesday.

Mrs. Minnie Schumacher is confined to her home with an injured ankle caused by a fall recently.

Prof. C. A. Hills, Rochelle, visited his aunt, Mrs. J. B. Crofoot, Saturday.

Mrs. Mildred Jelenke, who has spent several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Mors, has returned to her home in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sieburg and grandchildren were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oris Neagle in Palatine.

Miss Lydia Hausam has been ill during the holiday season.

Mrs. Ida Clelland, Golph, Kans., is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. M. Butler.

Miss Margie Kuhns has returned to her home in the city after spending the holidays with her aunt, Mrs. C. W. Peters, and family.

Mrs. Herbert Rheinshagen of Palatine underwent an operation on January 2 at the Sherman hospital, Elgin. She is recuperating nicely.

Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Kamphenkel entertained the board members and their wives Friday evening.

Mrs. Chas. Lewis, Missouri, who has been visiting Arlington Heights friends during the holidays, will return to Missouri accompanied by Mr. Lewis.

Alice Olsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Olsen, is on the sick list and home from school this week.

District women to meet next week

The club women of the Seventh Congressional District of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs will hold their annual winter meeting at the Irving Park Lutheran church, Belle Plaine and Harding aves. Thursday, January 18, at 10:00 a. m. Mrs. Milton H. G. Meyer, the District President, will preside and Rev. Joshua Oden, the pastor, will give the invocation.

The speaker of the morning will be Mrs. Wm. M. Rennie, President of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, who has chosen as her subject "Unity in Action". Another feature of the morning session will be reports by District Chairmen in the form of a symposium entitled "Progress to Victory" led by Mrs. Carl P. Moyen, First Vice President of the District.

Mrs. H. T. Carlson, organist of the church, will open the afternoon session with a group of organ numbers followed by Mrs. Minerva Sullivan, soloist, with a group of songs. Mrs. Geo. A. Harriman, District Program Chairman, will present the speaker of the afternoon.

"Don't get your feet wet!" "Stay out of drafts!" "Better put your heavy coat on!" These and similar warnings we hear from family and friends, while they may be sometimes resented as annoyances, can result in avoidance of colds and even more serious ailments if heeded.

It has been said that one of man's worst enemies is himself. Indifference, carelessness and the "can't be bothered" attitude cause more sickness than can be possibly calculated. Plain common sense is one of the greatest single factors in the preservation of good health.

True, you can't always avoid wet feet, or drafts, or you may be caught away from home by a sudden drop in temperature. But so many times these conditions can be avoided by just a little planning ahead.

Keep an umbrella or raincoat handy, and carry one or the other when stormy weather threatens. If you are fortunate enough to have or can get some rubbers or overshoes during the wartime shortage, wear them when it's sloppy underfoot.

Don't be alarmed if someone in a stuffy room opens the window to air the place out for a moment, but if you find yourself sitting in a draft for longer than a moment don't be hesitant about moving. Don't think yourself a "sissy" or feel that you may be inconveniencing your host. You're simply being wise, and you'll be respected for it.

Don't try to be a Spartan and brave wintry winds without proper clothing. There was a day when this was considered "smart", but now it may be classed merely as exhibitionism. "Smart" people today take care of themselves intelligently, knowing that it is showing consideration not only to themselves but also to their families and employers.

Dr. and Mrs. George Dillard, Draper, N. Carolina, were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hanauer.

The many friends of Mrs. Chas. Stadelman are glad to know that she is recuperating nicely after her recent appendectomy operation in the St. Francis hospital on January 4th.

Dinner guests at the J. W. Boeckh home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Wons and daughter, Mrs. W. G. Franke, Mrs. B. Grunde and children of Chicago, Dr. and Mrs. Herman Carr and Nancy.

Fourteen girls of the traffic department of the Telephone office had a sleighing party Saturday evening after which refreshments were enjoyed.

Just Around the Corner

Dear Mary:

Now that you have agreed to "answer me back" I'll have to watch what might be called (leaning toward the kindly side) rash statements and generalities, brush up on my grammar and try not to let my typewriter run away with too many galleys. There's always so much I want to tell and ask you.

Your book list made us envious. We have resolved to add books to our sadly neglected library this year and to take advantage of our excellent village one oftener. Your "World's Great Plays" caused me sorrow in the lonely corner dad's death left. It was the Goethe, I guess.

The resolution is a serious one. Yesterday I brought home "They Were Expendable", "On Being a Real Person" and "You, Your Children and the War" and am half way through the first. Don't laugh at me, Mary; I'm always sixty years behind the average adult reader. The truth is something like you said the other evening about bags under your eyes from reading. I don't DARE bring books home too frequently. They drug me. I get nothing done, and I can't stay up late. I'm taking liver extract now. But I'm going to have myself a little orgy this week and let the bags appear.

I missed Edith Lovejoy Pierce's review in the Daily News. From the little snatch you sent me of it I should say that her prose like her poery possesses the same qualities that have always made Emily Dickinson so without peer for me. To be able to use not just a suitable word but the ONLY word for the expression of a thought and to have it be also beautiful seems to me the essence of literary genius. I hope you will call my attention to any of her writings you notice I miss so many wonderful things, and I think you have a talent for seeing and pointing out to your friends books and pictures and poems and jokes pecularly of interest to each one.

Young Ken's flute is a real musical instrument but not a real flute. He loves blowing on it, though he is definitely not musical. The John Kents' Christopher would have had us all jitterbugging five minutes after he put it to his lips. We had New Year's eve dinner there and Chris performed creditably on his trumpet. He's only had four lessons.

Mary, do you know the Mrs. Dearie who has the little antique shop in Glenview? They live in Stonegate. Their boy, Wilbe, was shipped again New Year's Day. With one son killed in action they are having hard work keeping their chins up. I think one must have unshakable faith in eternal and ultimate goodness to bear the thought of all the useless, wasteful carnage this new German drive has continued—even when it holds no close personal tragedies for him.

I wish it were possible to copy Mrs. Parker's old cook book from cover to cover. I keep coming across recipes and remedies and humorous little sallies I want to own. I know you will enjoy the following bit of coy and sensible deception:

"Now about ironing. If your husband's night shirt is smoothed in front and folded artistically who is to know whether the back has been ironed or not. I'll venture to say that he will not, unless you tell him." and

"It is not absolutely necessary to iron skirts, except for 12 to 15 inches above the bottom."

The authoress, a homespun philosopher, adds: "Bear in mind these are hints to those who need them. But there is enough in life that has to be done without vexing our souls and wearing out our bodies over work that is not essential either to the happiness or well-being of our fellows." This last reminded me of an acquaintance of mine who had maintained an elaborate home on the North Shore for years and faced, she said, "With utter relief and complete equanimity the prospect of packing away for the duration her formal linen and china and silver" and doing for herself and her small family the things that really needed to be done.

John McGovern's "An Old Citizen to a Young Wife" is an amusing few pages spicily written and skeptical, especially in regard to grocers and butchers.

"Butter", he writes, "since the introduction of grease into its manufacture has become a problem. You cannot be sure that you are getting what you pay for except during June. In June, butter is grass—sweet and can not be mistaken. If your grocer has butter at twenty, twenty-three and twenty-eight cents, pay him twenty-eight cents. When it comes June, observe whether or not the first-class butter is grass-sweet. If not, your grocer is a rascal and you must make a change at all hazards. If the grocer is honest, he buys honestly. His best butter will have little or no grease in it. I am inclined to think this grease brings on the fearful winter cholera which has made its appearance simultaneously with the invention of oleomargarine . . . . Good butter is the cheapest for all purposes principally on account of your health." It's a far cry, Mary, from the animal-fat grease that margarine used to be to the fortified vegetable spread of today—as far as twenty-eight cents from fifty and two ration points from twenty-four. Mr. McGovern would have been interested in the heated arguments taking place between the Dairy Industry and countless housewives as to the coloring of margarine. Fortune magazine recently discussed this question. There I go—I really meant to include some recipes and here I am off on butter and you will be exhausted reading all this.

I haven't seen Ann Morrissey since New Year's Eve and have talked to Gladys only over the telephone. We seem to be stay-at-homes each year until after our last birthday the middle of January. And with the boss of the house still covered with chicken-pox I have been somewhat confined. You know, though, I really like it—to stay at home, I mean.

I hope this lengthy epistle doesn't frighten you away.

With love,

Elly.

Churchill, Stalin, Eden to meet at Northwestern

Churchill, Stalin and Eden will meet at Northwestern University, but without President Roosevelt, sometime during the next few weeks.

Not the world-famous statesmen of course. But coeds bearing these names who have just registered at the university for the second quarter now beginning.

Other students with famous names who will be meeting on campus paths are Patton, Stilwell and Dewey, not to mention Goering, Hess and three Kaisers!

Among names famous from Hollywood to the African jungles are Virginia Bruce, Frank Buck and Robert Burns. There is no Sinatra to charm the coeds but there is a Crosby, Caruso, Wagner, and Bach.

There's a Love, but also a Loveless. And two Toots and a Yonk, and a Peck and a Wack. Peez, Took, Somers, Sudar sound like baby talk, but they're students, too, as are Luney and Batty.

Students with presidents' names are Hoover, Harding, Wilson, Taft, Harrison, Grant, Jackson, Buchanan, Pierce and Adams. Names that go together are Long and Longest, Stout and Rotunda, Sweet and Low, Winter and Spring, and Black and White. Pick and Look are listed, and a Zoot but no Suit. On the geographical side are London, England, Ireland, Holland, Poland, Spain, Portugal, French and English.

Oh yes, we almost forgot—the Johnsons lead in number with 35, the Andersons are next with 30.

State farmers still working 64-hour week

Illinois farmers are working an average of 64 hours a week these winter days when such jobs are ordinarily at low ebb, and their "hired hands" are putting in more than 60 hours a week, too, according to P. E. Johnston, state farm labor supervisor.

These figures are taken from the Dec. 1 report of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Agricultural Economics. It also shows that there are fewer workers employed on the nation's farms now than at any other time on record.

As a whole, the country had 9 per cent less workers in such employment on Dec. 1 than there were a year ago. Figures have been at low ebb every month since February a year ago, the BAE report shows. In Illinois and the eastern corn belt, employment figures are 11 per cent below those of a year ago.

Johnston also noted that there were relatively more family workers employed in Illinois and over the nation during 1944 than at any other period. "This continued increase in the number of family workers indicates greater use of women and children and other members of farm families not ordinarily employed in farm work and emphasizes the major contribution being made by farm families in sustaining the present high level of farm production," said Johnston, recalling that crop production in Illinois was at record high level in 1944. The number of hired workers in the nation during 1944 was 13 per cent below the 1935-39 average, the BAE report shows.

Announce dates for farm, home week

The 44th annual Illinois Farm and Home week has been scheduled for February 6-8, it was announced this week by H. P. Rusk, dean of the College of Agriculture at the University of Illinois. As in the past, the three-day program will be held on the Urbana campus of the University.

"An instructive program has been arranged by the committee in charge and will be announced soon," Dean Rusk said.

"Those who find it possible to attend will note that the theme of the over-all program will be closely attuned to the times and the needs and demands of the Illinois farm and home.

"Several prominent speakers have been secured to give addresses on informative and inspirational subjects."

Last year the attendance numbered 2,269 from 99 of the state's 102 counties. The record all-time attendance occurred in 1942 when 4,996 persons were present.

Must submit seed samples by February 15

W. A. Hinz, member of the Cook County AAA Committee, said today that word had been received in the local county office that the time for harvesting and submitting clover seed samples to the State Laboratory for testing had been extended to February 15th.

"Previously," Mr. Hinz explained, "it was necessary that all samples submitted by farmers be mailed to the State Seed Testing Laboratory by January 1, on seed retained at home or for sale locally. This extension of time," Mr. Hinz added, "should materially help any Cook County farmers who were unable to get their seed cleaned in time to submit a sample in the State Seed Laboratory before January 1."

Need war workers

Farm labor urged work in war plants in winter

On the basis of outstanding results achieved at an experimental meeting in Hoopeston, Illinois, the Selective Service System in Illinois will conduct a campaign to obtain temporary labor for war production plants by recruiting farm labor which can be spared from agriculture during the slack farm season, it was announced December 14, 1944, by Col. Paul G. Armstrong, state director.

The plan, which was originally proposed and put into effect by the members of Vermilion County Local Board No. 1 situated at Hoopeston, was successfully materialized when, at the joint invitation of the local board, the U. S. Employment Service and the U. S. D. A. War Board, over 225 farm registrants and employers braved the icy roads and attended a meeting where war industry's critical need for manpower was presented and an urgent appeal was made to farm registrants who could temporarily be spared from their agricultural occupations. Thirty-seven farm registrants were signed up to go to work immediately, all arrangements for clearance by the local board and the farm adviser as well as assignment to a specific war job being handled at the meeting.

"When the local board first presented the idea ten days ago for our approval," Colonel Armstrong stated, "it appeared that the plan had real possibilities. However, when Chairman Dyer of the Hoopeston board phoned and gave me the results of the meeting, I realized that the plan had gone far beyond our expectations. I am therefore taking immediate steps to expand the plan to cover all Illinois counties wherein farm labor can temporarily be spared to war production industries.

"The U. S. Employment Service is likewise enthused over the results of the experiment and are giving every possible measure of cooperation. Frank Abbott of the Danville office of the War Manpower Commission, who assisted at the meeting, was highly pleased with the successful results and told me today that the enthusiasm over the plan was just as great among the federal agency representatives. I am convinced that an additional benefit will be a general heightening of public morale in the interest of the war effort.

"Farm registrants, who are permitted by their local boards to accept temporary employment in either war production or on other farms in Illinois need have no fear that their 2C classifications will be jeopardized by their temporary transfer to industry or other farms. The only requirements are that they must first obtain approval of the county farm adviser plus a release from the local board and then return to their agricultural occupation on the date specified for such return. Failure to comply with these requirements subjects the registrant to reclassification. It is the local board's responsibility, of course, to determine whether or not the temporary release of a farm registrant would be in the best interest of the war effort."

With temporary releases from farm labor jobs in Illinois averaging nearly 1,000 a week during December, the need for more defense plant workers to speed ammunition and armament output is being given every possible aid from the farm front, according to P. E. Johnston, state farm labor supervisor.

Johnston, with Charles P. Casey, state WMC director, and Paul G. Armstrong, state director, selective service system, have joined in endorsing plans to speed up the release of farm workers for essential industries. The plan, used successfully in Vermilion county, to urge eligibles to sign up and to speed recruitment of farm workers to relieve the critical shortage in war plants, is being recommended by these men to local representatives of the three agencies all over the state.

"With the cooperation of county farm advisers and local USES office managers, it will be possible to recruit 8,000 to 10,000 vitally needed production workers from the ranks of farm labor during the slack season. This should help meet the recently announced demand for 34,302 war plant workers needed immediately in Illinois."

Feb. 15 deadline for reporting AAA performance

"The time for filing 1944 report of performance on individual farms has been extended to February 15," W. A. Hinz, Acting Chairman of the Cook County AAA Committee, said today. "The calendar year of 1944," Mr. Hinz added, "was the period in which all farm practices under the 1944 program could be performed to earn credit, but this six-weeks additional filing period has been granted so that farmers might make their report of practices carried out under the 1944 program."

"600 farmers have already filed their reports to date, which represents about 2/3 of the total signed-up."

Crop insurance bill passed by Congress

As indicated earlier the crop insurance legislation has now passed both Houses of Congress and is before the President for signature. The crop insurance program under this legislation, has been broadened, to provide coverage on cotton, wheat and flax crops in 1945 and thereafter, and experimental programs on corn, dry beans, oats, barley, rye, tobacco, rice, peanuts, soybeans, sugar beets, sugar cane, potatoes and other vegetables, citrus fruits, tame hay, timber, and any other agricultural commodity, to be limited in the use of each commodity to 20 representative counties. In 1945 the experimental program will be limited to corn and tobacco and thereafter to not more than three additional crops each year.

Insurance will be against loss in yields due to unavoidable causes, including drought, flood, hail, wind, frost, winter-kill, lightning, fire, excessive rain, snow, wildlife, hurricane, tornado, insect infestation, plant disease, and such other unavoidable causes as may be determined by the Board. Such coverage shall not exceed 75 percent of the recorded or appraised average yield of the crop, and the amount of funds available for administrative costs shall not exceed 25 percent of the premiums collected after the crop year 1949.

Provision is made that. after the crop year of 1949, if the total amount of claims on an agricultural commodity for any year exceeds the total amount of premiums collected less the accumulated reserves (which shall be not less than 10 percent of the premiums collected on such commodity) then such claims shall be paid on a prorata reduced basis.

State farmers still working 64-hour week

Illinois farmers are working an average of 64 hours a week these winter days when such jobs are ordinarily at low ebb, and their "hired hands" are putting in more than 60 hours a week, too, according to P. E. Johnston, state farm labor supervisor.

These figures are taken from the Dec. 1 report of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Agricultural Economics. It also shows that there are fewer workers employed on the nation's farms now than at any other time on record.

As a whole, the country had 9 per cent less workers in such employment on Dec. 1 than there were a year ago. Figures have been at low ebb every month since February a year ago, the BAE report shows. In Illinois and the eastern corn belt, employment figures are 11 per cent below those of a year ago.

Johnston also noted that there were relatively more family workers employed in Illinois and over the nation during 1944 than at any other period. "This continued increase in the number of family workers indicates greater use of women and children and other members of farm families not ordinarily employed in farm work and emphasizes the major contribution being made by farm families in sustaining the present high level of farm production," said Johnston, recalling that crop production in Illinois was at record high level in 1944. The number of hired workers in the nation during 1944 was 13 per cent below the 1935-39 average, the BAE report shows.

Announce dates for farm, home week

The 44th annual Illinois Farm and Home week has been scheduled for February 6-8, it was announced this week by H. P. Rusk, dean of the College of Agriculture at the University of Illinois. As in the past, the three-day program will be held on the Urbana campus of the University.

"An instructive program has been arranged by the committee in charge and will be announced soon," Dean Rusk said.

"Those who find it possible to attend will note that the theme of the over-all program will be closely attuned to the times and the needs and demands of the Illinois farm and home.

"Several prominent speakers have been secured to give addresses on informative and inspirational subjects."

Last year the attendance numbered 2,269 from 99 of the state's 102 counties. The record all-time attendance occurred in 1942 when 4,996 persons were present.

Must submit seed samples by February 15

W. A. Hinz, member of the Cook County AAA Committee, said today that word had been received in the local county office that the time for harvesting and submitting clover seed samples to the State Laboratory for testing had been extended to February 15th.

"Previously," Mr. Hinz explained, "it was necessary that all samples submitted by farmers be mailed to the State Seed Testing Laboratory by January 1, on seed retained at home or for sale locally. This extension of time," Mr. Hinz added, "should materially help any Cook County farmers who were unable to get their seed cleaned in time to submit a sample in the State Seed Laboratory before January 1."

Need war workers

Farm labor urged work in war plants in winter

On the basis of outstanding results achieved at an experimental meeting in Hoopeston, Illinois, the Selective Service System in Illinois will conduct a campaign to obtain temporary labor for war production plants by recruiting farm labor which can be spared from agriculture during the slack farm season, it was announced December 14, 1944, by Col. Paul G. Armstrong, state director.

The plan, which was originally proposed and put into effect by the members of Vermilion County Local Board No. 1 situated at Hoopeston, was successfully materialized when, at the joint invitation of the local board, the U. S. Employment Service and the U. S. D. A. War Board, over 225 farm registrants and employers braved the icy roads and attended a meeting where war industry's critical need for manpower was presented and an urgent appeal was made to farm registrants who could temporarily be spared from their agricultural occupations. Thirty-seven farm registrants were signed up to go to work immediately, all arrangements for clearance by the local board and the farm adviser as well as assignment to a specific war job being handled at the meeting.

"When the local board first presented the idea ten days ago for our approval," Colonel Armstrong stated, "it appeared that the plan had real possibilities. However, when Chairman Dyer of the Hoopeston board phoned and gave me the results of the meeting, I realized that the plan had gone far beyond our expectations. I am therefore taking immediate steps to expand the plan to cover all Illinois counties wherein farm labor can temporarily be spared to war production industries.

"The U. S. Employment Service is likewise enthused over the results of the experiment and are giving every possible measure of cooperation. Frank Abbott of the Danville office of the War Manpower Commission, who assisted at the meeting, was highly pleased with the successful results and told me today that the enthusiasm over the plan was just as great among the federal agency representatives. I am convinced that an additional benefit will be a general heightening of public morale in the interest of the war effort.

"Farm registrants, who are permitted by their local boards to accept temporary employment in either war production or on other farms in Illinois need have no fear that their 2C classifications will be jeopardized by their temporary transfer to industry or other farms. The only requirements are that they must first obtain approval of the county farm adviser plus a release from the local board and then return to their agricultural occupation on the date specified for such return. Failure to comply with these requirements subjects the registrant to reclassification. It is the local board's responsibility, of course, to determine whether or not the temporary release of a farm registrant would be in the best interest of the war effort."

With temporary releases from farm labor jobs in Illinois averaging nearly 1,000 a week during December, the need for more defense plant workers to speed ammunition and armament output is being given every possible aid from the farm front, according to P. E. Johnston, state farm labor supervisor.

Johnston, with Charles P. Casey, state WMC director, and Paul G. Armstrong, state director, selective service system, have joined in endorsing plans to speed up the release of farm workers for essential industries. The plan, used successfully in Vermilion county, to urge eligibles to sign up and to speed recruitment of farm workers to relieve the critical shortage in war plants, is being recommended by these men to local representatives of the three agencies all over the state.

"With the cooperation of county farm advisers and local USES office managers, it will be possible to recruit 8,000 to 10,000 vitally needed production workers from the ranks of farm labor during the slack season. This should help meet the recently announced demand for 34,302 war plant workers needed immediately in Illinois."

Bougainville

When last heard from Bill Foley of Arlington Heights was on Guadalcanal. That's good enough for us.

"Here's a fish story for you. The other night one of the fellows was fishing from a pier, about 100 feet from shore, when he snagged this baby. He fought him 40 minutes, finally getting him to shore. The fish measured 6 feet long and about 4 feet around at the widest part.

"When you looked in his mouth it was like looking down a big sewer. We didn't have any way to weigh him, but I guessed he must have weighed at least 300 pounds. Five fellow got him with a 75 lb. line.

"The hook had gone through the tongue and the fish had drowned. When they gutted him he was filled with water. His guts alone weighed well over 50 lbs. He was some sort of sea bass, as near as I can see. We're eating him tomorrow."

His address is S/Sgt. Wm. Foley, 36000016, APO 709, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Texas

Jim Millay of Arlington Heights graduated last week at the Navy Air Base at Corpus Christi, Texas, receiving his Navy Wings and commission as Ensign in the Navy Air Corps.

Jim enlisted in V-5 on November 3, 1942, and was called to active service on March 3, 1943. He began his training at Monmouth College, then to Marquette University, Iowa, Pre Flight, Glenview Air Base and finished his flight training at Corpus Christi. It is expected he will be home on leave in a few weeks.

Pvt. Hugo A. Hugo of Wheeling recently completed his studies at Chanute Field, Ill., where he was taking a course on plane propellors. He left on December 22 for his former field at Midland, Texas, where he works at night on plane propellors.

Georgia

Aviation Cadet Ernest A. Mueller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Mueller of 22 N. Wille St., Mt. Prospect, has just arrived at Moon, Ga., Air Forces Pilot School. Cochran Field's facilities are devoted to the secondary phase of flight instruction.

Germany

From Germany comes word o. Gene Kelly of Palatine.

"We are still in Der Reich. So far the weather has been mild, but we surely would welcome a freeze as that would end this eternal mud The weather is a big factor in war

"The country is just like th travel folders said it would be. won't be revealing much to tel you that we are in the famou valley of the Rhine, or Rhineland The people were a good pious lot but even they were led astray. rather hope they have learned thei lesson."

From Germany comes word o Harvey Schaefer of Arlington Heights. The letter was written the end of November.

"We've been having quite a bi of rain lately, and it's plenty mud dy. Things have been going pret ty good here. I haven't seen house fit to live in and no people Don't see how they can last much longer."

Mississippi

Cpl. Samuel V. Heise, son o Frank L. Heise, Rt. 2, Palatine, has reported at Gulfport, Miss., Third Air Force bomber base for an intensive training course as a waist gunner on a B-17 Flying Fortress

Selected for this important assignment after stringent examinations, Cpl. Heise will be a member of a ten man crew who will live and work together under simulated battle conditions. Upon completion of training the crew will be ready for duty on the fighting fronts.

Cpl. Heise entered the service at Keesler Field, Miss., in April, 1943.

Now at Keesler Field, Mississippi, is Bob Salzman of Mt. Prospect. Bob, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Salzman, enlisted in the army air corps reserve in January of last year. He has been awaiting call since his 18th birthday.

Last week, Thursday, Bob was called, reporting to Fort Sheridan. After being home this past week end he returned to Sheridan and then entrained for Keesler Field, Miss.

Africa to Italy

Combat Xmas changes in 3 years of fighting

Even Christmas has been improved upon, by the Army Air Force, in 3 years of war. Cpl. Rudy A. Hajek, 432 W. Wood st., Palatine, veteran ground man with one of the oldest AAF B-17 Flying Fortress Groups in the Mediterranean or European Theater of operations, will vouch for that.

Part of the organization, the air echelon, was at a place called Biskra, in Algeria, on Dec. 25, back in 1942. The remainder, the ground crews, was stationed in the desert outside of Oran, at a spot they named "Mud Hill" because of its topography and climate.

Although the famed "Garden of Allah" could be found at Biskra, the Christmas dinner of billy goat stew and tea served at the Hotel Transatlantique, was hardly what you would expect to find in "Paradise."

At "Mud Hill" there was also little outward indication that this was the day of all Christmas Days, even for those who could find the wine for a private celebration. If the billy goat stew tasted like shoeleather to the men at Biskra, then the monotonous "C" rations served as Christmas dinner to the boys at "Mud Hill" were even more unsavory.

The added rations of 1 candy bar, 1 package of gum and ½ can of grapefruit juice per man, could hardly be called a Xmas feast.

That was the situation on Dec. 25, 1942. This year, the unit, which has since moved to Southern Italy, had another Christmas dinner. The menu undoubtedly rivaled anything that the point restricted hotels and clubs back home were able to include on their bill of fare. Or that "Mom", with her limited number of blue and red stamps, was able to cook up.

In addition to more turkey than even a hungry GI Joe could eat in one sitting, the unit cooks filled the mess kits with dressing, corn, peas, potatoes, pie, cake, pudding, nuts and fruit. It goes without saying that an ample supply of wine bottles decorated the tables.

The old-timers of the group can remember the early days of the African campaign, when their organization bore a vast share of the burden of holding the enemy to the defensive while Uncle Sam gathered equipment and men with which to turn Rommel and his famed Afrika Korps out of the dark continent.

In almost 2½ years of overseas duty, which began on Aug. 6, 1942, this organization has fought in 2 major theaters of war; has flown over 9500 sorties against targets in Africa, Sicily, Sardinia and Europe; and has been twice awarded Distinguished Unit Badges, which were presented by Maj. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, commanding general of the 15th Army Air Force.

The group has a number of "firsts" to be proud of, including its participation in the first All-American air attack against Germany and German held territory, and its part in the first coordinated attack of the 8th and 15th Air Forces against Regensburg, Germany.

The group is probably best known for leading the first air attack on Rome, and the heavy bombardment wing of which it is a member, carried out the first Italy to Russia shuttle bombing mission.

This year's improved Christmas feast could be viewed as a sort of tribute to the veteran ground men of this organization, who in spite of the most trying of living conditions, labored to "Keep Em Flying."

Returns home after 36 months in jungles

"This is the biggest event in my life in the last three years," says Mike Chabrecek who is back in Arlington Heights after spending 36 months in jungle warfare in the Pacific. Mike has been serving with an ordnance maintenance outfit which operates near the front lines in the combat zones to keep guns and mechanisms in working order.

He left with the second batch of troops to be rushed to Australia immediately after Pearl Harbor attack in December, 1941. After preparatory training he landed with a detachment at Port Moresby on the south side of New Guinea and helped drive the Japs back over the mountain trails. He was with MacArthur's men all the way from Buna to Lae and Salamaua which is about as tough a country as he ever expects to be in, he says. From here, he took the big jump with the American forces in the Saipan offensive up north on the other side of the equator and wound up by landing on the beaches of Leyte with this great amphibious invasion.

Mike speaks three languages and says that he is doing pretty well with mastering a fourth—Japanese. Despite his three years jungle service he looks in perfect condition.

After the Leyte campaign, because of his three years of continuous service he was placed on the eligibility list for a home furlough. He's got 31 days to renew old acquaintances before he reports again for duty.

Philippines

From the Philippines comes word of Francis Reuse of Palatine.

"Greetings from Somewhere in the Philippines. Wet greetings, too! I've seen the sunshine once since I've been here. The mud is up to our knees in plenty of places. I've seen more rain here than all the time I was in New Guinea. That was a desert compared to this.

"Had a pretty rough time landing here. No more than hit the shore when I saw 3 Jap planes hit the Waterloo. All I was worrying about was getting on dry land so I could hug the ground. The air raids have subsided the last few nights but for a while we didn't get too much sleep.

"I don't know what you think but it's really amazing what goes on around here. I still can't figure out how they're pushed as far as they have. They can get tons and tons of equipment off the boats on shore so fast you'd have to see it to believe it. Of course I haven't seen too much in the way of real fireworks but I expect to about the time the ink dries on this paper.

"I'm sure I passed John Gahlbeck's outfit on the way up here. I'd sure like to check up and find him if he's here, but I doubt if I'll get the chance. Right now I don't know a soul around me. I've been moved around so much I've lost contact with all of my buddies.

"The natives are a friendly bunch. They took to the hills when the Japs came and are just getting back to their homes. They are very short on clothes and food. There's enough cocoanuts, pineapple, etc., to keep them going however.

"I couldn't have gotten with a better organization than this one. They've been through every battle since the start of the war against the Japs. Only thing is they've been fighting too much.

"Wish I had more time to write. I could tell you lots of things about the tropics. When you stop and consider it's impossible for a white man to live in them, especially New Guinea, you can imagine how it is fighting and living here. At just about the drop of a hat your entire body can be covered with 'jungle rot' which is mighty hard to get rid of. That's just one little item among many.

"You have to try to take care of yourself like you would a newborn baby, only there aren't any facilities for doing such. It's not like the Western front where you can get to town and civilization once you get the chance. Once you come off the front lines you still have a mighty big job trying to keep yourself healthy.

"A home has certainly taken on a new meaning for thousands and thousands of boys. Everyone agrees upon the fact that once they get home they won't go more than ten steps away from it for a long long time.

"Haven't seen the Enterprise since I left the States. I understand they had me in Australia when I was sweating it out in New Guinea. The only thing Aussie about New Guinea is you get Aussie Bully Beef in New Guinea all the time. Don't ever mention the word Bully Beef to anyone who has been over here or you'll suffer the consequences."

Changing his address in the Philippines is Raymond Harms of Buffalo Grove.

"We're living in the jungle now and it's better than where we were, except for the visiting Japs every day. I've been eating cocoanuts, bananas and apples quite a lot as all of that grows wild here. We have cocoanut trees everywhere, but as yet I haven't been hit on the head.

His address is Cpl. Raymond Harms, 36317574, APO 72, c-o P. M., New York, N. Y.

About Your Car In 1945

What's ahead in 1945? No one knows. So far as the car situation is concerned, the outlook is not hopeful. Cars are wearing out and are being taken off the highways at a rapid rate. We look for a tightening up to permit only essential driving. Your car is, however, a valuable part of your country's war transportation system. It is badly needed and commands a very high price. We will gladly pay this price if you are willing to sell. The cash you get now can be the "nest egg" for the new post-war car you are going to buy. Let's talk it over.

Bougainville

When last heard from Bill Foley of Arlington Heights was on Guadalcanal. That's good enough for us.

"Here's a fish story for you. The other night one of the fellows was fishing from a pier, about 100 feet from shore, when he snagged this baby. He fought him 40 minutes, finally getting him to shore. The fish measured 6 feet long and about 4 feet around at the widest part.

"When you looked in his mouth it was like looking down a big sewer. We didn't have any way to weigh him, but I guessed he must have weighed at least 300 pounds. The fellow got him with a 75 lb. line.

"The hook had gone through the tongue and the fish had drowned. When they gutted him he was filled with water. His guts alone weighed well over 50 lbs. He was some sort of sea bass, as near as I can see. We're eating him tomorrow."

His address is S/Sgt. Wm. Foley, 36000016, APO 709, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Texas

Jim Millay of Arlington Heights graduated last week at the Navy Air Base at Corpus Christi, Texas, receiving his Navy Wings and commission as Ensign in the Navy Air Corps.

Jim enlisted in V-5 on November 3, 1942, and was called to active service on March 3, 1943. He began his training at Monmouth College, then to Marquette University, Iowa, Pre Flight, Glenview Air Base and finished his flight training at Corpus Christi. It is expected he will be home on leave in a few weeks.

Pvt. Hugo A. Hugo of Wheeling recently completed his studies at Chanute Field, Ill., where he was taking a course on plane propellors. He left on December 22 for his former field at Midland, Texas, where he works at night on plane propellors.

Georgia

Aviation Cadet Ernest A. Mueller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Mueller of 22 N. Wille St., Mt. Prospect, has just arrived at Macon, Ga., Air Forces Pilot School. Cochran Field's facilities are devoted to the secondary phase of flight instruction.

Germany

From Germany comes word o. Gene Kelly of Palatine.

"We are still in Der Reich. So far the weather has been mild, but we surely would welcome a freeze as that would end this eternal mud The weather is a big factor in war

"The country is just like th travel folders said it would be. won't be revealing much to tel you that we are in the famou valley of the Rhine, or Rhineland The people were a good pious lot but even they were led astray. rather hope they have learned thei lesson."

From Germany comes word o Harvey Schaefer of Arlington Heights. The letter was written the end of November.

"We've been having quite a bi of rain lately, and it's plenty mud dy. Things have been going pret ty good here. I haven't seen house fit to live in and no people Don't see how they can last much longer."

Mississippi

Cpl. Samuel V. Heise, son o Frank L. Heise, Rt. 2, Palatine, has reported at Gulfport, Miss., Third Air Force bomber base for an intensive training course as a waist gunner on a B-17 Flying Fortress.

Selected for this important assignment after stringent examinations, Cpl. Heise will be a member of a ten man crew who will live and work together under simulated battle conditions. Upon completion of training the crew will be ready for duty on the fighting fronts.

Cpl. Heise entered the service at Keesler Field, Miss., in April, 1943.

Now at Keesler Field, Mississippi, is Bob Salzman of Mt. Prospect. Bob, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Salzman, enlisted in the army air corps reserve in January of last year. He has been awaiting call since his 18th birthday.

Last week, Thursday, Bob was called, reporting to Fort Sheridan. After being home this past week end he returned to Sheridan and then entrained for Keesler Field, Miss.

Africa to Italy

Combat Xmas changes in 3 years of fighting

Even Christmas has been improved upon, by the Army Air Force, in 3 years of war. Cpl. Rudy A. Hajek, 432 W. Wood st., Palatine, veteran ground man with one of the oldest AAF B-17 Flying Fortress Groups in the Mediterranean or European Theater of operations, will vouch for that.

Part of the organization, the air echelon, was at a place called Biskra, in Algeria, on Dec. 25, back in 1942. The remainder, the ground crews, was stationed in the desert outside of Oran, at a spot they named "Mud Hill" because of its topography and climate.

Although the famed "Garden of Allah" could be found at Biskra, the Christmas dinner of billy goat stew and tea served at the Hotel Transatlantique, was hardly what you would expect to find in "Paradise."

At "Mud Hill" there was also little outward indication that this was the day of all Christmas Days, even for those who could find the wine for a private celebration. If the billy goat stew tasted like shoeleather to the men at Biskra, then the monotonous "C" rations served as Christmas dinner to the boys at "Mud Hill" were even more unsavory.

The added rations of 1 candy bar, 1 package of gum and ½ can of grapefruit juice per man, could hardly be called a Xmas feast.

That was the situation on Dec. 25, 1942. This year, the unit, which has since moved to Southern Italy, had another Christmas dinner. The menu undoubtedly rivaled anything that the point restricted hotels and clubs back home were able to include on their bill of fare. Or that "Mom", with her limited number of blue and red stamps, was able to cook up.

In addition to more turkey than even a hungry GI Joe could eat in one sitting, the unit cooks filled the mess kits with dressing, corn, peas, potatoes, pie, cake, pudding, nuts and fruit. It goes without saying that an ample supply of wine bottles decorated the tables.

The old-timers of the group can remember the early days of the African campaign, when their organization bore a vast share of the burden of holding the enemy to the defensive while Uncle Sam gathered equipment and men with which to turn Rommel and his famed Afrika Korps out of the dark continent.

In almost 2½ years of overseas duty, which began on Aug. 6, 1942, this organization has fought in 2 major theaters of war; has flown over 9500 sorties against targets in Africa, Sicily, Sardinia and Europe; and has been twice awarded Distinguished Unit Badges, which were presented by Maj. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, commanding general of the 15th Army Air Force.

The group has a number of "firsts" to be proud of, including its participation in the first All-American air attack against Germany and German held territory, and its part in the first coordinated attack of the 8th and 15th Air Forces against Regensburg, Germany.

The group is probably best known for leading the first air attack on Rome, and the heavy bombardment wing of which it is a member, carried out the first Italy to Russia shuttle bombing mission.

This year's improved Christmas feast could be viewed as a sort of tribute to the veteran ground men of this organization, who in spite of the most trying of living conditions, labored to "Keep Em Flying."

Returns home after 36 months in jungles

"This is the biggest event in my life in the last three years," says Mike Chabrecek who is back in Arlington Heights after spending 36 months in jungle warfare in the Pacific. Mike has been serving with an ordnance maintenance outfit which operates near the front lines in the combat zones to keep guns and mechanisms in working order.

He left with the second batch of troops to be rushed to Australia immediately after Pearl Harbor attack in December, 1941. After preparatory training he landed with a detachment at Port Moresby on the south side of New Guinea and helped drive the Japs back over the mountain trails. He was with MacArthur's men all the way from Buna to Lae and Salamaua which is about as tough a country as he ever expects to be in, he says. From here, he took the big jump with the American forces in the Saipan offensive up north on the other side of the equator and wound up by landing on the beaches of Leyte with this great amphibious invasion.

Mike speaks three languages and says that he is doing pretty well with mastering a fourth—Japanese. Despite his three years jungle service he looks in perfect condition.

After the Leyte campaign, because of his three years of continuous service he was placed on the eligibility list for a home furlough. He's got 31 days to renew old acquaintances before he reports again for duty.

Philippines

From the Philippines comes word of Francis Reuse of Palatine.

"Greetings from Somewhere in the Philippines. Wet greetings, too! I've seen the sunshine once since I've been here. The mud is up to our knees in plenty of places. I've seen more rain here than all the time I was in New Guinea. That was a desert compared to this.

"Had a pretty rough time landing here. No more than hit the shore when I saw 3 Jap planes hit the Waterloo. All I was worrying about was getting on dry land so I could hug the ground. The air raids have subsided the last few nights but for a while we didn't get too much sleep.

"I don't know what you think but it's really amazing what goes on around here. I still can't figure out how they're pushed as far as they have. They can get tons and tons of equipment off the boats on shore so fast you'd have to see it to believe it. Of course I haven't seen too much in the way of real fireworks but I expect to about the time the ink dries on this paper.

"I'm sure I passed John Gahlbeck's outfit on the way up here. I'd sure like to check up and find him if he's here, but I doubt if I'll get the chance. Right now I don't know a soul around me. I've been moved around so much I've lost contact with all of my buddies.

"The natives are a friendly bunch. They took to the hills when the Japs came and are just getting back to their homes. They are very short on clothes and food. There's enough cocoanuts, pineapple, etc., to keep them going however.

"I couldn't have gotten with a better organization than this one. They've been through every battle since the start of the war against the Japs. Only thing is they've been fighting too much.

"Wish I had more time to write. I could tell you lots of things about the tropics. When you stop and consider it's impossible for a white man to live in them, especially New Guinea, you can imagine how it is fighting and living here. At just about tne drop of a hat your entire body can be covered with 'jungle rot' which is mighty hard to get rid of. That's just one little item among many.

"You have to try to take care of yourself like you would a newborn baby, only there aren't any facilities for doing such. It's not like the Western front where you can get to town and civilization once you get the chance. Once you come off the front lines you still have a mighty big job trying to keep yourself healthy.

"A home has certainly taken on a new meaning for thousands and thousands of boys. Everyone agrees upon the fact that once they get home they won't go more than ten steps away from it for a long long time.

"Haven't seen the Enterprise since I left the States. I understand they had me in Australia when I was sweating it out in New Guinea. The only thing Aussie about New Guinea is you get Aussie Bully Beef in New Guinea all the time. Don't ever mention the word Bully Beef to anyone who has been over here or you'll suffer the consequences."

Double upset

Cards score 32 in 2nd half to beat Crystal Lake, 41-40

Arlington Lights take first loss on free throws

The myth of the Green Tornadoes' invincibility and also their winning streak was blown up by Crystal Lake's JVs, 28-27. There were a total of 35 fouls called of which 24 were against Arlington and eleven against the Lakers.

The Arlington boys made twelve baskets to Crystal Lake's eight but the total points determined the winner and the Lakers twelve points on free throws to Arlington's three was the determining factor. Aldrich, Knaack and Kleiner fouled out of the game in the final quarter.

Kamps and McArdle played the best game, McArdle fouling only twice and Kamps not at all. McArdle and Wille split high point honors with 6 each. Inability to secure rebounds from shorter boys and too much dribbling by one of the guards hurt the Tornadoes' chances a great deal.

Never Top Tree

Never top a tree. A tree from which the top has been lopped off will always be unsightly, and such treatment favors decay of heart wood and earlier breakdown of the tree. When a tree becomes too large it is better to take it out completely and replace it with a new tree, rather than remove the top of the old one.

Winners overcome 23-9 deficit at half time

Coming back in a terrific surge, Arlington's fighting Cardinals overcame a seemingly impossible handicap to hand Crystal Lake's unbeaten Tigers their first licking of the season. Crystal Lake's fast break offense enabled the Tigers to jump off to an early lead—in fact they scored their first basket two seconds after the game began.

Crystal Lake competely dominated the first half, leading at the quarter 12-8, and then spurting to a 23-9 halftime lead. In this first period the Cardinals were not successful in handling the Tiger fast break.

As the second half began, it was apparent that the Cardinals had radically changed their style of play, and as the third quarter went on it became apparent that Arlington had found the answer. Slowing down the Crystal Lake fast break to a walk, the Cards went on an 18 point scoring splurge to trail at the end of the third quarter 33-27, cutting the Tiger lead to 6 points.

As the last quarter began, Arlington continued its drive and scored seven more baskets, five by Charley Page and one each by Hamburg and Al Stroker, while holding Crystal Lake to five free throws and one basket. With only three minutes remaining in the game Arlington led 41-37 and from then on stalled, freezing the ball as much as possible. The game ended 41-40 in favor of Arlington.

Outstanding for the Cardinals was their fine team play, agressiveness and spirit. Page led the scoring with 15 points. Legel and Hayden of Crystal Lake each made 10 points.

Both squads up one notch

Palatine whipped Antioch twice Friday night to move up a notch in the conference standings in both divisions. The varsity now ranks fourth by virtue of a 33-25 victory and the lights are tied for third due to a 25-20 conquest of the Antioch lights who were handed their second setback of the year.

Smith and Vogt hit the loop consistently in the first half to give Palatine a 19-11 lead at the intermission. The passing and shooting were very good. Led by Trieger's side shots Antioch made it a close game from the middle of the third period until three minutes from the finish. The third quarter score was Palatine 24, Antioch 23. With about three minutes remaining in the game Toppel and Smith widened the gap in the score to safe proportions. Antioch scored only two points in the final eight minutes.

Smith had 10 points on two baskets and six out of seven free throws and Vogt had a like total on four fielders and two frees. Trieger of Antioch also scored 10 points on five field goals.

The lightweight game was just about the worst exhibition of basket ball for the first half seen here in years. One team was as bad as the other and the half time count was five all. Coach McElroy put in 12 boys in the first half hoping some one would show a little basketball. In the third period Kolze and LeBaron together scored 13 points to give Palatine an 18-11 lead and then Long Lynn Thompson crashed through with a sterling last quarter effort to score three field goals. Antioch's long shot attack led by Osenbaugh with 11 points, threatened right up to the finish. It was Palatine's sixth victory in 10 games.

Bisons snow under Grant, 53-34 and 44-17

Varsity has 30-12 half time lead

Bensenville snowed under both Grant teams last Friday night in a blizzard of baskets. The varsity ran away to a 30-12 half time lead and finished an easy 53-34 winner. The lights were on top 25-6 at the half way mark and made it a double home victory by a score of 44-17.

Bensenville defense and pass work was none too good but Grant could not take advantage of it. The Bisons, however, had their eye on the loop. Schoppe poured in 18 points, Ernsting 13 and Neuman got 13. Mahoney was Grant's only good scorer with 13.

Cards beat Bisons in seesaw game, 43-36

Heights lights also win, 53-10

In one of the best games of the year in this area Arlington Heights defeated Bensenville Tuesday night 43-36. The two teams were seldom more than a basket apart until the last three minutes when Ehard and Page broke loose to clinch the game.

The score was tied at eight all at the quarter and Bensenville led 18-16 at the half. Arlington was on top 32-31 going into the final period.

Four Arlington boys shared scoring honors, getting all but three points made by the Cardinals. Page had 11, Kleiner and Ehard 10 apiece, and Stroker scored nine. For Bensenville Schoppe tallied 14 points. The work of Webb and Rands at guards for Bensenville was outstanding.

Arlington's junior varsity had a walk-away game as they used their great height advantage to control the ball and consistently beat Bensenville down the court on fast breaks, 53-10. Aldrich scored 20 and Wille 18. Kleiner also played a good rebounding and defensive game and scored seven. Arlington held a 22-5 lead at the half.

Pirates always tough on home floor, may win

Saturday night the game the fans have been waiting for will be played on the Palatine court where Arlington's fast stepping cagers will attempt to break the Pirates' jinx which has now reached 10 straight victories over the Cards. Arlington also hopes to gain possession of the traveling sleigh bells trophy which the Heights Dads Club presented last year to the winners in this interesting series.

Last year Palatine nosed out the Cardinals in two close games 33-27 at Arlington and 32-30 at Palatine. As on several previous occasions when Palatine upset the dope, the Cardinals are the favorites this year on the basis of their fine record of nine victories in 12 games. Arlington's 41-40 victory at Crystal Lake last week at the expense of a previously undefeated team stamps them as one of the best outfits in this area. Last year the same Crystal Lake team scored over 70 points in soundly whipping the Cards. Arlington has victories to their credit over Bensenville and Ela of the Northwest who have both beaten Palatine. The Cards have a full team of letter men who last year came close to beating Palatine. The Pirates have only Clarence Vogt remaining from a year ago.

In spite of all this the Pirates may increase their streak to 11 straight for they are mighty tough customers on their home court where their zone defense has spilled many a favorite in the past. The Pirates will probably start a lineup of three seniors and two juniors with Toppel at center; Vogt and Smith, forwards; and Kinsch and Hapke, guards. Arlington will likely start Botterman and Page, veteran forwards; Kleiner or Stroker, center; and Hamburg and Thompson, guards. Both teams are not particularly tall and have speed and fine ball handlers. It promises to be one of the best played games of the long series. Certainly there will be a packed house. The doors will be open at 6:40. Season tickets are not good for this one.

Al Grosche and Meyer Rose of Waukegan, who recently officiated at the Northwest Conference tournament will be the officials.

Palatine has won 14 out of the last 15 meetings with Arlington, and the last 10 in a row. Here is the streak which Coach Armand Seidler's veteran Cardinals are determined to break:

Palatine 21, Arlington 18.
Palatine 42, Arlington 20.

1938-39
Palatine 39, Arlington 20.
Palatine 25, Arlington 21.

1939-40
Did not meet.

1940-41
Palatine 52, Arlington 39.

1941-42
Palatine 36, Arlington 21.

1942-43
Palatine 28, Arlington 27. (Two Overtimes)
Palatine 46, Arlington 29.

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD A. McELROY

The big news of the week was Arlington's 41-40 victory at Crystal Lake last Friday night which elevates the Cardinals to a tie with the Tigers for first place in the Northeast standings. It is all the more remarkable because Crystal Lake has the same team as last year when they lost only two games and this year they had captured 10 straight prior to the Arlington game and had won the county tourney.

Arlington JV team loses

The same night the 28-27 upset of Arlington's hitherto unbeaten JV team was an even more startling development. The defeat leaves Niles the only undefeated JV squad and the junior Cards are now tied with Crystal Lake for second. Arlington can jump back on top next week however when they have a chance at Niles. This week Lake Forest should not be too tough for either Arlington team on Friday. Our prediction that Crystal Lake's varsity and Arlington's lightweights would go through undefeated was knocked for a row.

Cards doing better than any Arlington team in a decade

You have to go back a long long way in the annals of the Northeast and Northwest Conferences to find the time when Arlington was on top in the varsity division at this stage of the race. In fact Arlington's last heavyweight championship was back in 1930 when they were in on a three way tie with Palatine and Warren.

Big games at Bensenville Friday

Every game, both varsity and lightweight, came out according to the dope sheet Friday. This week one of Ela's rivals for the title will be eliminated when Barrington plays at Bensenville. Both have lost one game. Ela is undefeated. A defeat for either just about means the end of their contention for first place unless something unusual takes place. Bensenville has a distinct home court advantage which might decide a very close battle.

Bardington, still undefeated in the lightweight division at the half way mark in the schedule, can gain two full games with but four left to play by beating the Bensenville lightweights. The junior Bisons are the only team that has lost but one game. The Barrington Ponies are heavy favorites to cop this one. In other games Friday Palatine rates an edge at Northbrook but will have a tough game, Ela should breeze through at Wauconda, and we are inclined to like Antioch's chances at home against Grant.

It started with O'Brien

Yes that is how and when the Palatine string of victories over Arlington started. When Carl Megel left Palatine as coach he had just beaten Arlington three straight in very close games and had evened the count with the Cardinals for his four year coaching stay in Palatine. Taking over for Megel we had a team without a single letterman in 1935-36 and they lost 10 out of 16 games but when it came to the Arlington game they rose up as a poor underdog and won 19-16. The next year, 1936-37, Pirates and Cards again met once and this time it was another new Palatine team but a much stronger one. On the Tuesday of the week Palatine was to play Arlington the Pirates ran all over a good Bensenville team but Johnnie O'Brien, sparkplug of the team got a fingernail scratch on his leg and when Friday came John was in the Palatine hospital with a case of blood poisoning. Without his leadership the Pirates lost 19-6 at Arlington.

Most of the boys who played in that defeat, along with O'Brien, vowed it would not happen again. That determination started the present string of victories. When they took the court the next year at Arlington early in the season they met an experienced Cardinal team that led them 18-17 with a minute and a half to play. O'Brien stole a pass from his spot as front line center in a zone defense and passed to Haemker for the winning basket. Right away O'Brien snapped another one to Haemker and it was 21-18.

At Palatine the same boys really poured it on in a January game 42-20. No games for eight years between the two schools had been decided by more than five points until this one. Palatine played a zone spread over half the court and made it a runaway with 25 points to Arlington's five in the last half on fast breaks from interceptions. Capt. O'Brien, Cliff Haemker, Owen "Bud" Nangle, Russ Goldie, "Chuck" Buenzow and Mervin Fink were the boys who started the winning streak over Arlington.

However, O'Brien was the leader and in our opinion the best leader a Palatine team has had to this day. A year ago last October O'Brien was reported missing as he piloted a Liberator in a bombing raid on the Japs in the South Pacific but he and his pals, who are all in the service, will never be forgotten at Palatine high.

Chuck Page was one of the heroes of the Arlington victory over Crystal Lake last Friday. Arlington trailed 23-9 at the half. In the last quarter Page stole the ball five times to score baskets which beat Crystal Lake at their own style of playing. It was the same kind of comeback that Arlington put over in their football game at Crystal Lake. The Cardinals of 1944-45 do not blow up under pressure. That has been proved time and again this cage season.

Tournament a financial success

The Northwest conference tournament at Wauconda during the holidays was a financial success. The three sessions brought in $146.50, $153.50 and $148.20 for a total take of $448.20. Of this the federal government got $89.64 in tax. After all expenses were paid a total of $106.50 remained to pay the teams at a rate of 25c a mile for transportation and a balance of $55.98 to divide among the schools on the basis of number of games played.

Star of 1943-44 out of action

Botterman, star of last year's Arlington-Palatine game, will not see action this week due to illness. He played only one minute at Crystal Lake. Illness has kept him off his usual form all this season. The same is true of Robinson who is back on the Arlington squad after illness.

Cheap Meals

According to a release of the department of agriculture, in 1936 there were 20 million people living in families receiving some form of government assistance who spent, on the average, five cents or less per person per meal.

Double upset

Cards score 32 in 2nd half to beat Crystal Lake, 41-40

Arlington Lights take first loss on free throws

The myth of the Green Tornadoes' invincibility and also their winning streak was blown up by Crystal Lake's JVs, 28-27. There were a total of 35 fouls called of which 24 were against Arlington and eleven against the Lakers.

The Arlington boys made twelve baskets to Crystal Lake's eight but the total points determined the winner and the Lakers twelve points on free throws to Arlington's three was the determining factor. Aldrich, Knaack and Kleiner fouled out of the game in the final quarter.

Kamps and McArdle played the best game, McArdle fouling only twice and Kamps not at all. McArdle and Wille split high point honors with 6 each. Inability to secure rebounds from shorter boys and too much dribbling by one of the guards hurt the Tornadoes' chances a great deal.

Never Top Tree

Never top a tree. A tree from which the top has been lopped off will always be unsightly, and such treatment favors decay of heart wood and earlier breakdown of the tree. When a tree becomes too large it is better to take it out completely and replace it with a new tree, rather than remove the top of the old one.

Winners overcome 23-9 deficit at half time

Coming back in a terrific surge, Arlington's fighting Cardinals overcame a seemingly impossible handicap to hand Crystal Lake's unbeaten Tigers their first licking of the season. Crystal Lake's fast break offense enabled the Tigers to jump off to an early lead—in fact they scored their first basket two seconds after the game began.

Crystal Lake competely dominated the first half, leading at the quarter 12-8, and then spurting to a 23-9 halftime lead. In this first period the Cardinals were not successful in handling the Tiger fast break.

As the second half began, it was apparent that the Cardinals had radically changed their style of play, and as the third quarter went on it became apparent that Arlington had found the answer. Slowing down the Crystal Lake fast break to a walk, the Cards went on an 18 point scoring splurge to trail at the end of the third quarter 33-27, cutting the Tiger lead to 6 points.

As the last quarter began, Arlington continued its drive and scored seven more baskets, five by Charley Page and one each by Hamburg and Al Stroker, while holding Crystal Lake to five free throws and one basket. With only three minutes remaining in the game Arlington led 41-37 and from then on stalled, freezing the ball as much as possible. The game ended 41-40 in favor of Arlington.

Outstanding for the Cardinals was their fine team play, agressiveness and spirit. Page led the scoring with 15 points. Legel and Hayden of Crystal Lake each made 10 points.

Both squads up one notch

Palatine whipped Antioch twice Friday night to move up a notch in the conference standings in both divisions. The varsity now ranks fourth by virtue of a 33-25 victory and the lights are tied for third due to a 25-20 conquest of the Antioch lights who were handed their second setback of the year.

Smith and Vogt hit the loop consistently in the first half to give Palatine a 19-11 lead at the intermission. The passing and shooting were very good. Led by Trieger's side shots Antioch made it a close game from the middle of the third period until three minutes from the finish. The third quarter score was Palatine 24, Antioch 23. With about three minutes remaining in the game Toppel and Smith widened the gap in the score to safe proportions. Antioch scored only two points in the final eight minutes.

Smith had 10 points on two baskets and six out of seven free throws and Vogt had a like total on four fielders and two frees. Trieger of Antioch also scored 10 points on five field goals.

The lightweight game was just about the worst exhibition of basket ball for the first half seen here in years. One team was as bad as the other and the half time count was five all. Coach McElroy put in 12 boys in the first half hoping some one would show a little basketball. In the third period Kolze and LeBaron together scored 13 points to give Palatine an 18-11 lead and then Long Lynn Thompson crashed through with a sterling last quarter effort to score three field goals. Antioch's long shot attack led by Osenbaugh with 11 points, threatened right up to the finish. It was Palatine's sixth victory in 10 games.

Bisons snow under Grant, 53-34 and 44-17

Varsity has 30-12 half time lead

Bensenville snowed under both Grant teams last Friday night in a blizzard of baskets. The varsity ran away to a 30-12 half time lead and finished an easy 53-34 winner. The lights were on top 25-6 at the half way mark and made it a double home victory by a score of 44-17.

Bensenville defense and pass work was none too good but Grant could not take advantage of it. The Bisons, however, had their eye on the loop. Schoppe poured in 18 points, Ernsting 13 and Neuman got 13. Mahoney was Grant's only good scorer with 13.

Cards beat Bisons in seesaw game, 43-36

Heights lights also win, 53-10

In one of the best games of the year in this area Arlington Heights defeated Bensenville Tuesday night 43-36. The two teams were seldom more than a basket apart until the last three minutes when Ehard and Page broke loose to clinch the game.

The score was tied at eight all at the quarter and Bensenville led 18-16 at the half. Arlington was on top 32-31 going into the final period.

Four Arlington boys shared scoring honors, getting all but three points made by the Cardinals. Page had 11, Kleiner and Ehard 10 apiece, and Stroker scored nine. For Bensenville Schoppe tallied 14 points. The work of Webb and Rands at guards for Bensenville was outstanding.

Arlington's junior varsity had a walk-away game as they used their great height advantage to control the ball and consistently beat Bensenville down the court on fast breaks, 53-10. Aldrich scored 20 and Wille 18. Kleiner also played a good rebounding and defensive game and scored seven. Arlington held a 22-5 lead at the half.

Saturday night the game the fans have been waiting for will be played on the Palatine court where Arlington's fast stepping cagers will attempt to break the Pirates' jinx which has now reached 10 straight victories over the Cards. Arlington also hopes to gain possession of the traveling sleigh bells trophy which the Heights Dads Club presented last year to the winners in this interesting series.

Last year Palatine nosed out the Cardinals in two close games 33-27 at Arlington and 32-30 at Palatine. As on several previous occasions when Palatine upset the dope, the Cardinals are the favorites this year on the basis of their fine record of nine victories in 12 games. Arlington's 41-40 victory at Crystal Lake last week at the expense of a previously undefeated team stamps them as one of the best outfits in this area. Last year the same Crystal Lake team scored over 70 points in soundly whipping the Cards. Arlington has victories to their credit over Bensenville and Ela of the Northwest who have both beaten Palatine. The Cards have a full team of letter men who last year came close to beating Palatine. The Pirates have only Clarence Vogt remaining from a year ago.

In spite of all this the Pirates may increase their streak to 11 straight for they are mighty tough customers on their home court where their zone defense has spilled many a favorite in the past. The Pirates will probably start a lineup of three seniors and two juniors with Toppel at center; Vogt and Smith, forwards; and Kinsch and Hapke, guards. Arlington will likely start Botterman and Page, veteran forwards; Kleiner or Stroker, center; and Hamburg and Thompson, guards. Both teams are not particularly tall and have speed and fine ball handlers. It promises to be one of the best played games of the long series. Certainly there will be a packed house. The doors will be open at 6:40. Season tickets are not good for this one.

Palatine has won 14 out of the last 15 meetings with Arlington, and the last 10 in a row. Here is the streak which Coach Armand Seidler's veteran Cardinals are determined to break:

Palatine 21, Arlington 18.
Palatine 42, Arlington 20.

1938-39
Palatine 39, Arlington 20.
Palatine 25, Arlington 21.

1939-40
Did not meet.

1940-41
Palatine 52, Arlington 39.

1941-42
Palatine 36, Arlington 21.

1942-43
Palatine 28, Arlington 27. (Two Overtimes)
Palatine 46, Arlington 29.

1943-44
Palatine 33, Arlington 27.
Palatine 32, Arlington 30.

The lineup

Palatine		Arlington Hts.

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD A. McELROY

The big news of the week was Arlington's 41-40 victory at Crystal Lake last Friday night which elevates the Cardinals to a tie with the Tigers for first place in the Northeast standings. It is all the more remarkable because Crystal Lake has the same team as last year when they lost only two games and this year they had captured 10 straight prior to the Arlington game and had won the county tourney.

Arlington JV team loses

The same night the 28-27 upset of Arlington's hitherto unbeaten JV team was an even more startling development. The defeat leaves Niles the only undefeated JV squad and the junior Cards are now tied with Crystal Lake for second. Arlington can jump back on top next week however when they have a chance at Niles. This week Lake Forest should not be too tough for either Arlington team on Friday. Our prediction that Crystal Lake's varsity and Arlington's lightweights would go through undefeated was knocked for a row.

Cards doing better than any Arlington team in a decade

You have to go back a long long way in the annals of the Northeast and Northwest Conferences to find the time when Arlington was on top in the varsity division at this stage of the race. In fact Arlington's last heavyweight championship was back in 1930 when they were in on a three way tie with Palatine and Warren.

Big games at Bensenville Friday

Every game, both varsity and lightweight, came out according to the dope sheet Friday. This week one of Ela's rivals for the title will be eliminated when Barrington plays at Bensenville. Both have lost one game. Ela is undefeated. A defeat for either just about means the end of their contention for first place unless something unusual takes place. Bensenville has a distinct home court advantage which might decide a very close battle.

Bardington, still undefeated in the lightweight division at the half way mark in the schedule, can gain two full games with but four left to play by beating the Bensenville lightweights. The junior Bisons are the only team that has lost but one game. The Barrington Ponies are heavy favorites to cop this one. In other games Friday Palatine rates an edge at Northbrook but will have a tough game, Ela should breeze through at Wauconda, and we are inclined to like Antioch's chances at home against Grant.

It started with O'Brien

Yes that is how and when the Palatine string of victories over Arlington started. When Carl Megel left Palatine as coach he had just beaten Arlington three straight in very close games and had evened the count with the Cardinals for his four year coaching stay in Palatine. Taking over for Megel we had a team without a single letterman in 1935-36 and they lost 10 out of 16 games but when it came to the Arlington game they rose up as a poor under dog and won 19-16. The next year, 1936-37, Pirates and Cards again met once and this time it was another new Palatine team but a much stronger one. On the Tuesday of the week Palatine was to play Arlington the Pirates ran all over a good Bensenville team but Johnnie O'Brien, sparkplug of the team got a fingernail scratch on his leg and when Friday came John was in the Palatine hospital with a case of blood poisoning. Without his leadership the Pirates lost 19-6 at Arlington.

Most of the boys who played in that defeat, along with O'Brien, vowed it would not happen again. That determination started the present string of victories. When they took the court the next year at Arlington early in the season they met an experienced Cardinal team that led them 18-17 with a minute and a half to play. O'Brien stole a pass from his spot as front line center in a zone defense and passed to Haemker for the winning basket. Right away O'Brien snapped another one to Haemker and it was 21-18.

At Palatine the same boys really poured it on in a January game 42-20. No games for eight years between the two schools had been decided by more than five points until this one. Palatine played a zone spread over half the court and made it a runaway with 25 points to Arlington's five in the last half on fast breaks from interceptions. Capt. O'Brien, Cliff Haemker, Owen "Bud" Nangle, Russ Goldy, "Chuck" Buenzow and Mervin Fink were the boys who started the winning streak over Arlington.

However, O'Brien was the leader and in our opinion the best leader a Palatine team has had to this day. A year ago last October O'Brien was reported missing as he piloted a Liberator in a bombing raid on the Japs in the South Pacific but he and his pals, who are all in the service, will never be forgotten at Palatine high.

Tournament a financial success

The Northwest conference tournament at Wauconda during the holidays was a financial success. The three sessions brought in $146.50, $153.50 and $148.20 for a total take of $448.20. Of this the federal government got $89.64 in tax. After all expenses were paid a total of $106.50 remained to pay the teams at a rate of 25c a mile for transportation and a balance of $55.98 to divide among the schools on the basis of number of games played.

Star of 1943-44 out of action

Botterman, star of last year's Arlington-Palatine game, will not see action this week due to illness. He played only one minute at Crystal Lake. Illness has kept him off his usual form all this season. The same is true of Robinson who is back on the Arlington squad after illness.

Cheap Meals

According to a release of the Department of agriculture, in 1936 there were 20 million people living in families receiving some form of government assistance who spent, on the average, five cents or less per person per meal.

With Uncle Sam

Oklahoma

Now at Frederick, Oklahoma, is James Don Hanauer of Arlington Heights. Don was home on a short furlough in December, he and his wife leaving for Kansas, December 29.

Don entered service in August of '43. His most recent station was at Independence, Kansas. He is now flying B-25s, taking 15 weeks of further training in Oklahoma. Don and his wife spent the holidays at the Charles McCoy and William Hanauer homes.

Herman E. Fues, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Fues, 105 Prospect Manor, Mt. Prospect, was graduated recently from the Naval Air Technical Training Center located at Norman, Oklahoma. While at the Norman school he studied the aviation specialty field for which his recruit training aptitude tests showed he was best suited, and is now eligible to earn a petty officer rate.

Home on furlough from Camp Gruber, Oklahoma, is Edward Peters of Arlington Heights. He arrived home January 2, and reports back to camp Saturday. Edward was stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., before reporting to Gruber the end of last year.

Edward Peters of Arlington Heights has returned to Camp Gruber, Oklahoma. He was home for 6 days.

Oahu

"Days are nice and warm here, but two blankets feel good at night. Temperature doesn't go below 65 degrees, but I guess my blood is thinning. Met Eddie Bublitz Christmas day, but haven't seen Art Kehe yet. Am rounding out my second year in the army, and will be glad when this is over."

His address is Cpl. W. W. Wiese, 36677486, APO 957, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Correction

Last week's editions erroneously stated Capt. Otto Masny, now missing in Germany, was awarded the Silver Star. He was given the Distinguished Service Cross for his action on D-Day, instead.

Recent list of casualties included Pvt. Edward Becker of Bensenville as wounded in the Pacific. He was wounded in France. His address is Ward B-24, Altman Hospital, Camp Edinburg, Indiana.

Pacific

From the Pacific comes another late arrival Christmas card, this one from Dick Dieball of Arlington Heights. His address is Cpl. Richard Dieball, 30613437, APO 711, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Washington

"Left my ship several weeks ago and stopped off at Pearl Harbor for a short stay. Now there's a lovely place for you. Those Honolulu gals are a swell outfit. I saw them with my own eyes, and brother, there's a question as to they're being natives.

"My stay in Seattle has been excellent. The natives here show a navy man real hospitality. I've met any and all kinds, and they wine and dine you.

"Be here for a few months for a rest then home. My Radar is shortcircuited or something. Anyway, it's all love and kisses and we really get treated fine.

"I'm playing in the navy band here, a 16 piece outfit. We travel all over Seattle and I'm glad to be with this setup, called the 'Rhythm Doctors.'"

"For the future I expect the mayor of Arlington Heights to issue me a license for the best corner in town to sell my apples when I get back. If I can't sell them I'll eat 'em, so I can't lose. Have to make a few nickels for a short beer.

"The American Legion and the Veterans are entertaining us all the time and they do it up good. I think I did my share of the eating. Of course they serve the spirits fermente, but the stuff throws me, so I have to be careful.

"Had a wonderful Christmas and I will be looking for the gifts my family and friends sent me next 4th of July. For New Year's they gave us a real celebration in town. I had a sample of everything around and first thing I know some guy pipes up and says, 'Look, brother, that's my wife, mind if I cut in?'

"Well so it goes and that's how things go. The navy has been swell and treated me well. Won't be long and I'll be seeing Arlington and my home.

"I was on duty over Christmas here but got off for New Year's. Not too bad. I'm scheduled to start school immediately, and that is one thing I won't like. They say we will be up here for eight weeks."

Honored Viceroy

All in a day's work

Aids rescue of two from burning So. Pac. bomber

Service Force Engineers perform prodigious feats of construction on our airdromes, road systems and docks at each of the new bases we are pushing forward toward Japan. These feats, however, comprise but the usual day's round to these rugged performers.

There are occasions, however, when heroism and initiative are the needs of the moment. There, too, they respond with an alacrity and competence that is too often unsung.

Illustrative of such acts of gallantry by Service troops who do their work hard on the heels of the advancing infantrymen was the much commended action of 3 members of the 229th Aviation Engineer Battalion, an organization which has accomplished record breaking jobs all over New Guinea.

Acting in concert with two of his men while rushing an airstrip to completion recently at a forward base, Capt. Edward A. Spencer, 31, of Baltimore, Md., was instrumental in rescuing the pilots and an entrapped gunner from the wreckage of a burning bomber plane although they did so while in constant danger of the explosion of the bombs jammed in the bays.

Engaged with Capt. Spencer in the rescue were 1st Sgt. Andrew Conrad, Cleveland, Ohio, and Staff Sgt. Ernest H. Gray, whose wife resides at 521 South Evergreen ave., Arlington Heights.

Plane noses over

While the three members of the 229th were working on the bomber strip under construction, a bombing mission left for a rendezvous at some distant Jap base. One plane failed to get off the ground and nosed over on the taxiway. As it did, flames burst forth in the forward section.

Capt. Spencer, noting that the pilot had been rendered unconscious by the crackup, rushed in without concern for escaping gas, and succeeded in pulling the pilot out through a forward window.

It was then discovered that the gunner had been unable to escape the doomed bomber because his foot was jammed between the bomb bay and a bomb. Fearing that to attempt to remove the bombs would lead to their detonation, amputation of the entrapped foot seemed the only solution.

Save his foot

The engineers—old hands at moving weights—thought they could do better. And so they did.

Sgts. Conrad and Gray succeeded in placing a cable under the delicately balanced and potentially deadly bombs, and, by careful maneuvering, were able to ease the bombs from the crushed foot of the gunner so that he could be lifted out. They continued at the task despite becoming ill themselves from working in the confined quarters full of the noxious fumes of escaping high octane gasoline.

In the interim the wounded man had three quarts of plasma administered to him, but he lived to recover and that without becoming crippled.

The courageous actions of these men led to several commendations for their heroism. They feel, however, that this kind of thing also comes in the line of the day's duty. For Capt. Spencer it would seem particularly in a family tradition, since of the five Spencer brothers who have been in the army during this war, he alone has remained unscathed, three brothers having been killed in action in Africa and Europe, and the fourth now in a hospital in England recovering from wounds received during the invasion of France.

England

Now recovering from wounds received in battle is Staff Sergeant Gerhard Rugen of Northbrook. He is recuperating in an American hospital in England.

Now in a hospital in England is Pvt. Gilbert Hayes of Palatine. Gilbert was serving in France when he developed a case of trench foot.

DES PLAINES

William H. Straight who died intestate in Oshkosh, Wis., December 18, left an estimated $8,000 estate shown by a Probate court report. His heirs are his widow, Pauline, of 45 E. Greenwood Dr., Des Plaines, and daughter, LaVerne Martin of Oak Park.

France

Corporal John B. Ashton, 20, of 189 Carlyle Place, Arlington Heights, an armorer, is currently serving with a First Tactical Air Force P-47 Thunderbolt unit, which celebrated its first Christmas overseas at an advance base in France.

This outfit, strafing and dive-bombing enemy fortifications in the path of the American Seventh Army, provides close air support. Now attacking the enemy inside Germany, this veteran unit is part of the XII TAC, which comprises the American component of First TAF. Although dive-bombing is the primary function of the group, 53 enemy aircraft were destroyed and 23 were damaged since its arrival in the ETO.

Besides preparing for the landings in France, a number of red letter days stand out in the history of the group. The dawn-to-dusk invasion cover, the low level, pin point bombing of German gun positions, the elimination of over 800 enemy troops near Cherbourg, the destruction of six F. W. 190's and 200 vehicles in two days.

The unit has been honored with a commendation from Brigadier General Gordon P. Saville for destroying six enemy aircraft in spite of a larger enemy force. The ground forces praised the group for repulsing counter-attack and for dropping supplies to an isolated infantry battalion. A radio message received from the men said: "Thanks to our pals in the air Corps, we eat for the first time in three days."

In the ten months since the group left the U. S., Cpl. Ashton has received the ETO ribbon with two battle stars for the Air Offensive of Europe and Normandy campaign.

"Can now reveal I am with Patton's army in France," writes Warren Henken of Arlington Heights. Warren just recently sent some souvenirs home, a German sleeve emblem, and two German coins. His address is Cpl. Warren J. Henken, 36726463, APO 403, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

Now back in the States after a tour of duty in France is Staff Sergeant Frank Barnich of Northbrook.

Oklahoma

Now at Frederick, Oklahoma, is James Don Hanauer of Arlington Heights. Don was home on a short furlough in December, he and his wife leaving for Kansas, December 29.

Don entered service in August of '43. His most recent station was at Independence, Kansas. He is now flying B-25s, taking 15 weeks of further training in Oklahoma. Don and his wife spent the holidays at the Charles McCoy and William Hanauer homes.

Herman E. Fues, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Fues, 105 Prospect Manor, Mt. Prospect, was graduated recently from the Naval Air Technical Training Center located at Norman, Oklahoma. While at the Norman school he studied the aviation specialty field for which his recruit training aptitude tests showed he was best suited, and is now eligible to earn a petty officer rate.

Home on furlough from Camp Gruber, Oklahoma, is Edward Peters of Arlington Heights. He arrived home January 2, and reports back to camp Saturday. Edward was stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., before reporting to Gruber the end of last year.

Edward Peters of Arlington Heights has returned to Camp Gruber, Oklahoma. He was home for 6 days.

Oahu

"Days are nice and warm here, but two blankets feel good at night. Temperature doesn't go below 65 degrees, but I guess my blood is thinning. Met Eddie Bublitz Christmas day, but haven't seen Art Kehe yet. Am rounding out my second year in the army, and will be glad when this is over."

His address is Cpl. W. W. Wiese, 36677486, APO 957, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Correction

Last week's editions erroneously stated Capt. Otto Masny, now missing in Germany, was awarded the Silver Star. He was given the Distinguished Service Cross for his action on D-Day, instead.

Recent list of casualties included Pvt. Edward Becker of Bensenville as wounded in the Pacific. He was wounded in France. His address is Ward B-24, Altman hospital, Camp Edinburg, Indiana.

Pacific

From the Pacific comes another late arrival Christmas card, this one from Dick Dieball of Arlington Heights. His address is Cpl. Richard Dieball, 30613437, APO 711, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Washington

"Left my ship several weeks ago and stopped off at Pearl Harbor for a short stay. Now there's a lovely place for you. Those Honolulu gals are a swell outfit. I saw them with my own eyes, and brother, there's a question as to they're being natives.

"If they are, they're close cousins to the Japs and a native can't tell you what breed they are.

"My stay in Seattle has been excellent. The natives here show a navy man real hospitality. I've met any and all kinds, and they wine and dine you.

"Be here for a few months for a rest then home. My Radar is shortcircuited or something. Anyway, it's all love and kisses and we really get treated fine.

"I'm playing in the navy band here, a 16 piece outfit. We travel all over Seattle and I'm glad to be with this setup, called the 'Rhythm Doctors.'"

"For the future I expect the mayor of Arlington Heights to issue me a license for the best corner in town to sell my apples when I get back. If I can't sell them I'll eat 'em, so I can't lose. Have to make a few nickels for a short beer.

"The American Legion and the Veterans are entertaining us all the time and they do it up good. I think I did my share of the eating. Of course they serve the spirits fermente, but the stuff throws me, so I have to be careful.

"Had a wonderful Christmas and I will be looking for the gifts my family and friends sent me next 4th of July. For New Year's they gave us a real celebration in town. I had a sample of everything around and first thing I know some guy pipes up and says, 'Look, brother, that's my wife, mind if I cut in?'

"Well so it goes and that's how things go. The navy has been swell and treated me well. Won't be long and I'll be seeing Arlington and my home.

His address is S. Greschner, S2c, US Naval Hospital, Wd 9, Seattle, Wash.

"I was on duty over Christmas here but got off for New Year's. Not too bad. I'm scheduled to start school immediately, and that is one thing I won't like. They say we will be up here for eight weeks."

Honored Viceroy

Albuquerque, founded in 1706, was named in honor of the duke of Albuquerque, viceroy of New Spain.

All in a day's work

Aids rescue of two from burning So. Pac. bomber

Service Force Engineers perform prodigious feats of construction on our airdromes, road systems and docks at each of the new bases we are pushing forward toward Japan. These feats, however, comprise but the usual day's round to these rugged performers.

There are occasions, however, when heroism and initiative are the needs of the moment. There, too, they respond with an alacrity and competence that is too often unsung.

Illustrative of such acts of gallantry by Service troops who do their work hard on the heels of the advancing infantrymen was the much commended action of 3 members of the 229th Aviation Engineer Battalion, an organization which has accomplished record breaking jobs all over New Guinea.

Acting in concert with two of his men while rushing an airstrip to completion recently at a forward base, Capt. Edward A. Spencer, 31, of Baltimore, Md., was instrumental in rescuing the pilots and an entrapped gunner from the wreckage of a burning bomber plane although they did so while in constant danger of the explosion of the bombs jammed in the bays.

Engaged with Capt. Spencer in the rescue were 1st Sgt. Andrew Conrad, Cleveland, Ohio, and Staff Sgt. Ernest H. Gray, whose wife resides at 521 South Evergreen ave., Arlington Heights.

Plane noses over

While the three members of the 229th were working on the bomber strip under construction, a bombing mission left for a rendezvous at some distant Jap base. One plane failed to get off the ground and nosed over on the taxiway. As it did, flames burst forth in the forward section.

Capt. Spencer, noting that the pilot had been rendered unconscious by the crackup, rushed in without concern for escaping gas, and succeeded in pulling the pilot out through a forward window.

It was then discovered that the gunner had been unable to escape the doomed bomber because his foot was jammed between the bomb bay and a bomb. Fearing that to attempt to remove the bombs would lead to their detonation, amputation of the entrapped foot seemed the only solution.

Save his foot

The engineers—old hands at moving weights—thought they could do better. And so they did.

Sgts. Conrad and Gray succeeded in placing a cable under the delicately balanced and potentially deadly bombs, and, by careful maneuvering, were able to ease the bombs from the crushed foot of the gunner so that he could be lifted out. They continued at the task despite becoming ill themselves from working in the confined quarters full of the noxious fumes of escaping high octane gasoline.

In the interim the wounded man had three quarts of plasma administered to him, but he lived to recover and that without becoming crippled.

The courageous actions of these men led to several commendations for their heroism. They feel, however, that this kind of thing also comes in the line of the day's duty. For Capt. Spencer it would seem particularly in a family tradition, since of the five Spencer brothers who have been in the army during this war, he alone has remained unscathed, three brothers having been killed in action in Africa and Europe, and the fourth now in a hospital in England recovering from wounds received during the invasion of France.

England

Now recovering from wounds received in battle is Staff Sergeant Gerhard Rugen of Northbrook. He is recuperating in an American hospital in England.

Now in a hospital in England is Pvt. Gilbert Hayes of Palatine. Gilbert was serving in France when he developed a case of trench foot.

DES PLAINES

William H. Straight who died intestate in Oshkosh, Wis., December 18, left an estimated $8,000 estate shown by a Probate court report. His heirs are his widow, Pauline, of 45 E. Greenwood Dr., Des Plaines, and daughter, LaVerne Martin of Oak Park.

France

Corporal John B. Ashton, 20, of 189 Carlyle Place, Arlington Heights, an armorer, is currently serving with a First Tactical Air Force P-47 Thunderbolt unit, which celebrated its first Christmas overseas at an advance base in France.

This outfit, strafing and dive-bombing enemy fortifications in the path of the American Seventh Army, provides close air support. Now attacking the enemy inside Germany, this veteran unit is part of the XII TAC, which comprises the American component of First TAF. Although dive-bombing is the primary function of the group, 53 enemy aircraft were destroyed and 23 were damaged since its arrival in the ETO.

Besides preparing for the landings in France, a number of red letter days stand out in the history of the group. The dawn-to-dusk invasion cover, the low level, pin point bombing of German gun positions, the elimination of over 800 enemy troops near Cherbourg, the destruction of six F. W. 190's and 200 vehicles in two days.

The unit has been honored with a commendation from Brigadier General Gordon P. Saville for destroying six enemy aircraft in spite of a larger enemy force. The ground forces praised the group for repulsing counter-attack and for dropping supplies to an isolated infantry battalion. A radio message received from the men said: "Thanks to our pals in the air Corps, we eat for the first time in three days."

In the ten months since the group left the U. S., Cpl. Ashton has received the ETO ribbon with two battle stars for the Air Offensive of Europe and Normandy campaign.

"Can now reveal I am with Patton's army in France," writes Warren Henken of Arlington Heights. Warren just recently sent some souvenirs home, a German sleeve emblem, and two German coins. His address is Cpl. Warren J. Henken, 36726463, APO 403, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

Now back in the States after a tour of duty in France is Staff Sergeant Frank Barnich of Northbrook.

Now in a hospital in France is Sgt. Ray Rugen of Northbrook.

New Mexico

Home from Clovis, New Mexico, for a few days is Harold Luettschwager of Arlington Heights. Harold arrived home January 3, and is scheduled to leave again this Saturday. He is a gunner on a B-24. Cpl. Luettschwager expects to report to Harrington, Kansas, in the near future.

No. Carolina

Now at Maxton, North Carolina, is Irvin McDougall of Arlington Heights.

"Just a card giving change of address. I hope to get my bundle of joy on Saturdays and find out how the other boys are doing. Keep the paper coming."

His address is Pvt. Irvin L. McDougall, 810th AAFBU, Laurinburg-Maxton AAF, Maxton, N. C.

Pvt. Hobart Hayes of Palatine has returned to General Moore hospital in North Carolina after a two week furlough at home. Hobart is recovering from jungle rash suffered in the Pacific.

Luxemburg

Donald Johnson is now in Luxemburg. Don is a graduate of Arlington Heights high school, and was known as "Swede" in high school days. He lived in the Heights for several years.

"Have returned from the hospital to my outfit, a cannon company with the infantry. I often remember and recall the days in Arlington, quite a long time ago. I'll be glad when this mess is over and I can pay a visit to Arlington."

California

Private Robert Hartmann of Wheeling left for the west coast on Thursday at the close of his 30-day furlough. He planned to visit his cousin Douglas Cargill S1c who is stationed at Port Heueneme before reporting for duty on the 8th.

THIS SPACE RESERVED FOR THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF BARRINGTON

New Mexico

Home from Clovis, New Mexico, for a few days is Harold Luettschwager of Arlington Heights. Harold arrived home January 3, and is scheduled to leave again this Saturday. He is a gunner on a B-24. Cpl. Luettschwager expects to report to Harrington, Kansas, in the near future.

No. Carolina

Now at Maxton, North Carolina, is Irvin McDougall of Arlington Heights.

"Just a card giving change of address. I hope to get my bundle of joy on Saturdays and find out how the other boys are doing. Keep the paper coming."

His address is Pvt. Irvin L. McDougall, 810th AAFBU, Laurinburg-Maxton AAF, Maxton, N. C.

Pvt. Hobart Hayes of Palatine has returned to General Moore hospital in North Carolina after a two week furlough at home. Hobart is recovering from jungle rash suffered in the Pacific.

Luxemburg

Donald Johnson is now in Luxemburg. Don is a graduate of Arlington Heights high school, and was known as "Swede" in high school days. He lived in the Heights for several years.

"Have returned from the hospital to my outfit, a cannon company with the infantry. I often remember and recall the days in Arlington, quite a long time ago. I'll be glad when this mess is over and I can pay a visit to Arlington."

California

Private Robert Hartmann of Wheeling left for the west coast on Thursday at the close of his 30-day furlough. He planned to visit his cousin Douglas Cargill S1c who is stationed at Port Heueneme before reporting for duty on the 8th.

Now at Shoemaker, California, is Eugene Engel of Roselle. He was formerly stationed at Great Lakes. His address is Eugene Engel, S2c, 14th Batt Brks 1443, USN TADCEN, Shoemaker, Calif.

Changing his address at Auburn, California, is Arthur Ward of Wheeling. His address is Sgt. Arthur Ward, DeWitt Gen'l Hosp., Auburn, Calif.

Virginia

Home on leave from Norfolk, Va. last week was Harry Helfer of Arlington Heights. Harry arrived home Thursday night, and left again Tuesday from Norfolk, Virginia, from where he has been serving aboard an LSM.

Nok at Norfolk, Va., after leaving Great Lakes is Elmer Kirchhoff of Mt. Prospect. His address is S2c Elmer Kirchhoff, 946-30-33, Gun Crew 3951, Armd Gd Sch., Shelton (US Rt 60), Norfolk, Va.

Home on furlough from Fort Meyer, Virginia, was Pfc. Mary Margaret Hull of Arlington Heights. She came home to serve as maid of honor at the wedding of her sister, Harriet.

Changing his address at Norfolk, Va., is Wallace Broeske of Arlington Heights. His address is GM2c Wallace Broeske, ATB Camp Bradford, LST Crew 4819, Norfolk, Va.

Kenny Abel of Roselle has changed his address at Camp Lee, Virginia. It is now S/Sgt. K. E. Abel, 87th Qm Trng Co., 15th Bn, Camp Lee, Va.

Dutch New Guinea

From Dutch New Guinea comes word from Irwin Hahnfeldt of Palatine.

"I haven't received a paper in about 2 or 3 months but I suppose that they will catch up to me sometime. I am now somewhere in Dutch New Guinea."

Belgium

Received in Arlington this week was a summer issue of Yank the Army weekly, on whose cover appears Norman and Marvin Russell of Arlington Heights. Marv and Norman were in the front end of an LST approaching Cherbourg when the picture of the ship was snapped.

Norman's face can be seen quite plainly, while only Marvin's hand is visible. The two boys are now in Belgium, where they have charge of a tool shop.

It Happened Here

Among our most cherished acquaintances we count at least three cats of super intelligence, though all cats since Egypt are creatures of inscrutable wisdom. Kitty-next-door has a regal dignity due to the many lives he has lived and under what different hierarchies who can say? He wears a bell as some people wear medals with a haughty aloofness and on pleasant days suns himself on his front porch keeping a baleful eye on the unfriendly street of boys and dogs; three times at least he has been treed in our sidewalk tree and, my dears, what a commotion! Supposed to be too dignified—or too old for active parts like tree climbing, we have certainly seen him making high flying jumps after the saucy squirrels. As he suns himself now, we are convinced he is reliving some of his lives in Egyptian courts. Spats is a cat who from kittenhood has been the playmate of two sturdy little girls; property rights among the three have not always been observed as carefully as one could wish but Spats has no intention of sharing his Xmas gift of a catnip mouse; he hides it back of the hot stove where little hands cannot reach, and when he brings it out to play with he is careful to return it again after the game. Black Sambo's catnip mouse was done up inside of a package of gifts intended for the whole family and delivered a few days before the Day. One evening the family were astonished to see Sambo disporting himself on the living room rug with a new catnip mouse. Where upon earth! Investigation showed that he had discovered the hidden Christmas package, clawed it open, read the label and bro't out his own present. Snooksy, the third cat, has a rooted objection to phonograph records, if one is started, he leaps to the cabinet and bats the thing off. When the boys play poker, Snooksy sits up in his chair and watches until he decides to take a hand when he curves a graceful paw and draws all the chips to himself.

—S'AMUSER.

Easy Churning

For easy churning the cream should contain 30 to 40 per cent of butterfat. Thin cream is often the cause of difficult churning.

It Happened Here

Among our most cherished acquaintances we count at least three cats of super intelligence, though all cats since Egypt are creatures of inscrutable wisdom. Kitty-next-door has a regal dignity due to the many lives he has lived and under what different hierarchies who can say? He wears a bell as some people wear medals with a haughty aloofness and on pleasant days suns himself on his front porch keeping a baleful eye on the unfriendly street of boys and dogs; three times at least he has been treed in our sidewalk tree and, my dears, what a commotion! Supposed to be too dignified—or too old for active parts like tree climbing, we have certainly seen him making high flying jumps after the saucy squirrels. As he suns himself now, we are convinced he is reliving some of his lives in Egyptian courts. Spats is a cat who from kittenhood has been the playmate of two sturdy little girls; property rights among the three have not always been observed as carefully as one could wish but Spats has no intention of sharing his Xmas gift of a catnip mouse; he hides it back of the hot stove where little hands cannot reach, and when he brings it out to play with he is careful to return it again after the game. Black Sambo's catnip mouse was done up inside of a package of gifts intended for the whole family and delivered a few days before the Day. One evening the family were astonished to see Sambo disporting himself on the living room rug with a new catnip mouse. Where upon earth! Investigation showed that he had discovered the hidden Christmas package, clawed it open, read the label and bro't out his own present. Snooksy, the third cat, has a rooted objection to phonograph records, if one is started, he leaps to the cabinet and bats the thing off. When the boys play poker, Snooksy sits up in his chair and watches until he decides to take a hand when he curves a graceful paw and draws all the chips to himself.

—S'AMUSER.

Easy Churning

For easy churning the cream should contain 30 to 40 per cent of butterfat. Thin cream is often the cause of difficult churning.

With Uncle Sam

Pacific

"Bet you're kinda surprised to hear from this high traveling lad, but don't think this boy has forgotten about our mutual occasions of former—and need I add??—never to be forgotten days. Yes, when I lean back and think of my seventeen months in our dear Uncle's employment—to that first day in Park Ridge when, being in charge of that oh so innocent group of greetings receivers, I stepped so nonchalantly on one of the Northwestern eastbounders at seven in the morning to find that only one of the group had accompanied me and by the time I realized it we were in Norwood Park. As a finis, they caught up to me—and my now unknown companion—on the next train and lucky am I that they were a well-tempered group willing to submit to the goings-on of your so very truly greenest of this greenest of all greenest would be green recruits (salvo off on the left foot!!)

"Reporting to Fort Custer, Mich. for the highly mass production innoculations and initial army classification—that, I wonder about!!—I found my barracks bags on my shoulders after a few days and on my way to Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, for basic training—cut to a month and a half as the engineers were calling from Camp Ellis, Illinois. I was one of the fortunate—said with a certain amount of uncertainty—to be transferred. They must have figured my ability to 'engineer' made me qualified—how were they to know it was not the same type of engineering!!

"Camp Ellis found me doing classification work for the 1306tn General Service Engineers and after a few months was the origin of my ASTP application, which was accepted—a point which proved to be one of the intriguing mysteries of the decade. Not withstanding the how or whyfore—after a series of screening tests at Champaign, home of the University of Illinois, or is someone going to get technical and tell me that the U. of I. is at Urbana??—I entered the basic phase of ASTP at Bradley Institute in good ole Peoria. Peoria—what a town, what girls, what civic pride, what girls, what a homey atmosphere, what girls. And then of course, we studied—what girls!!

"February brought me to Truman's Missouri—Fort Leonard Wood—and three well spent months back in the engineers. May found me in California—my new home, incidentally—for another three months spent at Camp Beale and Camp Stoneman. Sacramento offered plesant memories, being quite an old well established 'sunshine' city—California's historic capitol buildings, picturesque scenery, undaunted California civic pride, and so not to disappoint some of my wide-eyed friends—what girls!! Well, that about ends it—Fort Custer, Michigan, to Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, to Camp Ellis, Illinois, to the University of Illinois to Bradley Tech. to Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, to Camp Beale and Camp Stoneman, California, and, oh yes, the unfanfared trip to the Docks of San Francisco and my last remembrance of any significant sight in the states—the unique experience of seeing the under-side of the Golden Gate Bridge.

"Over the pond brought me the sight of these only-glamorous-in-the-movies South Sea Islands—New Hebrides, Fiji, New Caledonia, and to two censored spots, the last of which is my present home—the term 'home' being used very loosely here—where I am doing cryptographic work in the Army Air Corps. About the only local color of our island you may be interested in is an active volcano and an occasional earthquake that are proving interesting to me in an otherwise uninteresting part of the world. And this time, when I say 'what girls' I mean it as a question and not as an explanation.

"Well, look at me!! This sudden urge to write you arose over the fact that I was sitting here gazing about the other day and my eyes fell upon our calendar, bringing me to the realization that we are well into the hoilday season. Holiday season always brings glorious memories of old friends and I just wanted to let you know that I am still on earth—although when I look around me, brothers and sisters, you certainly could have fooled me—and not to admit you to this boredom for whatever the length of reading time this has been for you."

His address is Pfc. Paul W. Salvo, 36756353, APO 706, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Expected home soon after seeing action in the Pacific is Capt. Orson Rau of Arlington Heights. Orson wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Rau, that he expected to be in California about Christmas, and might be able to get home shortly after. He is pilot of a troop transport.

Italy

Melvin Beese of Mt. Prospect writes from Italy,

"I'm doing O. K. for the time being and I'm not working hard. I have 3 medical slips for light duty and I keep my tent clean as my light duty.

"I'm assigned to a laundry quartermaster outfit and went to North Africa to get into it, but was not wanted at the present time. We had an excellent dinner for Thanksgiving and above all, we had all the beer we wanted, but it's not the good old U. S. A. beer.

"We returned to Italy and had a moonlight cruise over the Mediterranean Sea, but it was a British ship and they specialize in tea. I don't like it. They don't eat as good as we do even if ours isn't worth much, either. We had a good Christmas dinner but I took a pass instead.

"It feels good to be a rear echelon commando invading the Red Crosses and nice cool cots. I give my regards to all the soldiers on all fronts. I lost some of my buddies addresses so the only way I can really wish them a happy New Year is through the Herald.

"I hope you don't misunderstand when I say I did not receive your Enterprise over 8 times in the year of 1944, but appreciate getting the 8 anyway. I don't know what happened to the other 41 copies. I do not blame your staff, but if I am forgotten please mark the card at your office that I'm supposed to get a copy of the Herald. It's a morale builder and it's news from home. I really would appreciate the news."

His address is Pfc. Melvin W. Beese, 36642798, APO 372, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

Pfc. Thomas F. Corbeet, son of Mrs. Ada Corbett of Quentins rd., Palatine, is message center clerk with a signal company which has recently completed two years overseas.

The company has been assigned to a 15th AAF B-24 Liberator Wing headquarters since the initial invasion of North Africa, and has participated in every major campaign from Casablanca thru Tunisia and Sicily into Italy, organizing and maintaining the communications system.

It was recently cited by the Wing Commanding General for its outstanding performance of duty during the two year period, when the company had been faced with a severe shortage of signal corps equipment; and despite this handicap the personnel showed outstanding ingenuity and ability in pressing into service damaged, salvaged and improvised equipment.

Pfc. Corbett attended Senn high school, Chicago, and prior to his entry into the service in February, 1942, he was an employee of the George Sollitt Construction Company of Chicago. He has been on overseas duty since November, 1942.

Helps build Alcan highway to Alaska

Pvt. Harold Mayer now in Texas

Home for just short of a month after 29 months in the Aleutians was Pvt. Harold Mayer of Palatine. Harold arrived home a week before Christmas, and left again Tuesday to report to Camp Bowie, Texas, where his outfit will have additional training.

"That was quite a job, working with the engineers in the Alcan highway. We worked long, steady hours, with much of our time spent in repairing sections of the road that we had previously built.

"The bull dozers were our main weapon with which we attacked the terrain. Our job was a push from Whitehorse to White River, Canada, a distance of 270 miles. The first 140 miles had been a one-way trail, but after that it was just a pack trail.

"We had plenty of all types of equipment, heavy trucks, bulldozers, scrapers and shovels. Our unit was divided into platoons, with each group leap-frogging to the front of the line when a particular segment was completed. In some sections we would have an easy time and cover plenty of ground. Other times we worked at snails pace.

"At first we worked on 12 hour shifts. My job was driving a truck, and 12 hours of that is terrible. You get plenty sick and tired of that steering wheel each day (or night). Every week we switched to the other shift. Later on we had more men and worked 8 hour shifts, with three gangs on the job.

Encounter swamps, glaciers and springs

"Some of the difficulties encountered were swamps and hills. Many times a truck would get stuck in the swamp and have to be pulled out. Some of the vehicles had wenches in front, enabling them to extricate themselves. But usually the other trucks had to join hands and pull out the one stuck in the mire.

"Another obstacle constantly encountered up there is the glacier and hot spring. The hot springs run out of the ground, down the hills, and across your road. Of course, it washes away the road bed almost over night. Then, too, the glaciers are always moving, creating new streams. Sometimes a stream will move 40 feet overnight. You can build a culvert over a creek, and find it bone dry in the morning, with the stream washing the road elsewhere. Sometime in the future almost the entire road in the glacier section will have to be built on steel bridges.

"Scenery was wonderful up there, especially around Lake Kluane. Those glaciers, mountains and forests were beautiful. But I was in that part of the country only from April of '42 to December, '42. I then went to Skagway and Kodiak in the Aleutians. From then until November of this year I was stationed in the 'beautiful Aleutians'.

Recreation a problem

"Outstanding features of those islands were the rain and fog. Recreation was always a problem, especially in the early days. At first there was nothing to do, but we were soon on the 'mess hall circuit' seeing the latest films from Hollywood. Best part of all, we saw most of the shows before they were released at home.

"Besides movies there were letter-writing, cards and dice. At the last hobby rooms were being organized where the men could spend their time engaged in any of a dozen different hobbies. Those hobbies appealed to the men more than anything else.

"The States were a welcome sight to me this November when our entire outfit came home. The Aleutians must be the most monotonous theater of war on earth, but it may prove more active in the future in air operations against the Japs."

Harold entered service August 25, 1941. He trained at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, until December, when he entrained for Vancouver Barracks in Washington. In April of '42 Harold left the States, returning in November of this year. He had been granted an emergency furlough home, though, the past summer.

Harold reported January 9 at Camp Bowie, Texas, where he will receive further training before going to his new station.

Florida

Al Harth of Arlington Heights sends a short letter from Miami, Florida.

"Found a copy of the 'Palatine Enterprise' in the barracks today. I've been trying to locate the owner but as yet I haven't been successful. I read it very thoroughly for recently I haven't been receiving the old home town paper very regularly for some unknown reason.

"This letter is also to inform you of my change of address. It's been changing quite a bit lately. Hope I receive the paper more regularly. I've missed not getting it."

His address is S1c A. J. Harth, Box 11 Flight 367, NAS, Miami, Florida.

From Boca Raton Field, Florida, comes word of Vern Koeppen of Mt. Prospect.

"Have graduated from my electronics course at Chanute Field, Ill. I was shipped to Florida and would like the paper to follow me. Am now attending radar school. It is a 15 to 20 weeks course."

Sends clothes to natives on Tongatabu

"It's hard to believe, but many of the natives are suffering from lack of clothes," wrote S2c Lee Forrest, brother of Mrs. Wm. B. Forrest of Arlington Heights. "How about sending a few things?"

Mrs. Forrest answered the request of her brother, sending shoes (not new) and sweaters for native children. In return she received a package containing a hula skirt, two tapa cloths, and two baskets. The tapa cloths were paper thin, and obviously were no protection from the cold.

S2c Forrest had become acquainted with a native, Salu, on Tongatabu Island in the South Pacific. The island is about 2,000 miles east of north central Australia. The natives are polynesians, and it was easy to see their need for clothes.

Lee reports that the natives are continually hunting food for the sailors. They always go forth with native spears, bringing back wild pigs and cocoanuts. A missionary there has taught many of them to write, in addition to telling them of Christianity.

Ohio

Discharged

Drowned

Jerome Corson of Northbrook was drowned in the Pacific December 7, it was learned last week. Jerome is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Corson. He had been in service three years, most recently serving in the Fiji Islands.

New York

Chicago

Still in Chicago, though at a new school, is William Salzman of Mt. Prospect. Bill has just completed a radio school at 190 N. State street, and has now moved over to Navy Pier.

S1c Salzman entered the navy in June of '44, reporting to Great Lakes. He was then sent to preradio school at Wright Junior college. Then came the north State street school, and now the 7 month course at Navy Pier.

Utah

Now at Kearns, Utah, is H. G. Rohlwing of Palatine. He was formerly stationed out of San Francisco. His new address is Cpl. H. G. Rohlwing, Sec H 1050th Base Unit, AAF ORD, Kearns, Utah.

$556,000,000.00
For Douglas War and Postwar Planes!

Douglas now has a $416,000,000 backlog order for war planes . . . and $150,000,000 in postwar orders from major airlines, including huge contracts for C-54 Combat transports. The C-54 is the transport companion to the B-29 Super Fortress which is now starting to bomb Japan into oblivion. The C-54 is the world's largest 4-motor transport in volume production and has the cabin dimensions of a standard railroad box car. Adapted for postwar airline use, it will be designated the DC-4. This is the plane used by President Roosevelt in his flights to Casablanca, Terheran, and Cairo. Now it is carrying munitions and men to the fighting front and wounded back to safety. After the war it will carry millions of airline passengers. This plane is built in the Douglas Chicago plant. You are needed to build it.

DON'T LET OPPORTUNITY PASS YOU BY!

MAKE UP YOUR MIND NOW!
Get into Aviation, Good pay . . .
Steady Work . . . Postwar Future
COME TO DOUGLAS TODAY!

Read this message carefully . . . because it means opportunity. It may mean a profitable lifetime career for you. But you must act at once if this opportunity is not to be wasted.

If you have read recent War Manpower Commission articles or our advertisements in the last few weeks, you know that additional men and women are urgently needed on a two-year schedule to help us build the giant C-54, companion transport plane to the B-29 Super-Fortress for the war against Japan . . . and then to build the same plane after the war to fill orders already booked with us by the airlines. This means that a great new industry has come to Chicago . . . to stay. Maybe you've said to yourself, "I'll look into that someday."

Someday will be too late. You must join us now if you are to cash in on this opportunity. Don't let lack of experience hold you back. We train you so that you're bound to make good in fabricating, assembly, and installation work . . . what we call "beating on the airplane." As interesting work as you'll ever find. Good pay . . . Convenient transportation. Act now. If not already employed in an essential industry, come to:

With Uncle Sam

Pacific

"Bet you're kinda surprised to hear from this high traveling lad, but don't think this boy has forgotten about our mutual occasions of former—and need I add??—never to be forgotten days. Yes, when I lean back and think of my seventeen months in our dear Uncle's employment—to that first day in Park Ridge when, being in charge of that oh so innocent group of greetings receivers, I stepped so nonchalantly on one of the Northwestern eastbounders at seven in the morning to find that only one of the group had accompanied me and by the time I realized it we were in Norwood Park. As a finis, they caught up to me—and my now unknown companion—on the next train and lucky am I that they were a well-tempered group willing to submit to the goings-on of your so very truly greenest of this greenest of all greenest would be green recruits (salvo off on the left foot!!)

"Reporting to Fort Custer, Mich. for the highly mass production innoculations and initial army classification—that, I wonder about!!—I found my barracks bags on my shoulders after a few days and on my way to Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, for basic training—cut to a month and a half as the engineers were calling from Camp Ellis, Illinois. I was one of the fortunate—said with a certain amount of uncertainty—to be transferred. They must have figured my ability to 'engineer' made me qualified—how were they to know it was not the same type of engineering!!

"Camp Ellis found me doing classification work for the 1306th General Service Engineers and after a few months was the origin of my ASTP application, which was accepted—a point which proved to be one of the intriguing mysteries of the decade. Not withstanding the how or whyfore—after a series of screening tests at Champaign, home of the University of Illinois, or is someone going to get technical and tell me that the U. of I. is at Urbana??—I entered the basic phase of ASTP at Bradley Institute in good ole Peoria. Peoria—what a town, what girls, what civic pride, what girls, what a homey atmosphere, what girls. And then of course, we studied—what girls!!

"February brought me to Truman's Missouri—Fort Leonard Wood—and three well spent months back in the engineers. May found me in California—my new home, incidentally—for another three months spent at Camp Beale and Camp Stoneman. Sacramento offered plesant memories, being quite an old well established 'sunshine' city—California's historic capitol buildings, picturesque scenery, undaunted California civic pride, and so not to disappoint some of my wide-eyed friends—what girls!! Well, that about ends it—Fort Custer, Michigan, to Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, to Camp Ellis, Illinois, to the University of Illinois to Bradley Tech. to Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, to Camp Beale and Camp Stoneman, California, and, oh yes, the unfanfared trip to the Docks of San Francisco and my last remembrance of any significant sight in the states—the unique experience of seeing the under-side of the Golden Gate Bridge.

"Over the pond brought me the sight of these only-glamorous-in-the-movies South Sea Islands—New Hebrides, Fiji, New Caledonia, and to two censored spots, the last of which is my present home—the term 'home' being used very loosely here—where I am doing cryptographic work in the Army Air Corps. About the only local color of our island you may be interested in is an active volcano and an occasional earthquake that are proving interesting to me in an otherwise uninteresting part of the world. And this time, when I say 'what girls' I mean it as a question and not as an explanation.

"Well, look at me!! This sudden urge to write you arose over the fact that I was sitting here gazing about the other day and my eyes fell upon our calendar, bringing me to the realization that we are well into the hoilday season. Holiday season always brings glorious memories of old friends and I just wanted to let you know that I am still on earth—although when I look around me, brothers and sisters, you certainly could have fooled me—and not to admit you to this boredom for whatever the length of reading time this has been for you."

His address is Pfc. Paul W. Salvo, 36756353, APO 706, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Expected home soon after seeing action in the Pacific is Capt. Orson Rau of Arlington Heights. Orson wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Rau, that he expected to be in California about Christmas, and might be able to get home shortly after. He is pilot of a troop transport.

Italy

Melvin Beese of Mt. Prospect writes from Italy.

"I'm doing O. K. for the time being and I'm not working hard. I have 3 medical slips for light duty and I keep my tent clean as my light duty.

"I'm assigned to a laundry quartermaster outfit and went to North Africa to get into it, but was not wanted at the present time. We had an excellent dinner for Thanksgiving and above all, we had all the beer we wanted, but it's not the good old U. S. A. beer.

"We returned to Italy and had a moonlight cruise over the Mediterranean Sea, but it was a British ship and they specialize in tea. I don't like it. They don't eat as good as we do even if ours isn't worth much, either. We had a good Christmas dinner but I took a pass instead.

"It feels good to be a rear echelon commando invading the Red Crosses and nice cool cots. I give my regards to all the soldiers on all fronts. I lost some of my buddies addresses so the only way I can really wish them a happy New Year is through the Herald.

"I hope you don't misunderstand when I say I did not receive your Enterprise over 8 times in the year of 1944, but appreciate getting the 8 anyway. I don't know what happened to the other 44 copies. I do not blame your staff, but if I am forgotten please mark the card at your office that I'm supposed to get a copy of the Herald. It's a morale builder and it's news from home. I really would appreciate the news."

His address is Pfc. Melvin W. Beese, 36642798, APO 372, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

Pfc. Thomas F. Corbeet, son of Mrs. Ada Corbett of Quentins rd., Palatine, is message center clerk with a signal company which has recently completed two years overseas.

The company has been assigned to a 15th AAF B-24 Liberator Wing headquarters since the initial invasion of North Africa, and has participated in every major campaign from Casablanca thru Tunisia and Sicily into Italy, organizing and maintaining the communications system.

It was recently cited by the Wing Commanding General for its outstanding performance of duty during the two year period, when the company had been faced with a severe shortage of signal corps equipment; and despite this handicap the personnel showed outstanding ingenuity and ability in pressing into service damaged, salvaged and improvised equipment.

Pfc. Corbett attended Senn high school, Chicago, and prior to his entry into the service in February, 1942, he was an employee of the George Sollitt Construction Company of Chicago. He has been on overseas duty since November, 1942.

Helps build Alcan highway to Alaska

Pvt. Harold Mayer now in Texas

Home for just short of a month after 29 months in the Aleutians was Pvt. Harold Mayer of Palatine. Harold arrived home a week before Christmas, and left again Tuesday to report to Camp Bowie, Texas, where his outfit will have additional training.

"That was quite a job, working with the engineers in the Alcan highway. We worked long, steady hours, with much of our time spent in repairing sections of the road that we had previously built.

"The bull dozers were our main weapon with which we attacked the terrain. Our job was a push from Whitehorse to White River, Canada, a distance of 270 miles. The first 140 miles had been a one-way trail, but after that it was just a pack trail.

"We had plenty of all types of equipment, heavy trucks, bulldozers, scrapers and shovels. Our unit was divided into platoons, with each group leap-frogging to the front of the line when a particular segment was completed. In some sections we would have an easy time and cover plenty of ground. Other times we worked at snails pace.

"At first we worked on 12 hour shifts. My job was driving a truck, and 12 hours of that is terrible. You get plenty sick and tired of that steering wheel each day (or night). Every week we switched to the other shift. Later on we had more men and worked 8 hour shifts, with three gangs on the job.

Encounter swamps, glaciers and springs

"Some of the difficulties encountered were swamps and hills. Many times a truck would get stuck in the swamp and have to be pulled out. Some of the vehicles had wenches in front, enabling them to extricate themselves. But usually the other trucks had to join hands and pull out the one stuck in the mire.

"Another obstacle constantly encountered up there is the glacier and hot spring. The hot springs run out of the ground, down the hills, and across your road. Of course, it washes away the road bed almost over night. Then, too, the glaciers are always moving, creating new streams. Sometimes a stream will move 40 feet overnight. You can build a culvert over a creek, and find it bone dry in the morning, with the stream washing the road elsewhere. Sometime in the future almost the entire road in the glacier section will have to be built on steel bridges.

"Scenery was wonderful up there, especially around Lake Kluane. Those glaciers, mountains and forests were beautiful. But I was in that part of the country only from April of '42 to December, '42. I, then went to Skagway and Kodiak in the Aleutians. From then until November of this year I was stationed in the 'beautiful Aleutians'.

"Outstanding features of those islands were the rain and fog. Recreation was always a problem, especially in the early days. At first there was nothing to do, but we were soon on the 'mess hall circuit' seeing the latest films from Hollywood. Best part of all, we saw most of the shows before they were released at home.

"Besides movies there were letter-writing, cards and dice. At the last hobby rooms were being organized where the men could spend their time engaged in any of a dozen different hobbies. Those hobbies appealed to the men more than anything else.

"The States were a welcome sight to me this November when our entire outfit came home. The Aleutians must be the most monotonous theater of war on earth, but it may prove more active in the future in air operations against the Japs."

Harold entered service August 25, 1941. He trained at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, until December, when he entrained for Vancouver Barracks in Washington. In April of '42 Harold left the States, returning in November of this year. He had been granted an emergency furlough home, though, the past summer.

Harold reported January 9 at Camp Bowie, Texas, where he will receive further training before going to his new station.

Florida

Al Harth of Arlington Heights sends a short letter from Miami, Florida.

"Found a copy of the 'Palatine Enterprise' in the barracks today. I've been trying to locate the owner but as yet I haven't been successful. I read it very thoroughly for recently I haven't been receiving the old home town paper very regularly for some unknown reason.

"This letter is also to inform you of my change of address. It's been changing quite a bit lately. Hope I receive the paper more regularly. I've missed not getting it."

His address is S1c A. J. Harth, Box 11 Flight 367, NAS, Miami, Florida.

From Boca Raton Field, Florida, comes word of Vern Koeppen of Mt. Prospect.

"Have graduated from my electronics course at Chanute Field, Ill. I was shipped to Florida and would like the paper to follow me. Am now attending radar school. It is a 15 to 20 weeks course."

Sends clothes to natives on Tongatabu

"It's hard to believe, but many of the natives are suffering from lack of clothes," wrote S2c Lee Forrest, brother of Mrs. Wm. B. Forrest of Arlington Heights. "How about sending a few things?"

Mrs. Forrest answered the request of her brother, sending shoes (not new) and sweaters for native children. In return she received a package containing a hula skirt, two tapa cloths, and two baskets. The tapa cloths were paper thin, and obviously were no protection from the cold.

S2c Forrest had become acquainted with a native, Salu, on Tongatabu Island in the South Pacific. The island is about 2,000 miles east of north central Australia. The natives are polynesians, and it was easy to see their need for clothes.

Lee reports that the natives are continually hunting food for the sailors. They always go forth with native spears, bringing back wild pigs and cocoanuts. A missionary there has taught many of them to write, in addition to telling them of Christianity.

Ohio

Discharged

Drowned

Jerome Corson of Northbrook was drowned in the Pacific December 7, it was learned last week. Jerome is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Corson. He had been in service three years, most recently serving in the Fiji Islands.

New York

Chicago

Still in Chicago, though at a new school, is William Salzman of Mt. Prospect. Bill has just completed a radio school at 190 N. State street, and has now moved over to Navy Pier.

S1c Salzman entered the navy in June of '44, reporting to Great Lakes. He was then sent to preradio school at Wright Junior college. Then came the north State street school, and now the 7 month course at Navy Pier.

Utah

Now at Kearns, Utah, is H. G. Rohlwing of Palatine. He was formerly stationed out of San Francisco. His new address is Cpl. H. G. Rohlwing, Sec H 1050th Base Unit, AAF ORD, Kearns, Utah.

$556,000,000.00
For Douglas War and Postwar Planes!

Douglas now has a $416,000,000 backlog order for war planes . . . and $150,000,000 in postwar orders from major airlines, including huge contracts for C-54 Combat transports. The C-54 is the transport companion to the B-29 Super Fortress which is now starting to bomb Japan into oblivion. The C-54 is the world's largest 4-motor transport in volume production and has the cabin dimensions of a standard railroad box car. Adapted for postwar airline use, it will be designated the DC-4. This is the plane used by President Roosevelt in his flights to Casablanca, Terheran, and Cairo. Now it is carrying munitions and men to the fighting front and wounded back to safety. After the war it will carry millions of airline passengers. This plane is built in the Douglas Chicago plant. You are needed to build it.

DON'T LET OPPORTUNITY PASS YOU BY!

Get into Aviation, Good pay . . .
Steady Work . . . Postwar Future
COME TO DOUGLAS TODAY!

Read this message carefully . . . because it means opportunity. It may mean a profitable lifetime career for you. But you must act at once if this opportunity is not to be wasted.

If you have read recent War Manpower Commission articles or our advertisements in the last few weeks, you know that additional men and women are urgently needed on a two-year schedule to help us build the giant C-54, companion transport plane to the B-29 Super-Fortress for the war against Japan . . . and then to build the same plane after the war to fill orders already booked with us by the airlines. This means that a great new industry has come to Chicago . . . to stay. Maybe you've said to yourself, "I'll look into that someday."

Someday will be too late. You must join us now if you are to cash in on this opportunity. Don't let lack of experience hold you back. We train you so that you're bound to make good in fabricating, assembly, and installation work . . . what we call "beating on the airplane." As interesting work as you'll ever find. Good pay . . . Convenient transportation. Act now. If not already employed in an essential industry, come to:
